REVISED CONSTITUTION

MAKING CHANGES

Freshman Talent To Perform

by PATTY OLMSTEAD

Trients for the Freshman Follies of '58 will be opened to all new students at 6:30 p.m., Oct. 22, in the auditorium. All acts must be limited to a length of five minutes, but there is no limitation as to the type of act. This information was given out to all interested freshmen and transfer students by the planning committee at a meeting held Oct. 14. Also given out at that time were application blanks to be filled out and returned to Helen Gray or Tom Warren, co-chairman of the committee, before Oct. 21.

The Freshman Follies of '58, an annual event sponsored by the SGA, will be held at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 30 in the auditorium. It is hoped that the services of Shrimp Flunt may be obtained as Master of Ceremonies. Prizes will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners.

Miss N.C. To Appear For Contest Here

by MELL RUSHIN

Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans, will crown Miss High Point College the night of November 11 in Memorial Auditorium. Every organization on the campus will be given an opportunity to sponsor a girl, and the four classes will each sponsor two girls.

In the October 29 assembly the preliminaries will be held at which time each student will vote for fifteen finalists will be that of Betty Lane. She will also appear in her official gown which she wore in Atlantic City in September. Judges and the price of tickets will be announced at a later date. The affair is sponsored annually by the KENTH as a money-making project.

PARTY DATES SET Frats Make Plans For "Rush" Week

by BILL DAMON

At the last meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council President Maurer Beauchot announced the dates for the formal fraternity rush week and explained the new rushing rules. Formal rush week will begin on Wednesday, October 22, and will terminate with a silent period on November second and third.

Each social fraternity has been designated one night each for a stag party in the following order:
Wed., Oct. 22—Lambda Chi Alpha.
Thurs., Oct. 23—Tau Kappa Epsilon.
Fri., Oct. 24—Theta Chi.
Mon., Oct. 27—Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Tues., Oct. 28—Pi Kappa Mu.
Wed., Oct. 29—Delta Sigma Phi.
On Saturday, November 1, all the fraternities will hold date parties for the entertainment of the ladies.

SILENT PERIOD

Silent period has been observed from midnight Saturday, until noon Sunday, November 2, and will last until six p.m. on the following day. Bachelors will be able to reserve their bachelorettes beginning at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, November 3, and are required to return all of them signed by 6 p.m. of the same day.

The new rushing rules that are now in effect allow open "rush" by fraternities. Previous to this year no more than four fraternities could be with any lady at the same time. The new rules let the lady but do not allow any lady to be sent out or any closed fraternity parties with rushers in attendance until the specified time during rush week. Fraternities violating these rules will be suspended from pledging privileges for a period decided upon by the IFC.

COLLEGE RADIO PROGRAMS SCHEDULED
Beginning Wednesday, October 15, at 4:00 p.m., over Radio Station WHIP, the radio production staff will present the first episode of a serial which will continue for several weeks. Built around four college boys, the story includes incidents which could very well happen on our own HPC campus.

Directed by Miss Jane DeSpain, communications professor, the cast includes Larry Williams, Jerry Ledwith, Jack Beaudin, Preston Reeve, Jane DeSpain, and Jesse Hill.

Constitution To Get Changes

A special Constitution Committee, appointed by the Executive Council of the Student Government Association, has presented a new revision of The Student Government Constitution for student approval.

The major changes which the committee has suggested include a bicameral house and a revision of the present Executive Committee. The Constitution Committee, which spent two days in reviewing and changing the document, consisted of Charles Johnson, Harold Wright, Pat Ray, Fred Barber, Peggy Davis, Sylvia Hilt, Bobby Yates, Pat Olmstead, Fred Handy, and Elmer Hall.

APPROVAL URGED

Fred Barber, President of the Student Government Association, urged student approval of the new revision. Barber explained yesterday that the changes were badly needed to "bring our Constitution up to date."

The Constitution has long been in need of several minor changes, Barber said. "And I hope that every student will read the new revision before it is presented for approval."

Barber further stated that the present Constitution was passed in 1954 and had had little change since that date.

The new Constitution will be presented in the Student Legislature on Tuesday, October 21, and upon approval by the Legislature will be presented to the student body during Assembly on Wednesday, October 29. A two-thirds majority vote of the student body will be required for passage.

MAJOR CHANGES

The Constitution Committee called special attention to the two major changes in the document. Under the present S.G.A. Constitution all legislative powers are given to the Student Legislature, whereas the powers are divided between a Student Senate and a Student House of Representatives in the new revision, similar to the form of government used on state and federal levels.

The second major change, Committee members explained, adds the Day Students' President and the dormitory presidents to the Executive Committee, which now consists of the four officers of the Student Government Association.

Other changes in the present document may be found in the election procedures, where a petition will be required for nomination of officers in the spring elections.

by EDNA WHITE CHAPMAN

The Tower Players have begun rehearsals on the first play of this season. This production, The Torch Bearers by George Kelly, is a young comedy showing the antics of an amateur group in presenting a play. The performances are scheduled for Thursday and Friday, November 6 and 7 at 8 p.m. One of the unusual features of The Torch Bearers is the second act, in which the audience sees what actually could go on backstage in a play. To anyone who has never been involved in amateur dramas, this act cannot help but be hilarious.

The cast including Frances Ann Lewis as Mrs. Pansywell, Judy Wilson as Mrs. Felt, Lillian Graham as Paula Ritter, Wini Stuart as Florence McGreeky, Edna White Chapman as Clara Sheppard, Larry Williams as Fred Ritter, Aaron Moss as Mr. Hisselbrook, Billy McDaniel as Mr. Spindler, Edward Stafford as Mr. Twiller, Hugh Cameron as Teddy Sparring, and Don Drapman as Mr. Stage Manager.

IN ASSEMBLY

Bishop's Company To Appear

A unique stage production will be presented November 5 at mid-week assembly in Memorial Auditorium by The Bishop's Company, only touring repertory company of its kind presenting drama-in-the-church productions with professional actors.

No elaborate stage settings are used. Both the audience and the actors will visualize the various locales in which the scenes of the play are set.

Asking the audience to share in the creation of the play is part of the technique of The Bishop's Company in promoting the return of great drama to the church. The lines and action are presented by the cast, but the audience moves along with ease from landscape to village or city as the story unfolds.

The Bishop's Company has been in continuous production since October, 1952. The Company is now on its fifth coast-to-coast tour and has received praise from religious and theatrical circles alike for its work in bringing back to the churches the art of the drama. During the 1957 summer season it appeared for two weeks at the Princeton University Institute of Theology and expects to return to the institute during the summer of 1959.

From its repertory of plays of literary and social significance, the play to be presented here is Alan Paton's "Cry, The Beloved Country."

"Cry, The Beloved Country" is the

HI-PO RAISON D'ETRE

Traditionally the HI-PO has carried the motto, "The Voice of the Students." How and to what extent the motto is realized in this publication depends naturally on the editor and staff.

Any newspaper exists to inform its readers of events and activities of importance. A college newspaper, in addition, has the task of maintaining an independent and accurate organ of student expression.

The editorial and feature page aims to stimulate and guide student thinking and to interpret events and actions collegiate or national. This page must be subjective - by reflecting the opinions of a few it is hoped that the interest of many will be stimulated.

The problems met in publishing a college newspaper are seemingly endless. If the HI-PO is to achieve its goal it must have the interest of our entire campus. The staff asks your criticism, your patience and, above all, your support.—E.O.H.

AMERICAN PARADOX

In an era so concerned with introspection, one cannot help but ponder the tragic irony of the present American predicament. Glancing at a recent leading newspaper, we see our dilemma dramatically spelled out in bold face heads: "U. S. MUST NOT TOLERATE LAXITY IN EDUCATION," and, across the page in distinctive balance, "GOVERNMENT CLOSURES SCANDALS: WILL, NOT COMPROMISE."

The first article by a government educational consultant just returned from Russia, warned that the future belongs to the educated, that the communist educational process is already practically superior, and that America must reevaluate, perhaps reform, its own system if democracy is to continue to exist. The other article related how a well-known Southern governor had cast his lot with segregation at the cost of his state's educational system. Both items rate front page, both reveal America to the world and to itself.

As Synovick explores, and Strouten 90 force themselves into the American scene, the nation's educational system achieves a new importance. Consultants, committees, and congressmen philosophize on how we can catch up with the Russians. Money is allocated, schools are consolidated, and teachers begin to buy new cars.

The South, emerging from two centuries of feudalism and dragging a distinctive cultural lag, strives desperately to face the demands of a new era. Southern leadership in many cases refuses to face reality. Embosoms and Almonis dogmatically move ahead with their "separate but equal" school policies. Kasperites and Grand Klubs, incite hate and violence, and in the midst of all the hubbub a little 11-year-old boy can understand things like tradition, state's rights, and segregation asks his dad why his school is closed up last week. And his dad doesn't answer because he isn't exactly sure himself.

It's true but true, time waits for no one. America has never been pressed for time as it is today. Our nation has no time to waste arguing a question that was settled almost a century ago. Searles O'Hara, "mo" Remens, and Jim Crow belong to the past. We need not sit in judgment upon that era; we need now simply to recognize its antiquity.

Irresponsible leaders have chosen to sacrifice the public school system before an altar of ignorance. Public education so tremendously important in the light of the present East-West conflict is discontinued indefinitely, and a new generation is denied the traditional American right to a free education.

Foremost not hindsight is the demand of responsible leaders. Duty declares that we safeguard our South, our America, and our democratic ideals everywhere by committing ourselves to the future, not the past.—E.O.H.

FRED BARBER

ON CAMPUS

It was 9:30.

I crushed the hilt of my well-knowned Winston under my foot, took a deep breath, and opened the door to the College bookstore.

The jehking and yelling of a hundred voices greeted me as I managed to squeeze myself far enough into the noisy mob to allow the door to close behind me. The valiant attempt of a blaring jukebox was almost lost in the mass confusion and noise. A heavy cloud of tobacco smoke hung in layers from the low ceiling, and mixed with the pungent odor of several flavors of Fabergé to practically obliterate any effects from my fresh dose of Old Spice.

The floor was crowded with people, and the well-carved boards that lined the walls were jammed to overflowing with crew neck sweaters labeled cherry cokes. I pushed my way through the habbling voices and drifting smoke, squeezed into a corner booth, and lit another Winston. I inhaled a deep breath of iniquity, leaned back, and watched.

The only thing held in common by the masses who jammed the bookstore was that they were all students. Around the room were lunch trays, round faces, eager faces, confident faces. Seated in the booths were lonely and attractive coeds, all smiling and waiting as the campus Don Jains made their rounds. The attractive girls were confident and patient, and the lonely ones excited, loquacious, and sometimes disappointed.

My gaze steadily fell on a freshman boy standing with a group of students against the door to the room. Each of the students clutched a coke in one hand and a cigarette in the other. The group was laughing and talking, telling jokes and complaining about professors. The freshman boy seemed to join in the laughter of the group, but he was continuously glancing at one of the booths, and it was obvious that his thoughts were far away from the jokes and conversation.

I followed the boy's gaze, and discovered a small freshman girl seated in a booth. She was looking at the boys who were excitedly talking about new movies and current fashions while they ardently chewed gum and sipped cokes. But the small freshman girl was conscious of an occasional Don Jains coming by the booth, and she was looking down at the table top and fidgeting her attention back to the French connection.

Soon the crowd of students began drifting toward the door, and the bookstore clerk indicated that it was almost time to close. I studied the remains of the Winston in my over-flowing ashtray.

As I stood to leave, I looked back at the booth where the small freshman girl was sitting. The freshman boy had gone over to buy another, and while he talked the small girl smiled up at him. Suddenly the girl gave an affirmative nod of her head and stood up, and together they made their way back to the French connection.

I walked out into the cool freshens of the night. Above me the sky was clear, and scattered stars permeated the darkness with their brilliant fire. It was a crisp and clean time. I was a good night to be alive.

I smiled to myself, lit a Winston, and walked away.

CHARLES JOHNSON

Top of the Tower

The other day I walked into the bookstore and purchased the usual cup of coffee. After sipping it and stirring it equally well, I looked around for my companion in philosophical griping. I saw Patrice Fitzgerald and Gerald Fitzpatrick sitting in the corner booth noisily discussing something over their coffee. I walked over and sat down with them, and not a word of greeting passed between us. It was as if they expected and accepted me into their presence and conversation, knowing that they thought enough alike for either of the two others to pick up on an interrupted expression or conversation with a minimum of confusion.

I had anticipated a discussion of the newly proposed constitutional changes. To my surprise I found that my anticipation of a political debate was not to be satisfied immediately. In fact I was so startled by their discussion of a general philosophy that I sat listening to the better part of an hour before I ventured to speak. As I sat down Gerry was saying:

Gerry: The nobility of man is infinite. Even the basest of persons has qualities hidden within his personality which, when brought to the threshold of action, are admirable in men. This thought is substantiated by the abject contrition of some of the foulest of murderers, the maternal devotion of some of the least moral of mothers, or the patriotic fervor expressed when least expected by the most cowardly of men.

Pat: You qualify these examples by inserting the word "some" in each case. What of the cases in which there is no contrition, maternal devotion, or patriotic fervor?

Gerry: That seems to be a rather sentimental question, but I'll try to deal with it sentimentally. In cases which do not exhibit these noble actions, and I believe they rarely do, action has been suppressed, for some reason, lack through the threshold to the level of thought. The reason for the suppression is most likely due to the fact that the person lacks some of the other noble aspects of man's mind: nobility.

Pat: Doesn't this very lack belie the fact that man's nobility is innate?

Gerry: Not at all. You see, the noble aspects of man's character and personality are relative, that is, individually. The lack of one quality frustrates the expression of another, and so on until you have a complete system of checks and balances among the noble aspects of a man, so that of which is the man as we see him.

Pat: I see. But if that is true, why doesn't each man appear in the same light to all men?

Gerry: The interdependency of these aspects is not limited to the individual. There is a relativity of character and personality among individuals just as there is a relativity of the expression and suppression of ability in the individual.

Pat: Then one can say that all things a human relation are relative.

Gerry: I like to say that all things are human relations are relative; nothing is absolute, but the nobility of man is not. This means that character and personality are relative within and without man, and while a basic standard can be absolutely defined, the nobility of man's nature is innate to each person. This means that no man can be perfectly noble, nor is an absolute paragon of nobility in his own eyes nor the eyes of his fellowmen, it does not preclude striving for the absolute.

Pat: How so?

Gerry: According to this philosophy a person is better than his fellowman, and conversely, he is no more noble than his fellowman. This means that if each man strives for the absolute in himself, he may reach closer to the absolute in relation with his fellowmen. However, if there exists a fellowman better than he, he can never reach the absolute, but the nobility of his fellowman means that he, too, can attain that same degree of nobility. So if each man strives for the absolute, he must strive with his brother to attain the absolute. Hence, all things are relative; nothing is absolute, but the striving for it is innate.

Pat: I see. It is a paradox that can be resolved only when reality states that he is his brother's keeper.

Gerry: That is one way of stating it, but I stated it in over-simplified. Stated that way the whole philosophy can be of an illusion when actually it is what all phases of man's existence, if I should say, coexistences. It is not a matter of one mental and the other is physical. Here again each is relative to the other, and nothing is absolute. So each man must strive in both spheres to attain the absolute.

Pat: If we men may never attain the absolute.

Gerry: As each man may be true, but as long as each man strives for the absolute, all men will benefit. It is the striving that is important.

Pat: Yes, there's the rub. Not all men strive for the absolute.

Gerry: The reason that all men do not strive for the absolute is that some men do not understand the nobility of the expression and suppression of their own noble aspects. Some men falsely believe that they can ignore some of these aspects and only attain others. They do not realize the best of these aspects is not better than the worst of them. And so we are back where we started from.

Pat: It seems that each man must be educated in such a way that he will understand himself not only as he is, but as he should be. Only then will he be able to become educated in such a way that he will understand his fellowmen as they are and as they should be. It appears, then, that ignorance is the only unpardonable sin. For without ignorance the other sin could not exist, according to this philosophy.

Men: There go the bells. Let's go to class and get some of that education.

So What...

Getting out this publication is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't, they say we are too serious. If we clip other newspapers we are too lazy to write it ourselves.

If we stick close to the job all day, we ought to be out hunting up news; if we get out and try to hustle, we ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print all contributions, we don't appreciate genius; if we do the paper is filled with junk.

If we make a catch in a fellow's write-up, we are too critical; if we don't we are asleep. Now, like it or not, someone will say we swiped this from another paper.

WE DID!

"Brothers! Quiet please! The rushes are here."

Proposed SGA Constitution

(f) Secretary. The Secretary shall record all proceedings of the Executive Council, the Judiciary Council, and shall keep a copy of all bills, acts, laws, and resolutions passed by the Legislature.

(g) Secretary. The Secretary shall send a copy of each law passed by the Legislature to the president of High Point College.

(h) Secretary. The Secretary shall file one copy of each law passed by the Legislature in Wrenn Memorial Library.

(i) Secretary. The Secretary shall attend to all correspondence of the SGA and shall give notice of all elections and meetings of the SGA.

(j) Treasurer. The Treasurer shall make a monthly report to the Executive Council.

(k) Treasurer. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to have charge of all finances of the SGA and to keep permanent records of all receipts and expenditures.

(l) Treasurer. The treasurer shall make a monthly report to the Executive Council.

(c) Other Members—

The duties of the Presidents of the dormitories and Day Student Council shall be as specified by the councils.

Section 3—Election of Officers

(a) The President shall be elected from the rising junior class.

(b) The Vice-President shall be elected from the rising junior class.

(c) The secretary and the treasurer shall be elected from either the rising junior or senior class.

(d) All nominations shall be handed to the secretary of the Executive Council, not less than three weeks prior to the date specified as election day.

(e) The four S.G.A. officers shall be elected by the student body of High Point College at the time designated by the Executive Council at general election time. All officers shall be elected by a simple majority of the votes cast.

(f) All officers of the Executive Council shall maintain a "C" average to qualify as a candidate.

(g) Nominations for candidates for the officers of the Executive Council shall be made by petition signed by at least 100 students. No student may sign more than one petition for any office before it has received a two-thirds majority vote prior to the date designated for elections.

(h) No person shall serve in more than two S.G.A. branches at one time. This concerns the Student Legislature, the Judiciary Council and the Executive Council.

Section 4—Oath of Office

Each member of the Executive Council shall take the following oath of office before the entire student body:

"I, (name), do solemnly swear to uphold the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College, and to perform, to the best of my ability, the duties and responsibilities of the office which I now assume."

ARTICLE XI—THE JUDICIARY COUNCIL

Section 1—Judiciary Powers

The judicial power of the SGA of High Point College shall be vested in a Judiciary Council.

Section 2—Duties and Powers of the Judiciary Council

(a) The Judiciary Council shall review all legislation passed by the Legislature, if contested.

(b) The Judiciary Council shall try cases brought before it by the executive council.

(c) The Judiciary Council shall determine and enforce the punishment for violations of laws of the SGA as passed by the Legislature. Punishment for violation of any law shall comply with the provisions stated in the law.

Section 3—Membership

(a) The Judiciary Council shall be composed of ten members. The members shall be as follows:

1. Two members elected from McCulloch Hall.

2. Two members elected from Wrenn Memorial Library.

3. Two members elected from the Day Students.

4. One member from each of the four classes.

(b) The Chief Justice of the Judiciary Council shall be appointed from the Judiciary Council by the Executive Council and approved by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

(c) Members of the Judiciary Council shall be elected by the respective groups at the time designated by the Executive Council as general election time.

(d) To be eligible for election to the Judiciary Council, a candidate must maintain a "C" average while in office.

(e) If, for any reason, any member of the Judiciary Council resigns or is removed from office, the Executive Council, with the approval by a two-thirds vote of the Student Legislature, shall appoint a member to fill the vacancy until the next regular election. Any member appointed to fill a vacancy in the Judiciary Council shall come from the same group as the replaced member.

Section 4—Meetings of the Judiciary Council

(a) The Chief Justice shall have the power to call meetings of the Judiciary Council.

(b) At least eight members of the Judiciary Council, including the Chief Justice, must be present in order to conduct business or try cases brought before the Council.

(c) The Chief Justice shall not vote except to break a tie.

Section 5—Powers of Authority

The decision of the Judiciary Council shall be the final authority in all cases brought before it.

ARTICLE XII—RATIFICATION

This Constitution shall go into effect the fall semester of 1958—two weeks after it has received a two-thirds majority vote of the student body of High Point College.

ARTICLE XIII—AMENDMENTS

An amendment to this constitution may be initiated by the Student Legislature or by special request of ten percent of the members of the Student Government Association. An amendment shall become a part of this constitution when ratified by a two-thirds majority vote of the student body. A proposed amendment must be made public to the student body at large at least two weeks before it is presented for ratification.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA PLANS RUSH PARTY

The Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity will hold a rush party Oct. 17 in the Student Center.

Alpha Phi Omega is unique among campus organizations. This fraternity has a definite program of activities in which the members direct their energies and talents for the benefit of their fellowman. The imposing obstacle which is placed in the way of activity in which our program is delivered. They are:

Service to the student body and faculty.

Service to youth and community.

Service to members of the fraternity.

Service to the nation as participating citizens.

Behind a service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega crosses all lines of honor, social, and professional fraternities, and thus members of other campus organizations and fraternities may also be active in this fraternity.

tender, tragic story of a white man and a black man locked in the grimest of human emotions. Beyond the intense, insoluble passion that tragedy is the story of the beautiful and tragic land of South Africa.

The hero of the novel of this play is an old, humble Zulu person from the hills above Inyanga in South Africa. He is a man who has lived in search of his only son. Finally he finds the boy in prison, the murderer of a white man who had devoted his life to the betterment of conditions for the black race.

Behind a series between the native father of the murdered, the story reaches a height of tragedy seldom equaled in contemporary fiction. It is more than a story, it is a profound experience of the human spirit.

Many who have read the novel will want to see it come alive in the skilled hands of The Bishop's Company.

H. P. C. Athletic Department Adds Hood To Staff

Miss Nancy Hood, soon to be an athlete from Knoxville, Tennessee, is the new instructor of physical education for women at High Point College. Miss Hood graduated from the University of Tennessee with a B.S. degree in 1956 and received a master's degree in August of 1958. When asked what she has done since arriving, her first duty was to "get the job done." She is now in charge of the physical education classes for women.

As for future plans, she said that she planned to take a year's leave of absence from working, as well as to continue her work for women's physical education. She also plans to take a year's leave of absence from working, as well as to continue her work for women's physical education. WORLD SERIES!

Well, the Yankee have done it again! Making the biggest comeback in the World Series in over thirty years, the New York Yankees have again become the World's Champions, making a complete hoax of my prediction last Spring. I picked the San Francisco Giants to beat the Yanks in the World Series.

The Yankee heroes are too numerous to count, but such men as Cal McDougal, Bill Skowron, Elston Howard, and Mickey Vantile stood out. However, I would say that as much credit should go to "Bull" Bob Turley as to anyone. It was Turley along with fireballer Rhyne, Durkin who silenced the big bats of the Milwaukee Braves.

Yankee manager Casey Stengel now says that he believes the Yanks could do pretty well in the National League. This remark is the result of a remark in the pitcher Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves. At the close of the regular season, Burdette, named Yankee killer of the "77" World Series, made the statement "I don't believe that New York would do so well were they in the National League."

The biggest flop of the World Series? Whitey Ford, New York pitcher who failed to complete a game in the Series after having pitched over twenty games in regular play, is rated as the biggest flop of the Series. Tom Kubiak, also of the Yankees, because of his excessive play rates, a close second to Ford. Standing out for the Braves was Little Walter Spahn who pitched his heart out trying to beat the Yankees.

PICTURE OF A CHAMPION!

Intramural champion for the 1957-58 school year was the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Last year the Pias took first place in basketball and softball along with several minor sports to walk off with the intramural championship. With such boys as Phil Crockett, Dale Swearingen, and Luke Livingston, the Pias may be expected to win, as well in each division of the intramural program. The organization giving the Pias the most competition last year was the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity which placed second in the total number of points.

THIS YEAR!

The race for the intramural championship this year promises to be close and hotly contested. With such men as Dale Swearingen, Bill Tyson, Murphy Osborne, and John Lewis having graduated, many of the fraternities are having to do a lot of rebuilding. Pi Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Lambda Chi Alpha offer the best prospects with the possibility of being contender in Kappa Chi.

Football this year the Tokes and Lambda Chis are the pre-scout favorites to finish on top of the heap. Had last year's strong independent team, the Bulldogs, entered a team this year, it might have been rated as a three-way race. Lambda Chi, last year's co-champions with the Bulldogs, again offers a strong team, but Tokes has come up with a big and tough line. Surprisingly this year's freshman team seems to be well organized and may give some of the favorites a tough fight. Also, Kappa Chi seems to be doing pretty well as of now.

Intramural Football Begins With A Bang

The intramural football season got off to a roaring start last week with six games being played. Last year's co-champion, Lambda Chi Alpha, won two games as did Kappa Chi, the campus religious fraternity. Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and the Freshmen have played only one game with both teams coming out on the long end of the score. Delta Sigma Phi, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Alpha have all lost one and two games.

HUDGINS REPORTS ON

by BILLIE FAISLEY

From June through August Dr. Walter Hudgins toured with the Scandinavian Caravans through Germany, Switzerland, Italy, France, England, Finland, Sweden, Denmark, and Norway. In each place Dr. Hudgins lived with the families of that country and sharing in the customs, such as breakfasting on eels, cucumbers, and goat cheese.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Sault were counselors for the group of ten. With the exception of one junior from Davidson College, all were college graduates. Each person represented a different field of work, such as business, religion, nursing, children's work, and drama.

Dr. Hudgins feels that the people were best reached through music. The group organized a choir. However, Dr. Hudgins was only permitted to do the "boom-da's" in such songs as "Sarasopinda." The type of song best liked and most requested by the people were the Negro spirituals.

Less than one per cent of the population of these countries belong to the Methodist Church. These Methodists are very radical and are looked upon as a sect. Due to the influence of the American Caravans they have, in part, broken out of their mold. The Western North Carolina Conference is now helping to build youth camps in Norway. Previously camps were thought to be heathen.

Dr. Hudgins stated: "I wish each student could have the experiences of the trip. It not only serves as a broadening of the perspective but also as a deepening of Christian commitment. I shall be pleased to talk to anyone about the possibilities of participating in the Scandinavian Caravan."

High Point
Plays Host
To NSSGA

The North State Student Government Association will convene on Wednesday, Oct. 22 at High Point College for its fall meeting. The opening address will be given by Dean Alfred at 10:30 a.m. There will be discussions on "Safety for the College Campus," "The Two-Party System and Student Government," and "City-College Relationships."

Each school in the North State Conference will send five delegates to the meeting. Arrangements are being made by Fred Barber, Vice-President of the NSSGA.

Participating colleges are: Elon, Appalachian, Catawba, Guilford, Lewis Rhyne, East Carolina, Western Carolina, Atlantic Christian, and High Point.

New Counselor
Has Varied
Background

by CORKY IMWOLD

Miss Betty Shirley, Counselor of Women and instructor in history, is originally from Washington, Indiana. After graduating from Oakland City College in Oakland City, Indiana, she came to High Point College in English and social studies, she received her MA from Indiana State Teachers' College, majoring in history and minoring in sociology. She plans to do more graduate work this summer.

Following her ordination in 1950 into the ministry by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, she served as pastor of Fairview Church in Princeton, Indiana for three years.

While teaching English, social studies, and speech in the Knox and Gibson county schools in Indiana, she was also Counselor of Girls.

Miss Shirley served as Presbyterian Young Adults director for several years and during recent summers has served as director of Indiana Presbyterian camps.

Already Miss Shirley has begun her counseling, as well as her teaching, and her cheerful attitude and understanding nature have made her an asset to High Point College.

Baptist Students Charter Buses For Crusade

The Baptist Student Union is sponsoring a trip, which is open to all students, to attend the Billy Graham Crusade in Charlotte.

After calling the Charlotte office, we were informed that only general admission tickets were available. Although October 19, because of the great response by the students to attend the crusade, it has been decided to plan our trip for October 20. Having been assisted at the expense of the Crusade, we are making reservations, therefore assuming costs for everyone.

Four buses have been chartered with a sufficient number of faculty members sponsoring each one. All students on campus have special bus privileges to attend the crusade.

If one of two dollars covers the trip to the Charlotte. There is a $1.00 charge for the bus. Then will be $1.00 for meals in the hotel at 10:30 P.M. on October 19 through October 20. A $1.00 charge for the bus and meals. If one of two dollars for payment is the full cost.

Students who have reservations and need a bus pass, please have any questions, come see the trip, please. Address: 531 N. Main or call 650-1111.

Featherstone Finds HPC Friendly

Have success, will travel! is the motto of several students at HPC. One of these students is Norma Featherstone, who came all the way from Honolulu. She has the distinction of being the student who came the farthest distance.

Norma was born on a trip while her parents, who were then living in Pennsylvania, were visiting her grandmother, Mrs. O. J. Fene, West Virginia. She is the daughter of a North Carolina woman, California, and Texas. Her father's occupation is the cause of her frequent moves. Her mother, not usually a nurse.

The decision to go to HPC was made by Norma. The 17-year-old freshman chose to go because she was looking for a small college in two years and she felt that most of the quality people she desired Norma had. The H-I-P-O is a friend as well.

Norma will probably spend her years in the country and then return to Hawaii, where her friends are living. It is a trip that she definitely wants to do in the future.

17 Are Named To 'Who's Who'

The names of the seventeen seniors selected for publication in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges were released this week by Dean Allred. According to Dean Allred, the main purpose of the publication is to bring the names of the outstanding students of America before the business world, and before others who annually recruit students.

Selection was made by a special committee composed of Dean J. H. Allred, Dean H. E. Conrad, Dr. Frances Muldrow, and the president of the SCA. Nominations and selections were made on the basis of character, scholarship, campus leadership, and promise of future service to humanity.

Those selected to "Who's Who" are Barbara Ayers, Fred Barber, Martha Buffalo, Jim Calloway, Charles Dyson, Elmer Hall, Sylvia Hill, Sylvia Holt, Sue Jackson, Jane Martin, Aaron Moss, Irma Jane Scruggs, Vernon Tate, Al Trearther, Charles Watson, Shirley Yokley, and Ben Zambrana.

Barbara Ayers of Stuart, Virginia, is co-editor of the Zenith, member of Zeta Tau Alpha, the Order of the Lighted Lamp and the Scholastic Honor Society. Fred Barber, High Point, N. C., is president of the SCA, managing editor of the Hi-Po, and member of Delta Sigma Phi.

Martha Buffalo of Marion, N. C., is president of Women's Sorority and a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. Jim Calloway, Winston-Salem, is president of the SCA and a member of Kappa Chi. Charles Dyson, High Point, is president of the Senior Class, member of Lambda Chi Alpha and the Order of the Lighted Lamp.

Elmer Hall, Gibsonsville, is Editor-in-Chief of the Hi-Po, member of the Order of the Lighted Lamp, the Scholastic Honor Society and Delta Sigma Phi. Sylvia Hill, Winston-Salem, is past president of Women's Sorority and a member of Kappa Delta. Sylvia Holt, Troy, is president of Phi Mu and a member of the Order of the Lighted Lamp.

Sue Jackson, Elkan, is Co-Editor of the Zenith. Jane Martin of Denton is vice-president of Women's Sorority. Aaron Moss, Gastonia, is president of Kappa Chi, a member of the Order of the Lighted Lamp and Chief Justice of the Judiciary Council.

Irma Jane Scruggs, Jacksonville, Florida, is a member of the Order of the Lighted Lamp and Zeta Tau Alpha. Vernon Tate of Kings Mountain is President of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. Al Trearther, Vineland, New Jersey, is President of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Charles Watson, Whiteville, is president of McCulloch Hall and member of Lambda Chi Alpha. Shirley Yokley of High Point is president of the Panhellenic Council and a member of Phi Mu. Ben Zambrana of La Par, Bolivia, is a member of the Order of the Lighted Lamp and Delta Sigma Phi.

The seventeen HiPC Seniors will be awarded certificates and their names will appear in the 1959 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

'WHO'S WHO' SELECTIONS

Miss HPC Finalists Selected

From a bevy of 25 original entries, 15 finalists were selected for the Miss High Point College contest at assembly, Wednesday, Oct. 29.

These finalists are: Peggy Allred, Betty Jo Blackwood, Edna Rose Duncanson, Lee Jarrett, Jane Lloyd, Jane Martin, Sylvia Newton, Sandra Farnell, Pat Ray, Anne Starr, Wini Stuart, Jean Thomas, Yvonne Vaughn, Eanor Young, and Julie Young.

The Miss HiPC contest, sponsored annually by the ZENITH, will be held Nov. 11, at 8 p.m., in Memorial Auditorium. Contestants will be judged on the basis of poise, talent, and beauty. Tickets will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

The master of ceremonies will be Jimmy Capps of radio station WPTF in Raleigh. Judging the contestants will be Kay Kiser, famous handicapper, and Betty Lane Evans, Miss North Carolina. Other judges will be announced at the time of the contest.

Miss Evans will also display the same talent as she did in the Miss North Carolina and Miss America pageants. While the judges are selecting the five finalists, entertainment will be furnished by a quartet composed of Henry Andrews, Al Finley, Richard Vason, and L. N. Wood.

Gifts from High Point merchants to be awarded to the new Miss HiPC will be modeled on stage during the evening's program.

Serving on the committee for the contest this year are: Mel Bushlin, chairman, Eunice Young, Betty Gray Dorman, Rhonda Robbins, and Shirley Yokley.

Cheerleaders Chosen To Complete Squad

In assembly, Oct. 29, 15 girls and seven boys entered into cheerleading competition. Of these the following were elected by the student body to the vacancies in the squad: Viviane Lloyd, Wini Stuart, Yvonne Vaughn, Bill Spake, and Harold Terry. Karen Carpenter and Henry Groome were elected as alternates. These will join the regular squad which is already composed of Shirley Yokley, head cheerleader, Shirley Williams, and Betty Gray Duncanson.

A new policy of selection was used this year. The possible places for new cheerleaders were filled in proportion to the number of boys and the number of girls going out for practices.

Without a dissenting vote, the new revision of the Student Government Association Constitution was unanimously accepted by the Student Body in a business meeting at assembly on Wednesday Fred Barber, Student Government president, presided over the meeting. The motion that the revision be accepted was made by Charles Johnson. There was no discussion on the motion.

The new constitution was approved by the Student Legislature on October 21, after a few technical changes had been made which the Legislature deemed necessary for an effective government. The major change made by the Legislature was the deletion of section I of Article VII, which allowed for the firing of an absent member from a legislative session. The delegation thought that this should be included in the By-laws of the separate houses rather than in the Student Government Constitution.

The two primary changes under the newly approved Constitution include a revision of the Executive Committee, to which will be added the Day Student President and the president of Woman's Hall and McCulloch Hall, and a bi-cameral legislature.

Within the next two weeks each of the four classes will select three representatives to the Student Senate. The Senate will be composed of twelve senators and the vice-president of the Student Government Association, who will automatically serve as President of the Senate. Those persons who are now members of the Student Legislature may be elected to the Senate, but new representatives must be chosen to replace them in the old Student Legislature, which will now be known as the Student House of Representatives.

Another change in the new constitution concerns the election of ethics officers. Nomination for candidates for the offices of the Executive Council now have to be signed by one hundred persons. It is assumed that this change will lead to the formation of political parties.

Plans for the new constitution began last March during sessions of the High Point College Student Congress, with a bill presented for the minor class and Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity by Fred Barber and C. W.

Faulkner. From its acceptance in the Student Congress, the bill was included in the new constitution, and other changes were made by the Student Government Constitutional Committee.

MSF Presents Original Play

An original drama, "The Church on Trial," was presented at the regular meeting of the Methodist Student-Teacher Union held Oct. 31, at First Methodist Church.

The drama, written by Pat Olmsted, Elmer Hall, Harold Wright, and Walt Hodgins, portrays a courtroom scene in which Communism, Intellectualism, Secularism, Nationalism and a disillusioned Christian charge the Church with various crimes and faults. The portrayal ends as the silent Church is pronounced guilty as charged.

"The Church on Trial," was held initial step in a series of programs on the life and mission of the Church. The study will culminate at the annual fall retreat to be held at Camp Betty Hastings, Oct. 8 and 9. At the retreat, the Methodist group will evaluate the effectiveness of the present Church and seek to determine the role that the church should be filling in the mid-twentieth century.

All interested students are invited to take part in the retreat. Cars will leave from Roberts Hall on Saturday and will return in time for Sunday morning services. Those planning to attend must sign the chart posted in the High Point College cafeteria.

COMMENT ON PLEDGING

In a few days many men will be making decisions to join one of the six campus social fraternities. One who is contemplating entering Greekland should seriously ask himself a few questions. Do you understand and accept the principles for which the fraternity stands? Are the brothers the kind of persons with whom you desire to develop deep and lasting ties? Are you willing to accept the responsibilities as well as the privileges imposed by fraternity life?

If you seriously ask and answer these questions and if your answer is affirmative, then you are ready to pledge. If not, for your own sake and the fraternity's, you had best wait.

As you wear the Pledge Pin of your own choosing, remember that it is more than a piece of metal with a splash of paint on it. Your Pin symbolizes your acceptance into one of the great traditions of American collegiate life. Wear this symbol with a feeling of pride and humility realizing the great responsibility it places upon you and shoulders. The brothers thought enough of you with your human weaknesses to extend an invitation to you to join them in a job which will not prove easy.

Your goal is to show loyalty to the cause which unifies them and at the same time to continue successfully in this academic community.

Enjoy yourself, it's later than you think!

SING HO FOR SERENITY

Sing ho for the life of the modern collegian! There is something wonderfully serene in the attitude he assumes during those four years spent in the serenity of the ivied halls. Something that is truly gratifying.

In the face of world-wide strife, our student has somehow attained an inner peace. What is he carrying the initials in each other and Governor Faubus is making a fool of himself, the student's soul is at rest.

"The world isn't really starting to death, you know, we're sending them money. I wonder how money tastes—American money that is washed down with jet fuel or something."

He sounds apathetic, doesn't he? He really isn't though. He has places to go and people to see, his problems to solve. Like what's the easiest way to get a three point? Or who is the best date in the freshman class? Or like how can I get a permanent chapel excuse?

But he'll solve 'em, these big problems. And even if he doesn't he can survive, because his soul is at peace. In the face of any dilemma, if he can hide out in peace, he will sit leisurely on his nerve buckle and say, "So what? tomorrow's Christmas."

Perhaps we should publish a commemorative stamp, praising this collegian. We shall have his picture on it, and beneath the picture we shall inscribe, "What are you?"

"Sing Ho for Serenity"

A RAY OF HOPE

Today as the United Nations faces at the crossroads on its thirty-third birthday, it holds forth a symbol which, countless nations the world over are anxiously working the symbol is hope.

Despite its many critics the U.N. can look back over the last decade to a proud and useful history. The organization exemplifies the truth that men can exist together under a representative government dedicated to the ideal that under law the world can be unified.

As science shrinks our world and, indeed, our whole universe, nations of the world are forced to face up to the choice of the future—co-existence or obliteration. To the peoples and nations of the world the U.N. continually holds out the hope that all men can co-exist in peace in this age of prophecy of Isaiah:

"And the shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore." May this hope become a reality!

ON CAMPUS

This was the big day. Low grey clouds shrouded the campus in an atmosphere of gloom, and a fine mist added a sharp edge to the cool November air. Small puddles of muddy water formed again mirrors on the sidewalks. Rain-drenched leaves huddled in the corners of the brick buildings to evade the chilling wind.

The tall, lean student turned up the collar of his coat and paused to light a cigarette. He carried a text book under his arm, and a small white tag on his coat advertised his name and the fact that he was a member. He descended the steps of Hottel Hall, hunched plumed into his pockets, and read the attractively printed cards each contained. Methodically he replaced each of the cards in its envelope, and then set down at his desk. Arranging the closed envelopes in a semicircle on the desk top, he carefully studied them while absent-mindedly chewing at his fingernails.

The student opened the door to his room and placed his book on the bed. He removed his coat, exposed the cardpunch from his face, and stood staring from the room window. He held a long pull from his cigarette and sighed in contemplation. Suddenly he reached into his pockets and pulled out several small white envelopes. One by one, he opened them and read the attractively printed cards each contained. Methodically he replaced each of the cards in its envelope, and then set down at his desk. TO THE FACULTY, STAFF, STUDENTS, AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES:

The article "College President on a Lightnote" which appeared in the October 1958 issue of College and University Business, is to true that I want to share the following boxed insert from the article titled "The College President has a Great Life."

If he's under 45, he's considered impulsive and autocratic. If he's over 45, he's lame and lazy.

If he leaves a college in less than 10 years, he's a quitter. If he stays longer than 10 years, he doesn't know when new leadership is needed.

If he approves the expulsion of a student, he is an "old boy" and no friend of modern youth. If he disapproves the expulsion of a student, he encourages immorality and lawlessness.

If he spends much time at his desk, he ought to be out learning what's going on. If he spends much time out of his office, he ought to be at his desk attending to his job.

If he obtains a million dollars for a woman's dormitory, he is incompetent because the college has great need for a men's dormitory. If he gets a million dollars for a men's dormitory, he should be fired because everyone knows that the housing of women is more important than the housing of men.

If he approves the purchase of band instruments, he is unfit because

THAT $50,000 ORGAN

Dear Editor,

I think it is wonderful that the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church has begun a great campaign to raise three million dollars to aid their colleges. High Point College will benefit by the drive to the tune of $50,000. This college certainly needs new buildings and other improvements.

But I am still trying to understand why this college has asked the churches to give them $50,000 dollars for a pipe organ for the auditorium. Can't you just see the effect of this High Point will be known as the school with the $50,000 pipe organ and students will come here be-the science department needs microscopes. If he approves the buying of microscopes, it is obvious he cares nothing for the arts.

If he recommends promotion of Professor Jones to the rank of full professor, he clearly hates Professor Smith, who was merely elevated to the rank of associate professor.

If he writes for publication, he is stealing time from his duties. If he does not write for publication, he is no scholar and is failing in public relations.

If he accepts invitations to speak off-campus, he ought to spend more time on the campus. If he does not make speeches, he is insensitive to public relations and, besides, he's no good at public speaking.

If he takes a stand on a controversial matter, he is tactless. If he does not take a stand on a controversial matter, he is a coward.

If he is a bachelor, he ought to be married. If he is married, his wife doesn't know her place.

If his wife takes any part in the life of the college, she is meddling. If she is not active on the campus, she isn't doing her duty.

Sincerely yours, would not be time for anything else.

I believe that some of these organizations could be combined to serve a dual purpose and to work on larger projects without losing any social opportunities. Also, there are so many different times involved that it is almost impossible to find any hour that is not taken up for one person or another by committees or meetings. These meetings often conflict with other groups.

cause the school has a $50,000 pipe organ that will be played about once or twice a week.

I believe that the $50,000 could be better used by the school. This money could build a chapel, or increase the weak scholarship fund, or buy more books for the library. How long has a pipe organ been necessary for a good college program when more important things are needed?

I hope that we will wake up to the foolishness of asking hard pressed churches to give their money for something that is not really needed. If we do not wake up, I am afraid that many church members will

Introducing 1958-59 Panthers

Purple Panthers

Sewell, Afendis, Beauchot To Star; Williams Is Big Question Mark

Preparations for the 1958-59 basketball season have begun on the High Point campus. The Purple Panthers opened practices about two weeks ago with thirty-five men turning out for the initial practice. Coach Virgil Yow, beginning his fifth year as the Panthers' head coach, greeted Danny Sewell, Maury Beauchot, Steve Afendis, and Ken Williams as the only four returning lettermen. Last year's edition of the Panthers was hit hard by graduation.

The nucleus of the 1958-59 team will probably be comprised of Sewell, Beauchot, Afendis, and Williams. Sewell, who was the leading scorer in the North State Conference last year and who was also selected as a member of the All-State team, was injured near the close of the season last year but has gotten his knee back into shape and seems to be in for another big season. If the Panthers are to stay in the first division this year, Coach Yow is going to have to lean heavily on Sewell, the six-foot-five-inch junior from Kokomo, Indiana. Another bright spot for the Purple Panthers is the return of Beauchot and Afendis, two All-Tournament selections of last year's "cinderella" North State Tournament team which, to the surprise of everyone, took second place in the tournament. There are a lot of ifs in High Point's prospects for the coming hardwood season, and Ken Williams is one of the biggest. "Ken Williams can make or break this year's team," stated Coach Yow in a personal interview. If Williams uses his height to the greatest advantage, and plays the type of ball he is able of playing, High Point may be hard to handle.

Another big "if" that will have a great deal to do with how the Panthers shape up this year is how well either incoming freshmen or last year's reserves fill the reliable shoes of Bill Huegel, Bobby Phair, Bobby Dimbar, and other now departed seniors. Among the new men who have shown some promise are Jo Guzinski, 6'2", of Scranton, Pennsylvania; Zane Daniel, 5'8", of Rutledge, Tennessee; Chalmers Sechrest, 6'2", of Fair Grove, N. Carolina; and Wolfe Unger, 6'4", of Spring Valley, N. Carolina. Up from last year's junior varsity team is Jack Short, Tommy Skidmore, and William Fornyduval. Short, the sharp-shooting speedster from Williams, Indiana, should be a great asset to the team this year, and is a likely candidate for one of the starting guard positions.

All if the above mentioned freshmen were stars in their respective high schools and should be a big lift to the team. Joining the squad at mid-quarter will be Wayne Check, the 6'6" transfer student from the University of Richmond, who should give the Panthers some much needed backboard strength. Other men who may break into the starting lineup are the season's find, Jerry Webster, Ken Samuels, Ralph Bosch, and George Snour. With only four veterans back, it looks as if Coach Yow will have a terrific job of rebuilding if he is to get his team into contention for the coveted North State Conference championship.

High Point Takes Pfeiffer College In Initial Meet

High Point College's newly formed cross-country track team won its initial meet against Pfeiffer College on October 23, by sweeping four of the first five places. Although the Panthers were running only four men in the meet, they still managed to completely overwhelm Pfeiffer. Mick Dean led High Point by taking first place in the meet. Following Dean were Dick Vent in second place, Don Simmons in third place, and Willard Fornyduval in fifth place. The fine showing was a fitting inaugural to a new sport at High Point.

For its second test, the Panther Thunders will again tackle Pfeiffer on November 4. This will be a return match and should prove to be very interesting. At their next meeting High Point will probably have more men running. Also, Pfeiffer will probably be in better shape so they may possibly get a revenge win. At this time there are no other meets scheduled for the team, for it was not known at the beginning of the year how cross-country would shape up. The meet with Pfeiffer will be held at the Blair Park Golf Course.

FROM JUNIOR CLASS

Marshalls Are Named

Nineteen members of the Junior class were appointed as Junior marshals on Nov. 12. Chosen by a special faculty committee, the marshals serve as representatives of the college at all public functions held in the college auditorium.

Selections were based on scholastic ability and previous service to the school, according to Dean Harold E. Gouard.

Junior Marshals for 1958-59 are Gilbert Beeson, chief marshal, of Pendroke; Kathryn Blanchard from Warsaw; Martha Bulla, Asheville;

Allen Calloway and Helen Clay of Winston-Salem; Sylvia Deaton, Mooresville; Glenn Fletcher and Charles Holt of High Point; Bobby Lawson from Greensboro; Frances Lewis of Pendroke; Carolyn Lowder, Norwood; Pat Olmsted, Arlington, Virginia; Pat Ray of Greensboro; Larry Reavis from Winston-Salem; Charles Riddle, Raleigh; Daniel Routh of East Bend; Winfred Stuart from Matowan, West Virginia; Doris Talley of Concord; and Edward Venable of High Point.

Julie Young Is 'Miss HPC'

Miss Julie Young, sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, was crowned Miss High Point College November 11 by Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans. The four runners up were Sandra Farnell, Wm. Stuart, Betty Jo Blackwood, and Jean Thomas.

Julie, a 17-year-old freshman from Knoxville, Tenn., sang "Young and Foolish" in the talent division. She has had a year and a half in voice instructions but does not plan a career in music. Julie, an Alpha Gamma Delta pledge, is majoring in elementary education.

The contestants were graded on beauty, poise, and talent by the judges, Mr. Holt McPherson, Mrs. N. H. Chiles, and the Rev. Haggit. Entertainment was provided by the Garnett Quartet, the Clubmen Combo, and Miss Evans.

JOINT SESSION CALLED

Senators Selected For Current Year

Fred Barber, president of the SGA, has called a joint session of the Student Legislature for Nov. 25, at 6 p.m. in room 21 of Roberts Hall. At this business meeting the representatives and senators will outline legislation for the current semester, and begin plans for a code of law to be used by the Judiciary Council.

At present there is only one written law, that concerning the wearing of beanie. The year's legislation will formulate definite laws and determine the possible punishment for infractions thereof.

Following the joint session, the House and Senate will meet separately in order to elect officers. Don Drapeau, present president pro tem, will preside over the house for the elections.

Thanksgiving Day - 1958

A PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States

At this season of the year we are reminded that the course of nature has brought us once again from the time of plucking to the time of harvest, and we turn to Almighty God with heartfelt thanksgiving for His enduring providence.

We are grateful for the plentiful yield of our soil and for the blessings of food and clothing and shelter that have succeeded us throughout the year. We rejoice in the beauty of our land; in every brave and generous act of our fellow man; and in the counsel and comfort of our friends. We deeply appreciate the preservation of those ideals of liberty and justice which form the basis of our national life and the hope of international peace. For these and all the many spiritual and temporal benefactions bestowing God's goodness, we offer up our prayers of gratitude.

Let us be especially grateful for the religious heritage bequeathed us by our forefathers as exemplified by the Pilgrims, who, after the gathering of their first harvest, set apart a special day for rendering thanks to God for the bounties vouchsafed to them.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress approved December 26, 1941, designating the fourth Thursday of November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 27, 1958, as a day of national thanksgiving. On that day let us, in our homes and in our accustomed places of worship, give due expression of our thanks for the blessings which have signaled our lot as a Nation, and let us ask for guidance in our striving for a better world for all men.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this thirty-first day of October in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-third.

UNC Takes Stand On Integration

CHAPEL HILL.—The Student Legislature of the University of North Carolina recently adopted a bill "stating their opposition to discriminatory clauses and expressing their opposition to admitting any organization into the University in the future which has clauses discriminating on the basis of race, creed or color."

The vote on the bill was 21-16. The bill amends a resolution concerning the adoption of the National Student Association's declaration on student responsibility and rights.

Student Body President Don Furtado commended the Student Legislature for its action concerning the bill. "I am quite sure that the Legislature will come under quite a bit of criticism for its action, but however, I feel it should be congratulated for its courage and willingness to state its opposition to discrimination within the student community."

Pointing out that UNC has always been a leader in the South academically and otherwise, he went on to say, "The admission of Negro students to the University has come peacefully and without reaction from the part of the students."

"Regardless of their personal views on the issue of segregation, the students, the faculty and the administration of the University have recognized their obligation to the laws of the nation and have, therefore, realistically met their obligations," he continued.

"I believe that this stand on the part of the official policy making body of the students is indicative of its maturity and responsibility," Furtado concluded.

PLEASE PASS ZHIVAGO

Almost without exception, collegiate newspapers have given notice and comment to the awarding of the 1958 Nobel Prize in Literature to Boris Pasternak for the controversial novel, "Dr. Zhivago," and to the Moscow-Soviet melodrama which followed. The H-PO decided to join the Pasternak bandwagon hoping that some curious reader might be moved to encounter Dr. Zhivago in Wrenn Memorial.

Since the philosophy that created the novel is discussed elsewhere in this issue, we will make note only of the recent episodes accompanying the Nobel award.

Both America and Russia have made much of the "political implications" of the award. It has been a lively spectacle. Earlier episodes have been Pasternak's statement that he was "unimpressed," his triumph, proud, astonished, abashed, on receiving news of the honor; the proclamation of the Pasternak "the greatest poet living today" by the American press; Moscow's declaration that the award was a "hostile political act," Pasternak's being declared a traitor and expelled from the Soviet Writer's Union, the awarding of the Nobel Prize in Physics to three Russian scientists, and the resulting organized expression of joy and satisfaction in the USSR that Soviet science should be thus recognized.

This democracy confused plot, grows more tangled each day. What will the Kremlin do now? Shall it send its triumphant scientists to receive the same medal that was awarded treacherous Pasternak? If Pasternak is allowed to accept his award will Moscow continue to tell its public that his novel is too offensive for Soviet distribution. In either event Moscow's face will be red.

Pasternak has opened a breach in the mind of Russia. He has sent a shock against the walls of Jericho. Perhaps it can do what our bombs and diplomats cannot.—E.O.H.

THE INTANGIBLES

One phase of education that suffers a dire lack of emphasis and consideration on our campus is that facet of college life commonly referred to as a "liberal" education, or those things not often obtained in the assimilation of facts from courses dealing in professional preparation. In this category we might place such intangible items as human understanding, cultural growth, and a comprehension of contemporary problems.

Despite the fact that most HPC graduates are adequately prepared in the mechanical and technical aspects of performing a job, this does not guarantee that these students are "educated," if the term be used in its broadest sense.

Understanding the society we live in, and appreciating the culture we have inherited, involves more than the retention of facts from musty textbooks, and are too often disregarded and ignored in a college environment.

As students, we learn to learn, to think, understand and appreciate, so that we might guard against our colleges becoming a mass-producers of "clots"—I.R.B.

Letters To The Editor

A SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTION

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to Mel Babin, members of the Zenith staff, the contestants, and all those who had any part in making the Miss HPC Contest the tremendous success that it was. From beginning to end it was a production that any college would be proud of. The entire program was well organized, publicized, and carried off. The talents and abilities of the contestants showed that the girls had put a great deal of originality, time, and thought into their numbers. I feel that this program, which was well supported by students, faculty, and local citizens of High Point, was a credit to the school and one which we can proudly say was produced by the students. "From Room 203 in the Hospital"

"Lying there in the bed with a cast from my right leg to my right hip, I had a lot of time to think about many things. I was very pleased to see Gerald Fitzpatrick and a Latin Fitzgerald come sneaking into my room to receive visiting hours. There was one thing that I particularly wanted to discuss with them.

"After we had exchanged the usual friendly greetings, I said, 'I am very sorry that I had to let you go after I left the game.

"He had a bad cramp," said Gerry, 'but it wasn't as serious as you imagine.

"Yes," said Pat, 'but it could have been.

"I know," I said, and then Dan Smith broke in with a pretty funny story. Dan didn't have any assurance to cover his accident. Fortunately I did.

"Didn't the school have a policy to cover injuries to students during intramural ball games?" asked Pat.

"According to Dan the school will not be held responsible for accidents occurring during intramural games," Gerry said.

"The varsity players have insurance through the school," Pat said. "Also, I understand that basketball players have special insurance to cover them. Why couldn't school extend one of these policies to cover intramural sports?" Dan said. "The intramural program is sponsored by the athletic department."

"That may well be," said Gerry, "but the school doesn't sponsor the individual teams. They do sanction them, however, and should be at least partially responsible for accidents incurred by their members."

"I'd say," Perhaps the school and the individual sports sponsoring teams could split the responsibility and support an insurance policy to cover intramural participants."

"That sounds like a winner," I said. "The school could put up a third of the money, and the organization could contribute the rest, but up the other two thirds. The policy could be purchased through the athletic department."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

On The Pasternak Award

In the time of political propaganda we have seen the award of the Nobel Prize for Literature there is serious danger that the nature of Boris Pasternak and his work may be cast into the shadows.

What the Nobel committee has done is to pay homage to the individual as opposed to the work. It has honored not only a literary talent but a philosophy of life and a life lived in accordance with that philosophy.

The official Soviet detractors have

FRED BARBER

ON CAMPUS

Outside the car a bright sun was beating down on the brown earth, spreading the meager warmth of a prolonged Indian Summer. It was one of those days that fill you with vigor and gaiety, a day when the overcast excitement of nature lures you away from the hum-drum routine of campus life. It was the kind of day you like to spend musing and relaxing and smiling to yourself.

The beauty of an autumn countryside gripped me with a sort of poetic understanding. I drove down, thinking how much I loved everybody and everything. How could war and hate exist in such a beautiful world?

Soft lazy music flowed from the radio, and I laughed and made easy conversation with the other occupants of the car. We drove aimlessly over the countryside, looking at the easy rolling hills of farmland, and at tall trees tall sleeking their leafy decorations of life.

Suddenly, attention was directed to a large, skinny man in a dark suit, running by the side of the road. A farm hand dressed in faded denim overalls and high-top shoes, the sharp-edged muck in the dog's direction, and the mongrel yelped as the stone struck his head and back.

The other passengers of the car observed the scene with a great deal of curiosity and laughter. I saw the man in the dark suit, the dog, the mongrel, and the farm hand. I tried to push the incident from my mind, and returned my attention to the beauty of the rolling hills and the tall trees.

As we drove slowly into the edge of town, I noticed a small and dirty boy playing in a thin layer of sand that covered the sidewalk. The boy had carefully built a network of highways in the sand, and was lost in the maze of his intricate work. The boy had just fit no place in the last section of a poppycock story I had heard of an old boy on a large lake made over the construction, leaving the highways and bridge away laughing, and the small boy cried in disappointment and grief.

I lit a Winston and turned up the radio so that the car was filled with the melodious strains of "Rockin' Robin."

Isn't this a hell of a world?

said that in "Dr. Zhivago" Pasternak has betrayed the cause of the revolution and provided his country's enemies with a useful weapon. Such rudimentary talk merely betrays how little these men understand what Pasternak is about.

It is true that he rejects the modern, cold, sterile worship of man, "holding that such systems are based on a false premise and 'pathetically anti-human.' He has little faith in current practices of social betterment in Russia, but he concedes that there have been 'wonderful, unforgettable' achievements in the care of workers, the protection of mothers, and the curbing of the money power. Of the Revolution itself and of Lenin, Pasternak speaks in terms of awe. His attack is against the mis-carrying of the Revolution, against the 'fanatical men of action with their one-track minds' who fill the world with fanaticism when they are not engaged in crime."

Even these profound caveats are secondary, however, to the basic conflict between Pasternak and the order in which he finds himself. This conflict has to do with the nature of life and of living, of the relationship between the individual and society.

"Man," says Pasternak, "is born to life, not to prepare for life. Life, itself, the preparation for life, the gift of life is so breathtakingly serious. So why substitute this childish harlequinade of immature fantasies, these schoolboy escapades?"

"When I hear people speak of reshaping life it makes me lose my self-respect and I fall into despair," he says. "Reshaping life! People who can say that they have never understood life, who have never lived, who never felt its breath, its heartbeat, however much they may have seen or heard, are not men. They are made of raw material that needs to be processed by them, to be ennobled by their own life. Life is never a material, a substance to be molded. Life is constantly renewing and re-making and changing and transfiguring itself."

Thus, Pasternak takes his stand and sets himself apart from the modern tendency, he sees the tendency of his own country but the tendency of conformist, materialist America. He is a man who, he says, who suppose that Pasternak has merely stripped from Communist life the glamour and the mystery.

The fashion he wears is "nowadays is all for groups and societies of every sort. Groupism is always a thing about by itself, whether they swear by Soloviev or Kant or Marx. Only individuals seek truth."

This is the heart of Pasternak. His lovers are concerned with "the right to be like the birds, the enchantment of genius, the enchantment of unadorned beauty" and not

Whazzit with What's What

(A committee of faculty and students recently named 17 students to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. High Point was entitled to 18 selections and only 17 were named, which we consider a good sign. Who's Who should be the most coveted honor that a college can bestow to its students. We cannot resist reporting this worthy student who appeared in Wake Forest's Old Gold and Black under the title "Who's 24 With What's What?—Ed.)

"The College has been fortunate this year," the professor said as he reached for his copy of the Student Directory. "What's What, the authority on student leaders everywhere, has granted us 18 paragraphs on its pages, two more than last fall. The increased number of our outstanding students, of course, is due to our increased enrollment."

There was a buzz of delight throughout the group. "How nice of them to recognize us like that," the former What's What nominee whispered to another. "In my undergraduate days we had only 10 leaders on the campus each year." In a few moments the group was hard at work. Its duty was to select the 18 What's What in American Colleges and Universities.

"Of course," the chairman began, "there are a few obvious choices. Our student body officers, the publications editors and our All-American candidates in basketball and football, for instance."

"The committee had quite a bit of difficulty remembering the names of all these worthies, but soon the dozen or so 'automatic' nominees had been listed."

Then one of the older committee men fished out a copy of the Dean's List. "We mustn't forget the academic side of student leadership," he cautioned, and soon only a few names remained on the blank furnished by the publisher of What's What.

Another committee man was deep in thought. "And there is the religious side of student life," he began. "I believe at least 10 percent of our nominees should be churchworkers." Everyone agreed on this point, but a rather heated discussion arose as to how they could determine which of the most pious students on campus.

"What about social life?" a young professor was speaking. "I think my fraternity men ought to be well represented." This suggestion, also, was well received, and in no time the list was filled.

"I think we have a good selection," the chairman said. "But can you think of anyone we may have left out? It's safer to include a few students who may need some than to leave out one who does, you know." He said the last sentence slowly, as if he wasn't really sure he was right.

No one could think of another outstanding student, so the list was approved. "We'll probably have to meet again after the grades are checked to make a few substitutions," the chairman concluded. "Those who don't have C averages don't get listed in the book."

"Yes," a committee member added. "What's What demands only the best."

Prayer of Thanksgiving

God of the Mayflower, I give Thee thanks for pain that forces me back into harmony with the core of my being. I give thee thanks for the blight of failure that has burned out of me all thought of easy victory; for mistakes of departed courses that have made me lose all faith in myself. I give Thee thanks for disillusionment, disappointment, and despair which serve to clear the miasma of my dual vision. I thank Thee for the bitter wisdom of strong passion and the power it gives when under pressure and control; for my imperfection which gives me incentive to strive for perfection.

God of the Puritan and God of the slave, I give Thee thanks for my surrender to temptation and the appreciation it brings to my encounter with my fellowman; for the weaknesses and failings of my neighbors and the joy of saying, I understand; for my present shortcomings, sorrows and loneliness that drive me to a deeper sympathy for those at sea with me, even for ingratitude and misunderstanding so that service can be given without other reward than self-expression and Thy divine forgiveness. I give Thee thanks for the death of Christ, for it is this that drives me to do better. We pray in His name.

with the small worries of practical life—like the rebuilding of the planet. They live in the imminent presence of death. Tragedy is their shadow, surely they live and love like deities. But in their lives they are complete in themselves. They expect nothing and they are not disappointed. It is out of this solitary contemplation that Pasternak has gathered the strength to fulfill, as he says, his duty as a writer, to bear witness as an artist, to write of the times through which he has lived.

Perhaps, as Pasternak suggests, it is only when "all customs and traditions, all our way of life, everything that we do with home and order, has crumbled into dust in the general upheaval and reorganization of society," that the whole of "human way of life has been destroyed and ruined" that we finally perceive "the naked "inner soul stripped to the last shred."

So it is Pasternak's message to the world-bro. His own sickly technocratic society. It is probably only in the last days of the twentieth century that this brave, resonant philosophy could be forged. Once again to Russia, where we are indebted for revealing to us the truth of man over the world in which he lives.—From The Saturday Review.

Library Records Progress

by HENRY ELLEN ATKINSON

We students of HPC, with all of our studies and extra-curricular activities, never stop to realize the importance of our library. Not only is it a good place to concentrate on our studies, but it is a very good source for needed reference. Did you know that our library contains 38,800 volumes? Each year, at least 3,000 more volumes are added.

The library has really grown over a period of only ten years. In 1948, there were only 15,000 volumes. Also in 1948, the circulation per year was 11,498 books, and in 1958, this number has increased to 24,721 per year.

Of the eleven colleges in North Carolina whose circulating books that of High Point College, our library is open more hours per week, and ranks highest in its number of circulating books.

Plans have been made and bids are being accepted for the adding of a new wing behind the library. This will not only double the seating capacity, but will increase the volume capacity to 100,000 volumes.

Backward Glances

(Carle Overby, while running through old HI-PO's as a journalism assignment ran upon these items of HPC history.)

The HI-PO began as THE TORCH in 1925.

The PANTHERS were 1936 basketball champions; the tournament was held in High Point.

Wrenn Memorial Library was opened in 1939.

The first college band was organized in 1935.

To note the efforts of the seniors of 1936, HPC had no paved driveways.

In 1933 one could purchase a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich in town for ten cents.

411 students was a record crowd at the 1935 registration.

The college band has presented yearly concerts for 25 years.

Dr. Humphreys accomplished a magnificent feat in 1937. He balanced the school budget from student income.

The student center was opened in 1942.

Found in the HI-PO for Dec. 1, 1937, there are three kinds of lies: white lies, black lies, and college catalogues.

Methodist Retreat Report

by DORIS TALLEY

On Saturday, November 8, 30 members of the MSF left for Camp Betty, where for their annual retreat, planned under the direction of Patt Olmsted, Reverend Bill Buckley, associate minister of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church, served as the speaker for the retreat.

After opening, building a log fire, and exploring the surroundings of the camp, everyone ended in playing a softball game. This prepared each person for a spiritual preparation by Lloyd Gius and Pat Moore. Discussion groups, led by Betty Jackson, Pat Peterson and Patt Olmsted, followed. Bill Buckley talked to the mission of the Church in our present world.

Folk dances, led by Betty Gray Dorman and Don Drapeau, bridge, refreshments, taking around the hearth of an open fire, and a little sleep turned the night into morning. Everyone awoke frozen, but happy as they struggled to keep awake during breakfast.

More discussion groups followed the summation by Bill Riddick. A worship service planned by Doris Talley closed the retreat.

Just Who is Joe College?

(ACP)—Who is today's student? What does he believe? Hardly a magazine remains which has not attempted some definition of Joe College: 1958.

Here a college journalist outlines his ideas of what the student is according to what he feels.

SILENCE VERSUS SAPATHY

And then there's the story of the man who went to his psychiatrist. In the usual battery of Koltschach, T.A.T.'s and LQ tests, the good doctor drew a triangle on a sheet of paper and directed it to the patient, asking "What does that remind you of?"

The man looked at it and answered promptly, "Sex."

The doctor got the same response when he had drawn a circle, a rectangle, and an ellipse, and said "Son, you need help."

"But doctor, the patient protested, 'you're the one that's drawing the dirty pictures.'"

This sort of suggestion analysis, in the age of the engineering of consent, the depth study, motivational research and the "pr. man, has now been applied to the student in a somewhat dirty picture of apathy. He is, according to his critic, one of the best generation, or the best young men, or, as a recent issue of TIME puts it, one of the no-nonsense kids.

All of these accusations seem to point nowhere in particular except to those generalizations proffered by your granddaddy and mine about "this younger generation." Today's students have been called the "silent generation" for their lack of literary champions, the loud and clear voices of earlier campuses, which were regarded as symbols of unity.

This generation appears to have nothing to say, no radical philosophies to offer, perhaps these students of the past were too quick to voice their now-faded theories. Their mindless devotion to the hasty sign of apathy. The quick answer is not the forte of the student of today. He must retrench, for new ideas cannot grow without strong roots in the knowledge of the past.

Did vigorous outbursts of oratory and bravado from the ivory towers do much to change the world? Despite the righteous bonfires of the thirties, scrap metal went to the Orient, and American businessmen sold celluloid toys MADE IN JAPAN. College students were expected to be noisy, zany, and idealistic; out in the cold, cruel world, they would soon learn to be realists. The occasional sparks of genius was an element treated as lightly as the hazing prank.

The great Albert Schweitzer, who seems to have achieved serenity in a world which had forgotten this gift, was once asked what he thought of the future of Europe. Schweitzer, musician, doctor, and theologian, hunched his shoulders and said: "My business is ethics, not prophecy. What's the use of talking about it? Perhaps all the talkers will be toppled in the end."

The danger in silence which becomes a habit, when intellect atrophies. It is this problem with which critics of the college student are concerned. Although Ambient psychologist Robert Birney may be right in his statement that college students are "too concerned with their psychological well-being," it does not seem that the student's eccentricity stops there. His intellectual aims are searching for a credo which will serve our complex existence.

Must we then, accused of "apathy," speak out to induce the future, when the past has proven successful in creating a world threatened by atomic destruction?

Presbyterians Attend W.F. Conference

Eight members of Westminster Fellowship attended the Fall Synod Conference of Westminster Fellowships at Camp Howe Hope near Chapel Hill, November 8-10.

The speaker for the week-end was Dr. William Oglesby of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Virginia. Dr. Oglesby's talks centered on the theme of the conference, "The Holy Spirit and Christian Witness." Discussion groups led by prominent adult leaders in the Synod followed each of the talks.

Many colleges in North Carolina were represented and the group engaged in recreation, informal talks, and fellowship.

Attending from HPC were: Louisa Oterson, Louise Harris, Diane Johnson, Liz Petersen, Joe Spangler, Ed McNatt, Otis Bornhous, and Wendell Kelly.

Tau Kappa Epsilon 1958 Champion; All-Star Football Team Selected

Ten Men Named

Three men from the champion Tau Kappa Epsilon team, two Kappa Alpha, two Freshmen, one Lambda Chi, and one Theta Chi comprise the 1958 All-Star Intramural Football team. The players on this mythical team were selected by their opponents on the basis of their outstanding play throughout the season.

The men selected for this honor were: Gil Baton, Al Bean, Gordon Cherry, Harold Wright, Marion Smith, Tony Wicks, Ken Prosser, Tony Miller, Mickey Scooter Dan, and Tony W. King. There are two teams in the league, one due to the fact that some of the best men had to be in the backfield selections. Baton and Wright of Tau Kappa Epsilon were the two best players on the back line while Gordon Cherry was the best offensive player. The other selection was Al Bean, a center, who was the mainstay of a high Kappa Chi line.

And for the first time in Hight Point history, a Lambda Chi player, Ken Prosser, was selected. Prosser, a Freshman, was one of the best players in the league, and his appearance in the backfield was a real surprise to all those who thought it was impossible for a Lambda Chi player to play in the backfield.

The same group of men who took the Kappa Chi backfield were: Ken Prosser, Charles Davis, Gordon Cherry, and Marion Smith. Prosser, a Freshman, was one of the best players in the league, and his appearance in the backfield was a real surprise to all those who thought it was impossible for a Lambda Chi player to play in the backfield.

INTRA-MURAL CHAMPS

Basketball Team Names Two Seniors Co-captains

Two seniors on the year's edition of the Hight Point Panthers basketball team have been selected as co-captains of the team. Steve Almonds and Marry Beachout are the two men who are supposed to step into the hard-to-fill shoes of Bill Hingee, last year's captain.

Almonds and Beachout, both team players last year's second place Panthers, will be counted on heavily by Coach Virgil York both in leadership and in performance. In the past both of these boys have proved that they are top notch boys on the court, but will have a tough time filling the able shoes of Hingee.

Last year in the North State Conference Tournament, some fell unable to play at all and Hingee had to play at great length. Both Almonds and Beachout are the only two players to keep the Panthers in contention until the last minute was blown. These two shows of such spirit, battle, and ability that they were both placed on the All-Tournament Team. Needless to say, it was the principle reasons that the Panthers placed as high as second place in the tournament.

It is a known fact that Hight Point College, tradition that it is, is a school of leadership and ability. It is no wonder that the Panthers placed as high as second place in the tournament.

PANTHER CO CAPTAINS

Unscored Upon

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, showing a great defense and a fine offense, took first place honors in intramural football by tying Lambda Chi Alpha in its last game of the season. This was probably the most important game of the season for both teams, for had Lambda Chi won the two teams would have been in a tie for first place.

So good was the mighty Teks defense that no team scored a single point on them throughout the entire season. With such men as Don Workman, Bruce Miller, and Tom Skidmore in the backfield, they showed a very potent offense. Especially effective was a running play with Workman carrying. The only blemish on the Teks record was the tie with Lambda Chi.

Playing second in what turned out to be a terrific race, was Lambda Chi which also produced a good team. Taking third place honors was a very sound Kappa Chi team. Surprisingly the Freshman team showed up very well this year. In past years the freshman teams have not done very well because of disorganization, but this year managed to nail down fourth place in the final standings. Taking fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth place were Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, and Pi Kappa Alpha respectively.

FINAL STANDINGS

Tau Kappa Epsilon	6	0	1
Lambda Chi Alpha	5	1	1

A WORTHY PROJECT FOR SENIORS!

While the senior class is thinking of a project, it would do well to consider the possibility of bringing paved tennis courts to the HPC campus. The old dirt courts behind the student center are definitely inadequate. They are uneven and are very seldom ever mowed off. When it rains little rivulets are left all over them and they become so wet that no one can use them for several days.

Perhaps it might be said that the courts are not used often enough to warrant spending that much money. Anyone using this argument has only to stay out there one clear day to see that the student participation is very good indeed. It would be even better if the school had adequate courts. Or perhaps the students alone do not warrant that much attention.

If it is the general consensus that the courts do not need improvement merely for the benefit of the students, think how badly the college tennis team needs a good set of courts. For quite some time now the varsity team has been unable to function properly because of the condition of the college courts. This is not the fault of the administration for it has had to concentrate on much larger and, perhaps, more important matters. Be that as it may, for every match and every practice the team has had to go off campus. This keeps it from being able to participate as it should due to inadequate practice.

There are various other reasons that could be cited, but perhaps one of the best is lack of support and participation. With the team never holding a match on campus, there is very little if any support by the student body. If, with the advent of new courts, the team could hold matches on the campus, it would get more support from the student body, and more people might try out for the team.

It would not be necessary for each individual person in the senior class to shell out the money to pay for such a project. The actual work involved would be for the seniors to get out and contact some of the alumni and other interested persons. All that would be necessary would be to ask each person for a small contribution. Think about it.

CONGRATULATIONS!

The HI-PO sports staff would like to offer its personal congratulations to those boys who were placed on the All-Star Team. This is quite an honor and each person deserved it. A special commendation goes out for all the boys who participated in football for their fine sportsmanship and great competitive play.

Student Comments On Football Team

The selection of the Tau Kappa Epsilon football team as the 1958 champion has received widespread approval from the student body. Many students commented on the team's performance during the season, praising their skill and teamwork. The team's victory was seen as a source of pride for the university, and the players were hailed as heroes. The student body expressed their confidence in the team's ability to continue to excel in the future.

PHI MU

Congratulations to Wini Stuart who was a finalist in the Miss High Point College contest. Sylvia Newton and Peggy Alfred were contestants.

Sylvia Holt and Shirley Yokley were in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Wini Stuart was elected cheerleader and Linda Samuels will be an alternate. Shelby Williams will be a cheerleader and Shirley Yokley will be head cheerleader.

Elbie Evans and Sarah Montgomery were elected as alternates to student government.

Phi Mu attended the community concert in a group. The pledge class is selling Christmas cards, and members are sponsoring the musical, "Gig."

Our 70th chapter was installed at the University of Wisconsin on November 8.

Congratulations to Shelby Williams who was pinned by Danny Sewell Nov. 15.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha is happy to add five new pledges to Delta Gamma Chapter, Monday, Nov. 17, Margaret Wilson, Ann Johnson, Roberta Ellis, Selma Hoyle, and Henry Ellen Atkinson were pledged.

This weekend the Zetas are planning a pizza supper followed by a shumber party at the Lanthicum's lake cottage. Plans are also in progress for the White Violet Ball to be held December 5.

Best wishes to Pat Moore and Lloyd Gims who became pinned on November 7. Congratulations to Erna Jane Scruggs, Barbara Ayers, and Martha Buffalo for being in Win's Who's Who. Congratulations to Barbara Ayers for making Ten Top seniors, and to Francis Ann Lewis, Pat Olmsted, and Helen Clay for being elected as Junior Marshals.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Congratulations to Alpha Gamma Delta pledge, Julie Young, who was crowned Miss High Point College on Nov. 17. Julie sang "Young and Foolish" for her talent and modeled a full length white formal in the evening gown competition. Julie has also been selected as a representative from the freshmen class to be in the May Court.

Congratulations to Corky Inwood, who became Mrs. Gene McFacken on Nov. 1.

A pajama party was held on Saturday, Nov. 22 at the home of Dot Byerly, one of our alumni. An informal party was held at the James-ton Legion Hall on Saturday, Nov. 15.

Alpha Gamma Delta is helping the YMCA with its membership drive by selling tickets to a basketball game between High Point YMCA and High Point College to be held Tuesday, Nov. 25 at 8 p.m. Student tickets may be purchased from any Alpha Gam for 50 cents.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

New Teks pledges include: Bob Boles, Don Candler, Allen Calloway, Keith Dodson, Zane Daniels, Harold Dickinson, Joe Gurnicki, Bill Helms, Wayne Hazelwood, Robert Mowry, Tommy Myers, Joe Morris, Ted Moore, Don Reber, Ralph Rouch, Ray Stafford, Chalmers Schriest, Ray Sheppard, Ken Samuels, Sam Taylor, Jerry Trotter, David Workman.

Tau Kappa Epsilon proudly welcomes these new men into our fraternity. They were formally initiated in Lindley Chapel on November 3, 1958.

The TKE Football Team became the 1958-59 Intramural Football Champions on November 11, following its final game. The record of the team was six wins and one tie, and it was not scored on during the season.

THETA CHI

The secret induction ceremony was backdrop for the initiatory degree presented November 10 in Lindley Chapel. Theta Chi Fraternity welcomes brother Tony Adams to its family.

The fraternity extends its cordial welcome to the twenty-four men who pledged Theta Chi.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

On Saturday, November 8, Ray Starrett, Keith Martin, and Rudy Passmore were initiated into the brotherhood of Lambda Chi Alpha. The national chapter vice secretary, Mark George Spasyk, was present for this occasion.

Alumni present at rush parties or initiation were Paul Jones, Murphy Osborne, Farrell Voss, Bill Pace, Ray Wicker, S. J. Parker, Bob Gage, Harry Gray, C. B. Crook, and "Slurp" Flynn. Also visiting on campus was Miss Joan Blackwelder, our Greeting Girl of last year.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON
On Tuesday night, November 4, Sigma Phi Epsilon formally inducted 13 new men into its pledge class. These men are: Jerry Hill, Ansonia, Conn.; Benny Martin, Morganton; Bob McCarty, Matthews; Chuck Miller, Waltham, Va.; Thomas A. Myers, Thomasville; Buford Overstreet, Bedford, Va.; Bobby Little, Charlotte; Dick Reunum, Westfield, N. J.; Fred Sigmon, Lincolnton; Pete Sturm, Midland Park, N. J.; Marion Sutt, Durham; Wally Unger, Fletcher; and Bill Webb, Maston.

Recent visitors to the Sig Ep section were Kay Hawkins, Lilli Bell, Paul Stanton, Bill Tyson, Lane Greene, Nick Sykes, Sonny Thornton, and John Barron.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Delta Sig is very proud to announce it's 1,500 pound statue of the Sphinx, one of our fraternity symbols. The Sphinx has been in the making for over two months and was made entirely by Delta Sig with Rufford Porter, our supervisor, doing the planning and art work. It is the only one of its kind in existence. Several other Delta Sig chapters have shown great interest in making one also.

We are equally proud to introduce our new pledges into THE BOND OF THE SPHINX. They are Phil Odell, Maurice Cole, Bill Cook, Ray Driscoll, Tom Ferguson, Joe Fulmer, Tom Gansman, Bruce Garabrant, James Morgan, Sherwood Nance, Charlie Riddle, Bob Malpass, Melford Taylor, Don Neal, and Al (Continued on Page 6)

HPC Students Poll Negative On Organ

by PATT OLMSTED

A letter to the editor concerning the proposed $50,000 organ has caused a stir among the students. This reporter interviewed many students to obtain a cross section of the popular feelings. Following are some of these students' answers to the question, "What do you think about the proposed expenditure of $50,000 for a pipe organ?"

MARTHA TURNIPSEED: "I think it is unnecessary to spend that much on a pipe organ with all the apparent needs still existing. We don't use an organ enough to warrant such an expenditure."

DON NESBITE: "The installation of a pipe organ is a great necessity to this college; if there is still enough money left for it after everything else that is needed is purchased."

BETTY GRAY DORMAN: "Music has a definite place in education but there are many other definite places for the $50,000 in the educational program of HPC. This money could be used for more urgently needed facilities on our campus."

KELLY JONES: "I can see places where the money could be spent more wisely. High Point College needs many more improvements before it needs an organ."

Other students expressed this same view, and in fact this reporter was unable to find a student who is in favor of spending $50,000 for a pipe organ!

S.C.C. News...

The Student Christian Council met at the home of Miss Bowman on November 10 with several important matters on the agenda.

The vesper programs have been planned through next March. The speaker schedule for the remaining part of November and December is: November 23—Dr. Peterson; December 7—Dr. Buzzelle; December 14—The Christmas Story read by Miss Idol, followed by Christmas caroling and refreshments.

Plans for Religion-in-Life Week to be held the second week in March were also discussed. The main speaker will be Rev. Carr from Durham. The theme for the week is the "Seven Deadly Sins"—Pride, Sloth, Gluttony, Hatred, Race, Lust, and Apathy.

Two resolutions were passed: one asking the authorities to include in the plans for the new chapel suitable rooms and facilities specifically for meetings of religious organizations; and the other asking the administration to return to the former arrangement for finances for the Student Christian Association.

Workshops Highlights NSCP Meet

Eight members of the Hi-PO staff represented HPC at the North State Conference Press Association meeting held at Guilford College Dec. 6. Elmer Hall, Fred Barber, Lin Barbour, Patt Olmsted, Carol Chapman, Ron Wailes, Bobby Yates, and Bob Wincherry attended the meeting. Other delegates were from Guilford, Atlantic Christian, Appalachian, Lenoir Rhyne, and Western Carolina College. East Carolina and Catawba are also members of the association.

After registration Martha Hawthorn, editor of the Guilfordian, introduced the speaker, Mr. David Murray, Mr. Murray, a Greensboro Daily News humorist and frequent contributor to the Post Scripts in the Saturday Evening Post, addressed four of the eight member college's papers. Mr. C. J. Key, a former editor of the Guilford paper and now publicity chairman for the cancer drive, analyzed the other four papers.

Workshops were conducted in various journalistic fields such as news, layout, editorial, writing, sports, and business. A special meeting was held for editors. Mr. Miles Wolff, Mr. Lane Kerr, and Mr. Irwin Smallwood, from the Greensboro Daily News spoke to several of the workshop groups.

After lunch in the college cafeteria, a report was made by Bill Nohlett, editor of the Appalachian paper concerning his trip to an Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Chicago. In the business meeting, conducted by Nohlett, conference president, it was decided not to solicit the membership of other papers but to wait until the conference is postponed before considering it. Plans were made to take on this matter. High Point was appointed to design a seal to be adopted by the Association to be used on letterheads and mastheads.

Winter Exam Schedule To Begin January 21

N. P. Yarbrough, High Point College Registrar, last week announced the schedule of examinations for the end of the present semester. According to Yarbrough, the exams are to begin on January 21 and will end on January 28. "TO BUY OR NOT TO BUY..."

Sorority members are shown above discussing plans to purchase a Pan-Hellenic house. The house, located on Montlieu Avenue, will cost the sororities $18,500. Patt Olmsted, a member of the Pan-Hellenic committee, is shown explaining the inter-sorority project to (left to right), Martha Turnipseed, Phi Mu; Glenda Radcliffe, Zeta Tau; Edna Rose Duncan, Kappa Delta; and Mary Lou Chapman, Alpha Gamma Delta.

Sororities To Vote On Buying Pan-Hel House

BY PATT OLMSTED
HI-PO NEWS EDITOR

Plans for purchasing a house to be used by the Sorority girls as a Pan-Hellenic House, were presented for a vote by Mrs. W. T. Powell at a dinner meeting of the College and City Panhellenics held Dec. 2 at the Sheraton Hotel. The vote was postponed in order to allow the sororities to vote in their chapters first.

Mrs. Powell, chairman of the housing committee, said that the house which at this time seems the best suited for the intended purpose, is located on Montlieu Avenue between the Cable House and the new college parking lot.

This house, on sale for $18,500, has four bedrooms, two living rooms, a den, a dining room, a kitchen, and two and a half baths. In addition there is a maid's room above the garage.

The four sororities, if this house is agreed upon, will use the back-rooms as chapter rooms in which they will keep their files and equipment, in addition to using them for meetings and informal gatherings. The living rooms, dining room, and kitchen will be used for informal entertaining.

Financing of the project will be undertaken by each sorority and the City Panhellenic. Mrs. Powell said that the college, for a fee of $115 each month of the school year, will be responsible for the phone, electricity, heat, and water bills, and will paint the outside every three years and the inside every four years.

The property will be divided to the college in an agreement will exist reserving the house for Panhellenic use only. The plans for a chapter house have not been formulated as yet, but it will be necessary to have a woman living in the house.

Mrs. Powell said that she realized the house under consideration is small and will involve some problems, but she emphasized that at the present it is the only one available which is convenient to the campus and suited for the use of the sororities.

If this house is selected it will probably cause the sororities to meet on different nights, since it is not convenient for all four to meet in the house at one time.

Furnishing of the chapter rooms will be left to the individual sororities. They will combine, through Panhellenic, to furnish the other rooms. It is hoped that alumnae will donate furniture in addition to their financial assistance.

After much discussion, generally in favor of the proposed house, the vote was postponed until Dec. 16.

The meeting was opened with some background material presented by Mrs. W. E. Lintbicum, president of the City Panhellenic. The city group of sorority alumnae was organized in the spring of 1958 in order to help the College Panhellenic. Immediately the college group asked for help in obtaining a place to meet and store their equipment. A housing committee was appointed and they began their house hunting. In addition to Mrs. Powell, the committee consists of Mrs. Herman Goble, Mrs. Virginia Leonard, Mrs. J. P. Armstrong, Mrs. W. A. Tomlinson, Mrs. Wini P. Green, Mrs. Hobart Bryant, and Mrs. Edgar Snider.

HPC Choir Leaves On Xmas Tour

On Dec. 13 the A Cappella Choir left for Florida on their annual winter tour. The group under the direction of Jack Fryhaver will travel through South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida performing a program of Christmas music at Methodist Churches and on one-TV station. They will arrive back in High Point on Dec. 20.

Engagements are scheduled for Dec. 14 at Wesley Memorial Church, Columbia, S. C.; WJFF-TV and St. Mark's Church, Augusta, Georgia; Dec. 15 at Trinity Church, Waycross, Georgia; Dec. 16 at St. Mark's Church, Ocala, Florida; Dec. 17 at First Church, Mt. Dora, Florida; Dec. 18 at First Church, Madison, Florida; and at First Church, Macon, Georgia.

The program includes "Gloria" from the Fifth Mass—Mozart (arranged and translated), "And the Glory of the Lord"—Handel, "The Watching Over Us"—Mendelssohn, "Here Yet Awake"—S. Bach, "Sleeping Story"—Dickinson, "Laudamus Te"—Muller, "Three Kings"—Williams, "Go Tell It on the Mountain"—Work, "Carol of the Bells"—Lentovitch/Wilbushky, "Carol of the Drum"—Davis, "Carol of the Shepherds"—Johnson, "Lullaby on Christmas Eve"—Christensen, "Hushing Carol"—Kuntz and a group of traditional Christmas carols arranged by Fred Waring.

Candace Setzer, Willis Stevens, Charles Vaughn, Tom Warren, Pat Wyckoff, Barbara Gibbs, Libby Grabin, W. B. Harrell, Jerry Kay, Betty Kiker, Jerry Kovatt, Arnold Kiser, and Peterson, Rhonda Robinson, Neil Stallings, Wini Stuart, Alice Sweetland, Bob Williams, Earl Whitaker, Ross Wingo, and Lin Barbour.

Drapeau Is Named House Speaker

In a called meeting last week the Student House of Representatives elected officers for the remainder of the school year. Don Drapeau, former president pro-tempore, was elected Speaker. Al Bevan was elected secretary pro-tempore, James Tutterton was elected Recording Clerk, Gilbert Berson Reading Clerk, and Gilbert Berson was also appointed Parliamentarian.

Drapeau appointed a Rules Committee and a Credentials Committee which were to present reports at the next House meeting. Al Bevan, chairman of the Rules Committee, has announced that a slate of 20 rules of procedure have been drawn up by the committee and are pending adoption by the House.

In a joint session of the House and Senate held prior to the House meeting, SCA President Fred Barber urged that the legislature give serious consideration to a new judiciary penal code which will be presented following the Christmas holidays. Barber further stressed that legislative members must be more familiar with parliamentary procedure and maintain dignity in the legislative meetings.

IFC Sets Dance Date

Interfraternity Council President Maury Beauchet recently announced that the annual IFC Christmas dance will be held this year on January 9 at the Lexington Country Club, Lexington, N. C.

The semi-formal dance, one of two traditional IFC functions, will be open to all students. The Royal Sultans of Winston-Salem are expected to provide music. Further announcements concerning the dance are expected from the Interfraternity Council.

MONASTERY OR COLLEGE

Less than a generation ago HPC students marched stoically into chapel services five times each week. Fortunately as the administration matured it realized that a college is not a church but an institution of higher education. The nightmare of forced religiosity began to pass and by 1930 the administration insisted upon only three chapel periods per week. After several years of growing pains the college adopted the present chapel-assembly compromise.

The monastery view is still very much embodied in the required Wednesday gathering. Protocol now requires a hymn, scripture, and prayer followed by anything from a lecture on the mysteries of the Antarctic to the selection of cheerleaders.

This awkward compromise makes for an inefficient and dull assembly. The college community needs a weekly assembly, but must it include a "worship" service? Student denominational groups and the SCA exist to offer opportunities for religious growth. Saint and sinner alike will admit that the mechanics that precede HPC's weekly assemblies hardly furthers the cause of religion on the campus.

In the interests of effective assemblies, sincere religion, and a better college we suggest the "operating exercises" be eliminated from the required assembly (E 11).

ECHOES OF YESTERYEAR

"The election of Marshals for the graduation exercises is creating much comment and discussion about the campus. Herman Coble, speaking in chapel in behalf of the senior class said that as the seniors had a little to do with the graduation that they should have a little to do with the appointing of marshals. Many ideas of appointing the marshals were discussed in chapel. Who shall elect, and who shall be elected seem to be the troublesome problems." (Hi Po, March 23, 1927.)

Intramurals Everyone?

"He has no spur to prick the side of his intent but vaulting ambition which overleaps itself."

This, with apologies to Will Shakespeare, might well describe Dr. Gil Hertz and his ambitious intramural program.

Certainly everyone will agree that an intramural program is both necessary and desirable as a part of our extra-curricular activities. But as Dr. Hertz's intramural program is set up it requires as much time as all other activities combined, including studies. Dr. Hertz is well meaning in that he has set up an intramural program in which all students can participate. However, this program has many faults.

In the first place the program is too broad and as it is now arranged fraternity participation is almost mandatory.

In setting up this program, Dr. Hertz failed to realize that fraternities have other activities which require their participation. Most important of these activities is the individual's self-educative work, which unfortunately must play second fiddle to intramurals.

I would suggest that Dr. Hertz return to the old but workable program of his predecessor. That is organizing the program for four sports only: football, basketball, volleyball and softball. (Under the present setup we have, basketball, football, golf, track, badminton, ping-pong, and tennis in addition to the four major sports.)

A well-balanced, personal program is important, but should be regarded in its proper perspective as a means to an end—extra-curricular campus activities.

Bob Wenders.

On Forcing Standards

It is a word of many meanings, to enforce education and the raising of a level of standards to meet the challenge of world civilization, it is pertinent to reality, that our college would strive to attain a high level of standards today. This gives the impression of the student body as a whole, to develop their young resolve into a creative, productive UNIVAC.

To make this a reality, High Point College has raised its entrance requirements to include only discriminate in terms of resolving, which of our class preparations, which of our staff were negligible, have now become so much needed to make class work the students' only concern, if done adequately and consistently. Some less professors attempt to make the responsible student aware of the real community and world conflicts and instigate thought-provoking ideas in terms of resolving these conflicts. Finally, through the cooperation of the college administration students have been allowed to establish governmental proceedings through which students might express their creative and productive ideas. However, does the raising of

Holiday Season Evident At HPC

One cannot travel far across the campus this week without sensing a little of the spirit of Christmas. Everywhere festive decorations and traditional carols set the mood of joy and wonder. High Point Greeks have contributed a great deal to this spirit through their annual Christmas service projects.

The Theta Chi Fraternity, with the help of the Alpha Gamma Delta, gave their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children on Dec. 16 at 7:30. Santa was on hand to see that all the children had a good time. The toys had been collected by both the organizations.

The Christmas story was told and refreshments were served. Christmas spirit was shown as the children received their gifts which were bikes, skates, dolls, and games.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and the Alpha Gamma Delta sang at the Presbyterian Home on Dec. 11.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity furnished North Hall with a Christmas tree. Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity has decorated the front of Woman's Hall with a Christmas wreath.

The Phi Mu pledge class is providing food for a needy family in High Point and also donating food to be used by the Salvation Army. The entire chapter will entertain at the Convalescent Hospital before the Go home for the holidays.

Zeta Tau Alpha and Theta Chi went caroling to the High Point Hospital on Dec. 15. They also sang at the Monticue Home for the Aged.

The fraternity and girls groups for their annual Christmas party Dec. 16. Christmas caroling around the area started the program. Entertainment was furnished by dormitory residents and refreshments were served. Instead of exchanging gifts as has been the custom, everyone contributed money to buy food and gifts for a needy family.

walked across the carpet to the inner office, and the secretary stepped aside from the door so that he wouldn't come near her as he passed.

Dr. English was seated behind him on the ground. He forced a weak smile, and, still standing before the desk, he began telling of the purpose of the program.

"I'd like to come to college here, Sir," John said. He went on to tell how it was financially impossible for him to go away to school, and how there was no other college near enough his home for him to commute. He said that he was interested in science and of his desire to attend a college with a good science department.

FRED BARBER ON CAMPUS

It was September, 1978.

John held his tall young frame erect as he walked down the long corridor of the college administration building. He thought he was meeting the gaze of the students as they passed him in the hallway. John was puzzled by the wrong his kind and glances and penetrating stares. "Liberty and justice for all..." John sneered as he thought of the mockery he was continuing to receive. The same liberty and justice were present here that caused the "White" and "Colored" signs to hang over water fountains, on buses, and on rest room doors.

John had always been like this. He had never been able to just to this world which denied him the rest and others like him—who were cursed by the wrong his kind and color, and were forced to assume the role of an inferior race. The howling and raging and beating that was demanded of him infuriated John, but he knew that to rebel against racial authorities could mean exile, and he was forced to continue his existence in the caste of half animal and half human being.

John paused momentarily before the heavy olive door and studied the gold plaque that read, "Dr. Joseph P. English, President." He and resentment caused an uneasy feeling in the pit of his stomach, and he heaved himself for his lack of confidence, took a deep breath, turned the knob, and stepped into the office.

Leather chairs lined the walls of the spacious room, with a thick carpet covering the wide expanse of the floor. John looked up from the disheveled desk. The secretary said nothing as she backed to the door of the inner office, still staring at John, and then disappeared. He almost immediately she came back into the room and announced that Dr. English would see him. John

Dr. English sat quietly for a long moment, gazing absently at a pencil he rolled backward and forward in his hand. Finally, clearing his throat with a low growl, Dr. English spoke. He explained why it was impossible for a grant to be requested. He told of the board of trustees' negative attitude toward integration, and of the bad publicity that could result if he came for the college if John were accepted as a student.

Disappointed and hurt grew and spread within John's breast as he listened to Dr. English ramble on with more excuses and apologies. Finally he could take no more, and with bitter tears filling his eyes he shouted: "Why don't you admit the truth? Why won't you say you're just like all the others... that you're prejudiced? You pretend to stand for freedom and democracy, but you're nothing but hypocrites! Do you hear me? Hypocrites!"

Dr. English rose from his chair and leaned forward with his clenched fists resting on the desk top. The veins in his neck and forehead protruded and his eyes flashed with anger.

"You people are all alike," he said. "You're always wanting to know because you can't have it. Why don't you realize that times have changed? Things are never like they used to be years ago, and you may as well get used to that. This is 1978, and you're out of date. Do you understand? YOU'RE WHITE!"

To Whom It May Apply

"Another fact that the universities are going to have to face up to very soon is that the whole moral terrain of this age is different from that of the age just past; that the moral attitudes expected of young people fifty years ago are non-existent today; that patterns of behavior that were then are nowhere to be found today; that 'ideals by which men lived' that are just past; that the moral elements of character that were effective then only create a laugh now; that the behavior that was everything then are important now." —"Some of My Best Friends Are Professors."

Panthers' Hopes Rest On Ability Of Dan Sewell

With the opening of a new campaign, a good many of the fans in this area will be interested in whether or not a certain junior from Kokomo, Indiana, will again be leading the Purple Panthers of High Point College in their drive for the North State Conference Championship. This young man is Danny Sewell who last year led the North State Conference in scoring with a 22 point average. Last year, as a sophomore, Danny emerged as the star of the team and was placed on the Associated Press State All-Star Team.

A great many of Danny's followers are wondering whether or not the knee which he hurt in the latter part of the season last year will bother him. This injury caused Danny to miss the North State Tournament in Lexington, and possibly caused the defeat of the Panthers by Lenoir Rhyne in the finals. Many people who attended the tournament felt that, had Sewell been playing in the finals, High Point would have emerged the winner.

After a slow start this year, Sewell seems to be gradually finding the range and is loosening up a little more. He made 18 points against Atlantic Christian and only 10 against Guilford, but against Pfeiffer he hit with an almost uncanny accuracy and collected 34 points. This is indication enough that he is improving. A great deal depends upon Sewell this year. If he can regain his old self-confidence, the Panthers may again be serious contenders for the conference championship. A boy like Sewell can make or break a team. His 44 points against East Carolina proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that the Panthers are going to prove this year.

Basketball Team Makes HP Fans Dream Of Title

Led by terrific Danny Sewell, the High Point College Panthers took over first place in North State Conference play by sinking the Pirates from East Carolina by a score of 95-76. Sewell lugged 44 points in leading the Panthers to victory.

Sewell, scoring from all over the court, was the star, but the remainder of the tremendous Panthers played a brilliant game. Little Jack Short had a hot shooting streak going in the second half which kept the High Pointers ahead of the Pirates. He played an all around good game. Ken Williams played very well under the boards and Captain Steve Afendis was the big play maker. Most of Sewell's baskets were scored on passes from Afendis who was a steady influence on the Panthers. This victory gave the Panthers a 4-0 overall record and 3-0 in conference play to give them undisputed first place. It also gave Coach Yow the opportunity of keeping the red vest belonging to East Carolina's Coach Porter. He obtained the vest last year when High Point beat the Pirates in the second round of the North State Tournament.

While High Point was beating East Carolina, the Lenoir Rhyne Bears played Guilford and won by 43 points to chalk up its first conference win. The Bears, like the Panthers, have an overall record of 4-0.

In retrospect, High Point led by Sewell, Afendis, and Williams from last year's varsity, and Jack Short, up from last season's junior varsity edition, soundly beat Atlantic Christian, Guilford, and Pfeiffer. Then came the East Carolina game.

The Panthers were well tested when they played Atlantic Christian, but Sewell and Afendis managed to pull them far ahead by the end of the game. However, when they invaded Guilford College it was an entirely different story. Mid way of the first half, with the first string not clicking too well, Coach Yow sent in a second string consisting of a number of freshmen, and these boys carried the Panthers to a ten point lead at half time. In the second half all of the Panthers got cold except Ken Williams and big Ken kept them alive with five straight field goals. Although used sparingly, Williams has shown a vast improvement over last year. Also furnishing a much needed spark was Jack Short who was all over the court and ended up as High Points top scorer with 12 points.

Against Pfeiffer Sewell came alive for the first time and led the Panthers to a decisive win by scoring 34 points. However, not to be completely overshadowed by Sewell's great offensive effort was that man Short again. Short collected 12 points and played a generally brilliant game.

Captain Steve Afendis has been the most underrated player of the team as his play has been steady in all games. Coach Yow has brought into a unit a team which has the potential of being great and should have a good season's record.

Basketball Game Makes OF Fans Brought ON Jail

A basketball game between the Los Angeles Lakers and the Boston Celtics on Monday night at the Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena was marred by a riotous crowd of fans. The game, which was a part of the NBA playoffs, ended in a 101-97 victory for the Lakers. However, the game was overshadowed by the behavior of the fans, who became unruly and began to throw objects onto the court. Several fans were arrested and taken to jail for their actions. The Lakers coach, Pat Riley, expressed his disappointment at the behavior of the fans and stated that he hoped the game would be a learning experience for them. The Celtics coach, Doc Rivers, also expressed his disappointment and stated that he hoped the game would be a learning experience for his fans as well.

FOR LIBRARY, STUDENT CENTER

Construction Begins On College Additions

Construction on additions to the library and the Student Center will begin sometime before the middle of March, Dr. Dennis H. Cooke announced recently. These additions, costing approximately $150,000, have been made possible through the recent campaign to raise funds for higher education in Methodism by the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church.

The extension to the library will extend perpendicularly behind the present building and will be the same height as it—five stories. This new wing will contain the stacks, able to accommodate 100,000 books, and a work area for the librarians. Once all the books are moved to these new stacks, the present building will be reserved for studying and reading.

The Student Center will be extended towards the girls' dormitories. The first floor of the new partition will be an enlargement of the present Bookstore, and the Post Office will be moved to this section.

A lounge will be furnished on the second floor, Dr. Cooke said. "This room is intended to provide some atmosphere." It will be furnished with over-stuffed chairs and sofas, and will have tables and lamps. Open to the students, faculty and their guests, it will serve as a reading and visiting room.

The third floor will be extended to include the present third floor which has never been used. The section above the present building will accommodate Lindley Chapel and may be used by religious organizations for meetings. The new portion of the third floor will be divided into three parts to be used by the Student Government Association, the ZENITH staff, and the Hi-PO staff.

The present Lindley Chapel will be converted into much needed classroom space. The space in the Tower now occupied by the ZENITH, Hi-PO, and the Fellowship Teams plant committee, will be divided into two larger rooms and furnished for the women and men day students. Dr. Cooke commented that these were not the final improvements to be made in these areas, but that they would be the last until more pressing needs are met. Construction is to be completed by August 24, 1959. There are no immediate plans for the next building improvements to be made but it is certain that there will be more later.

Four Students To Sail On Caravan

OLMSTED WACHS

CHERRY NICKS

All four students from HPC who applied to go on the European Caravan sponsored by the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church have been accepted. Sylvia Nicks, Patt Olmsted, Ron Wach, and Corbin Cherry all will set sail for Europe on June 6, 1959.

The Caravan will be composed of four young men and four young ladies of college age, plus two adult counselors, who will be the Rev. and Mrs. Willis B. Stevens of Rockingham. The other students are from West Carolina College, Davidson College, and one is out of school. The Caravan seeks to bring its members into direct personal fellowship with the Methodist people in Austria and Germany. The Caravanners will live in the homes of the people, contact worship services in churches, lead fellowship meetings, and work with their hands to improve church buildings and facilities.

Before reaching the scene of its work in Austria and Germany, the Caravan will travel in England, France, Switzerland and Italy. This will be a period of intense preparation, service, interspersed with sightseeing tours to places of interest.

Each youth is responsible for his own support. Usually the $975 is raised by churches interested in the individual concerned. The conference pays the way of one of the counselors.

After filling out intense application blanks, the students were interviewed in Greensboro by the Caravan committee. They were notified of their acceptance four days after the interview.

Sylvia Nicks is a junior from Roxboro. She is majoring in religion and sociology, has participated on Fellowship Team, helps at Lindsey Memorial Church in High Point and is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority.

Patt Olmsted, from Arlington, Virginia, is majoring in English, is a Y-Teen advisor, and has worked in her local church. Fatt is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Ronald Wach is a junior from Pittsboro majoring in political science. He has participated in Fellowship Teams, has his preacher's license, and is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Corbin Cherry also has his preacher's license, is a history major and is a member of Kappa Chi Fellowship, and an associate of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Corbin is from Hertford.

'Seven Sins' Is Theme For SCA Project

Dr. Warren Carr of Durham will discuss "The Seven Deadly Sins of a Student" March 8-11 as a part of Christianity-in-life Week. The period of religious emphasis is a annual project of the Student Christian Association of High Point College.

The seven sins: pride, lust, intemperance, discrimination, hatred, indifference and extinction, will be the areas of concern. The week-long emphasis will utilize speakers, special music, art, and drama.

Previewing the theme, "The Seven Deadly Sins of the College Students," are the Sunday evening verse programs. According to Mary Lou Chapman, verses chairman, the speakers will attempt to outline and develop interest in each of the seven areas.

Sunday evening verses are: Feb. 15—"I Am a Negro" by Mr. Charles Davies. Feb. 16—"I Might Be Killed" by Mr. Calhoun Geiger. Feb. 15—"I Am an Alcoholic" by Mr. Worth Williams. Feb. 22—"I Am a Beatnik" by the Wesley Players.

March 8—"Sex in Current Literature" by Mr. W. J. B. March 8—"The Seven Deadly Sins of a Student."

Study groups have been organized in each of the areas for interested students. During Christianity-in-Life Week these groups will conduct panels in each area of interest.

SANDRA PARSELL
Homecoming Queen

Homecoming Activities Are Slated

The annual High Point College Homecoming Day will be held on Saturday, February 14. A full day of activities, including a dance, basketball game, and crowning of the queen have been scheduled.

The basketball game between High Point and Appalachian will climax the day's activities. Both teams are ranked high in the North State Conference standings, and should provide an exciting contest. During halftime, Miss Sandra Parsell, 1959 Homecoming Queen, will be crowned by Porter Hanner, president of the High Point College Alumni Association.

A student-alumni dance will be held in Harrison Hall following the game. Admission to the dance is free; records will provide music, and refreshments will be served by the Student Government Association.

Alumni will register in the Student Center on Saturday morning from 10:30 until noon. The High Point Chapter, which is serving as host for the occasion, will be in charge of registration. Tours of the campus will be conducted throughout the morning by the host chapter, and will end at noon, when lunch will be served in the cafeteria.

During the afternoon reunions will be held for former members by many of the student organizations. Displays will be exhibited on the front lawn by the organizations, and trophies will be presented at the game by the SCA to the organizations sponsoring the winning displays. An open house for Alumni and friends of the College will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cooke from 3:30 to 5:00, preceding the Alumni Dinner which is scheduled for 5:45 in the college cafeteria.

Schedules of events and reunions will be provided Alumni during registration in the Student Center.

Twilights To Perform At Junior-Senior

John Davis, president of the Junior Class, has announced that this year's Junior-Senior Dance will be held March 7, 8-12 p.m., in the banquet room of the High Point YMCA. Bill Butler's Twilights will play for the occasion, which will be semi-formal.

All seniors and juniors are eligible to attend. They may invite dates from outside their class and from outside the school. In order to defray the costs of the dance, the Junior class voted to charge a dollar to each junior who attends the dance.

The Junior-Senior is an annual event sponsored by the Junior class as a means of honoring the seniors. All the plans and arrangements are made by juniors. This year the planning committee is made up of John Davis, Sylvia Nicks, Liz Peterson, Betty Gray Dorman, Patt Olmsted, Eleanor Davis, Harold Wright, Earl Whitaker, K. M. Vestal, Bill Moore and Pat Ray.

Stan Kenton To Play For SGA Dance

Fred Barber, Student Government president, has announced that the annual May-Day-Spring Frolics will be held this year on Tuesday, April 28, with music by Stan Kenton and his Orchestra.

Kenton will be conducting an April tour during the month of April, appearing at the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State College before his visit here. Recent recordings of Kenton's include Artistry In Rhythm, Kenton Showcase, A Concert In Progressive Jazz, Innovations In Modern Music, Stan Kenton Classics, Stan Kenton Encores, Stan Kenton Presents, Stan Kenton Prologue, and Stan Kenton Milestones.

Kenton's Orchestra will be composed of 17 of the world's most outstanding instrumentalists. The Orchestra will perform from 7:00 until 8:00 with a concert in Memorial Auditorium. The concert will consist of the jazz favorites for which Kenton is famous. From 9:00 until 12:00 the Orchestra will play for the semi-formal dance in Harrison Hall.

The May Day Queen, Miss Jane Martin, will be presented with her court during the dance intermission.

Barber also announced that Sylvia Hull, a senior from Winston-Salem, has been appointed by the SGA Executive Committee to serve as Student Government Secretary for the remainder of the school year. The office was vacated when former Secretary Pat Ray resigned to transfer to Woman's College in Greensboro.

FOR HOMECOMING

Greeks Will Hold Alumni Receptions

High Point College's fraternities and sororities will hold reunions for their alumni during Homecoming activities. The majority of the organizations will hold open house throughout the afternoon, and several will attend the Homecoming game in groups.

The Panhellenic Council will hold a coke party in the club room of Sutherland-Wesley Hall for the alumni members and friends of the four sororities. The four sorority presidents will hold open house in their rooms throughout the afternoon, and urge alumni to visit with members of the sororities during the day.

All six fraternities will hold open house during Homecoming afternoon. Sigma Phi Epsilon will hold an Alumni dance at the WOW Hut on Centennial Ave. Extension Friday night at 8:00. Delta Sigma Phi will hold an Alumni chapter meeting Saturday afternoon at 1:30. Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Delta Sigma Phi will all attend the Homecoming game in groups.

The Tower Players will hold open house in the Music Building for their alumni members and friends from 2:00 until 3:30 Homecoming afternoon. Films of former productions will be on display for alumni to see.

The College Choir will hold open house in the Music Building for their alumni members and friends from 2:00 until 3:30, and Alumni will join the present choir members in singing selections used by the choir in the past years.

Welcome Alumni!

End of Year Program at Senior Center

The yearbook staff is pleased to announce the start of construction on the new college additions. The project is a major undertaking for the school and will provide additional space for students and faculty. The staff is also excited to announce that Don Boston will be playing for the S&A soccer team. This is a great opportunity for Don to represent the school and compete at a high level. Memorial activities are also being planned for the upcoming year. These activities will honor the memory of those who have passed and provide a chance for students to reflect on their lives. The Caravan competition is also underway, with four students competing for the title. The 'Seven Star' project is a theme for the S&A project, and the end of year program at the senior center is also being planned. The yearbook staff is committed to providing a high quality yearbook for all students and faculty.

COMING HOME 1959

There are ten things chancey little bit here on the H.P.C. campus, there's one day when all this drama come back to slap backs and hit thumpers. All day they wander over the campus, trying to remember what they thought this year under a certain professor or laughing about the time one of them hid Dr. Hill's cigarettes. They review old acquaintances and try to forget some others.

It's quite a day. One sees middle-aged men with big cigars, who look across with his two eyes, puffing on and puffing on. Makes one wonder if he has ever had a child in it. It pushes a shiver down, sometimes it could be either one or other times it could be neither. The ladies, with their milk-stoles. I don't like the connotation of that word, talking forty miles a minute about their husbands, the price of coffee or the men they think they should buy married.

Some of them are tall, some short, some hefty, some letty, some round, some square. When they walk across the campus is a rainbow in sight. You see a heavy-set man stroll across the lawn, reach for a beer toward a group of boys talking, and say "Now, back in '22 we didn't do like that etc. etc."

There are some of the classes, listen to the lectures, all with a certain reaction to what they hear. After noting a change in the class, they remark to each other, "Boy, all these and some of these courses, we didn't even have them in '19. I suppose after they see on the picture exhibited they wonder if the modern generation even has a backbone instead of a notepad."

They come to the ball game Saturday night, probably making a few comments about the game or the players. I guess it makes them think if the baseball in '32 or back in '15 when the famous Novey baseball played on the team. Maybe it would do some good if it came back. They really whooped it up. Wonder if they'll be the next morning.

All in all they seemed to have a nice day back at their old stomping grounds. To us they might seem funny, to them we seem funny, so I guess we're even.

It'll be on like them one day, bay window et al.

POST OFFICE REFORM

High Point College offers many work scholarships by which qualified students may work their way through college. One such scholarship provides students to sort and put up the mail. These students are working under crowded conditions because of our increased enrollment and stuff which must be served by the inadequate facilities of the present post office.

This problem will be alleviated when the new student center is built. However, that will not be in the immediate future. Something needs to be done now to eliminate the confusion that has prevailed this year.

There have been incidents of letters which were postmarked a month before they even arrived in the hands of their intended receiver. In some cases this does not cause much hardship. But in many cases this has caused students to go without their allowance check, has prevented prompt answering of important letters, and has kept some from acting upon certain opportunities because of the time element involved.

Whether this delay is because the mail is not put up promptly or because it is put into the wrong box does not matter. What does matter is that no one seems to be doing anything about it. Last year a new system of numbering the boxes was initiated and a week later we were told not to use the new numbers. It seems that some efficient method of numbering could be adopted which would eliminate the duplication of box numbers.

Also, student cooperation in this matter is necessary. If a letter is put in the wrong box, the postmistress can't know about it unless the owner of the box brings it to their attention. An efficient system can be worked out through the cooperation of everyone concerned. But this system won't work itself out. Someone is going to have to rearrange the numbering of the boxes and everyone is going to have to help by returning mail which is put into the wrong box—P. O.

A Student's Farewell

Dear Friends at H.P.C.,

While we're young our inability to make decisions is excused. When we reach the adult age, we are expected to make wise decisions. No more can we be excused for choosing the "line" of least resistance.

Two months ago I was confronted with such a problem. I had to choose between transferring to Greensboro College and graduating prepared to face the mentally handicapped, or staying at High Point, the college I have come to love for many reasons.

Above all are the friends I have made in my two and one half years here. These include faculty and student. It is you I have to leave. To the faculty I would say: Thank you for the education I have gained. Not only that from books, but also that intangible education which you are able to give through the wisdom of years. You have helped me arrive at the decision for my life's work. Thank you also for the confidence in me expressed by my selection as a Junior Marshall.

To you, my fellow-students, I would say: Thank you for electing me to serve as Secretary of our Student Government. I regret not being able to continue serving you. Thank you for making life in a college dormitory a meaningful experience. Thank you just for being what you are, the heart beat of H.P.C.

While at Greensboro College I will try to be a good member of their student body. But I will never lack my loyalty and allegiance to High Point College. I will always be interested in anything happening at H.P.C. I will come back often to visit. And I sincerely invite you all to visit me at Greensboro College.

This year's Homecoming will have special meaning for me, for I will really be coming Home.

Best wishes for you all,

Complaint from The Hill

Dear Editor

If a man buys a pair of pants in a local clothing store and the first time he wears them they shrink six sizes, he is perfectly within his rights to demand his money back, or that the garment be replaced. If this is true, we may extend our theory...

When a student, or parent, writes a check to the college, he is presumably paying for shelter, food, and recreation. If either is not delivered, the student, or parent, is within his rights to shout loudly, "I've been gypped!" Naturally, he should first to the college, chances are his complaint will be examined and concessions made. If not—who knows what his recourse could be?

The shelter keeps the rain out, the food keeps us going, but IS THE INSTRUCTION BEING DELIVERED? Well, in most cases, yes. BUT we are still within our rights to demand ALL our money's worth. If our proverbial pair of pants shrinks six sizes or one, we still deserve a refund. In the case of instruction let us not think of refund, REPLACEMENT is our word.

In the past two or three years our faculty has been improved considerably, but a few "loungers" teachers have been overlooked in the... (better not say cleanup, the reader may change his own word). A tenure teacher is one who has been here for so long that his release would involve a considerable amount of red tape.

Our administration is capable of handling red tape by the mile, but there must be something to start the tape-machine rolling. That's where we, the students, come in...

A lazy, incompetent, or just plain stupid teacher should not be considered a choice to loaf, but a "gypped" please shout it or whine it—to the right person. Our college officials would probably like very much to know if some teacher is not delivering.

If anyone is moved by this article, or otherwise to shout, "I've been gypped," please shout it or whine it—to the right person. Our college officials would probably like very much to know if some teacher is not delivering.

From The Top Of The Tower

by CHARLES JOINSON

Gerald Fitzgerald, Pat Fitzgerald, and I were sitting in the back booth in what is known in some circles as Mr. Cobley's "Buddies". As we drank black, sweetened coffee, we passed opinions back and forth among us as to the quality of the basketball referees in the North State Conference. The opinions were definitely "I have no idea." In fact, they sounded much like I imagine the opinions of the Klus Klan are regarding the NAACP or vice versa. Gerry said, "That Naavley is the worst of the lot, and he proved it at Hickory. But he is not the only one any means. In general the referees of the N.S.C. are incompetent."

Pat said, "From the games I have seen, I have to agree with you. However, I have only seen games in which High Point participated, and I fear that my opinions may be somewhat biased."

I said, "I saw a game at E.C.C. between E.C.C. and Lenoir Institute, and the officiating was just as bad. The sorry quality of the officials is pretty universal in this conference."

Pat said, "Perhaps we should speak to Doctor Hunsaker, and see what could be done to alleviate the situation."

Doctor Hunsaker? Gerry and I spotted in unison.

"Yes," said Pat, "he is the president of the N.S.C."

As we were thinking about this bit of information and its possibilities, Saphronia Pumphandle entered and plopped down beside me, so began imparting gossip at a confining rate.

Shortly thereafter Clara Clatter and Buddy Buxley entered and crowded into the booth with us. They began at once to exchange inanities, clichés, pasted epigrams, and glowing generalities, spiced then with the gravity of ancient Greek philosophers. During this interlude Pat and Gerry kept a frosty silence, but I participated moderately. Presently the others departed leaving once again just Pat, Gerry, and me at the booth.

Gerry said, "The preponderance of students at this college shows a remarkable ability for the rational denial phases of college life. And when they do show an interest in the quality of education, it is merely to compare grades, notes, and errors. One rarely finds a good discussion of a universal subject, and when he does find it, it is only the general griping that barely scratches the surface of the subject matter and produces no sound thought opinions."

The Russian Situation

Ten little Bolsheviks feeling mighty fine.
One made Nikita mad.
Then there were nine.
Nine little Bolsheviks still feeling great.
One eyed Nikita's job;
Then there were eight.
Eight little Bolsheviks looking up to heaven.
One made a speech for peace;
Then there were seven.
Seven little Bolsheviks in an awful fix.
One read "Zhigago."
Then there were six.
Six little Bolsheviks lucky they're alive.
One liked Americans;
Then there were five.
Five little Bolsheviks feeling sad and sore.
One urged disarmament;
Then there were four.
Four little Bolsheviks up in a tree.
One dropped a secret;
Then there were three.
Three little Bolsheviks in an awful stew.
One knew a bit too much;
Then there were two.
Two little Bolsheviks wishing they could run.
One turned the other in;
Then there was one.
One little Bolshevik lying down to rest.
With nine ugly grinning ghosts sitting on his chest;
Thinking of the crimes he did, full of dreams that burn.
Staring through the lonely night, waiting for his turn.

Fraternity Pin; Synbowl Or Ornament?

by MEL BUSBIN, HI-PO Fraternity Editor

Many fraternity pledges will soon be initiated into various brotherhoods on the High Point College campus. For the first time they will be the proud wearers of that long-awaited fraternity pin—they will be fraternity men. But will the pin mean what it should to them? Will they live up to all the ideals for which the pin stands?

Too many initiates join Greek letter societies with the idea that they can let the operation of the chapter rest on the shoulders of only a few members. Too many members forget it is a privilege to be a part of a fraternity. They forget that with such an honor and privilege certain obligations and duties must be assumed and fulfilled on their part. Many take their organization for granted, and let the other fellow assume their obligation along with his own. Everyone cannot be a knave but everyone can be a doer. For this reason every initiate should understand the importance of carrying his share of the burden and responsibility of his chapter before he assumes the responsibility of wearing his pin.

The fraternity pin is symbolic of much effort and work on the part of the founders and leaders of the past, leaders who were seeking and found something of which they could be proud. Greeks as individuals should know what their founders were striving for and they should wear their pins with the understanding they are pledged to uphold these ideals for which their individual pins stand, and at the same time strive to improve their organization. The fraternity pin is not just a means of communication and attire, it is valuable for something for which the wearer should be proud to stand. Will you?

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The first two meetings have been very active for the brothers of Delta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha. After the holidays everyone returned to school ready for a great new year. A formal party was held the first week and after all were back. To end a wonderful first semester was an international ball with couples, among dressed as natives of different countries. Brother Jack Zimmerman and his date won first prize representing Ireland.

Events were crowd to all of our pledges with 17 out of 29 making their "C" average. Congratulations are in order for these brothers to be. On the social calendar for the next month is our annual Ganesha Ball and the Sweetest Girl dance. In the way of sports, our basketball team took sharp and hopes for another first place in the field.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Get your High Point College license plate from any Sig Eps and $1.00. Sig Eps were on duty at January 9, by an annual party. We are looking forward to having our Alumni visit us during H20 coming and we will honor them by a dance on February 13. The pledges are looking forward to the formal initiation in early March and their first attendance to the Sig Eps Ball on March 7.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

January 10-11 have been designated as the dates for the installation of the T.K.E. grand chapter of High Point College, which is presently in the state of affairs. Approximately 20 members of the T.K.E. Chapter, including the T.K.E. President, will be on campus for this installation service.

Superior Sign Co. of High Point is in completion of a T.K.E. sign to be placed in front of chapter section. This sign will be a part of the fraternity building, was designed by the local chapter members and alumni.

In bidmont competition, T.K.E. finished the season by claiming first place points. Steve Mendis placed first in the studies, and Keith DeShon and Sam Taylor placed second in the doubles.

The entire Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity extends congratulations to Frater Jim White who graduated first semester.

THETA CHI

Nearly all brotherhoods are gathered at a bus to Thetacy for the Lenoir Rhyne basketball game. After the game a discussion with the Theta Chi Chapter at Lenoir Rhyne was given by Epistol Alpha.

February 7th is the date for a co-sponsored party for the brothers. The night before Valentine's Day will be spent at a Valentine's formal party at the Lenoir Deans' house.

The chapter is now in the process of publishing its first yearbook, titled HIGH POINTS OF THETA CHI.

Working ceremonies for William Roberts and Ted Spencer were performed before the beginning of the New Year. Congratulations to the newly initiated brothers through Little Lenoir. The chapter recently walked off second place in the volleyball tournament. The chapter is looking forward to the annual ball with couples on March 13.

The chapter is also well known for the capture of "C" section. He is a pledge project. Very interesting to the new men in which he is involved.

DELTA SIGMA CHI

Delta Sigma Chi men to volleyball tournaments by playing three games and by playing three players. Bill Wenzel, David McGuire, and Bob Weaver on the All Star team.

Brad's Lenoir Hike, who graduated in January, is now on the staff of the University of North Carolina. Graduated in sociology. Brother Greg Garner has played with the Varsity of Lenoir Rhyne College and Brother Fred Barber is on the staff of Miss Anna Starr of HCC. Brothers and pledges are looking forward to the state party and basketball game with Wake Forest Delta Sigma Chi, Wednesday, February 18.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

On last of January saw a candlelight ceremony for Thetacy Mitchell who is playing soccer with Jerry Hill. Thetacy is from Mulberry, Florida, and is from Ansonia, Connecticut.

In mid-January, Zeta Tau Alpha pledges were honored at a Sunday afternoon tea in the house of Mrs. Edgar Sinder on Ash Street in High Point. Used in decorations were pink and white balloons.

Zeta Week was the first week in February. During that time special services were held each evening with an informal party at the Bryant home on Colonial Drive on Friday night. As the week culminated with initiation on Saturday night, Sunday afternoon, the chapter was happy to see its number double. The night before SYMBOL Robert's Hall, 35-year-old symbol of High Point College, is still the center of interest and of education on a campus that has witnessed an average growth of one building per year for the last ten years. For returning alumni the towered building will recall many memories.

Critique of Education

by PAT OLMSTEAD

In the past year there has been a trend in the publishing world to praise one type of American higher education. The score of falling behind the Soviet Union has caused much of this talk, but the topic is not a new one. Over the years men of letters have expressed the lack of the business of our colleges and universities. Currently, America is not a deficiency in men capable of thinking for themselves and wants to know why the colleges and universities are not providing them.

Ideally, the college should offer the student a chance to develop a thinking man. Surely the purpose of a college is to produce scholars and to educate. The American Scholar he says, "In the night state by the scholar is Man Thinking."

George Williams, Some of My Best Friends Are Professors, does not study which showed that student-teachers feel that the college is not providing them with the results of their college education. Williams gives many such examples. William Faulkner and John Steinbeck attended college but were dissatisfied, and left before earning their degree. Jennings never went to college. Edgar St. Vincent Mills was disappointed. Scott Fitzgerald was a failure at Princeton, Kipling, Yeats.

Initiation each sister presented her little sister with a gold pin box ornament with the Zeta crest.

Smiley Lloyd has joined the choir, bringing the number of Zetas enrolled to six. Three Zetas appear in "Crab Craz" are Pat Wycoll, Sordley, and Barbara Harrison.

Coming events include Procter Workshop, at Duke University with Phi Chapter, and State Day, to be held in High Point.

PHI MU

Phi Mu continues to have meetings. Queen are Shelby Williams, Peggy Deaton, Wini Stuart, and Sylvia Hill. She has been able to demand courses which have been denied members and therefore are required.

When, at the end of a lecture, a professor asks for questions and only receives blank stares in return, how is it to know if he has gotten his ideas across? Usually it is futile for a professor to even ask for questions because, except for a few, the rest of the students are not listening, passing notes, gazing out the window, or writing letters.

There can be no appreciable increase in the effectiveness of our institutions of higher learning until the motives of those who attend these institutions reach a level which will encourage, even demand, better professors.

William Faulkner and John Steinbeck attended college but were dissatisfied, and left before earning their degree. Jennings never went to college. Edgar St. Vincent Mills was disappointed. Scott Fitzgerald was a failure at Princeton, Kipling, Yeats.

Library Habits and Quality Points

by BILL THORNTON
Arkansas State Herald

Does the thought of studying make you as tired as if you had ironed all day in high heels? Why you look at an exam, do you wonder if you're in the right class room? If your answers to these questions are "yes," and you aren't concerned, don't bother to finish this article; you're letting the pinball machine get cold. However, if you would like to bring your grades—all of them—by at least one letter—read on.

Before you accept this intellectual bomb, let's cook up an imaginary situation for you to try on for size. Take English. You have to, you know. Suppose you got a low "C," and your instructor just can't paint a lesson on your subconscious like he'd redecorate the kitchen—you've got to read the newspaper, and almost at least keep your eyes open in class. He should be able to expect that of you. ANY case.

From there on in, you can work a miracle just by spending some time in the library. You don't have to admire yourself just go in, sit down, and read the assignment.

Make a note of things which seem to be stressed in the paragraphs. The atmosphere in the library is conducive to concentration—it's easier to keep your mind when you're reading. You'll remember from these easy-going sessions.

Now, this is a sound idea, like even though you can get a "B" instead of a "C" by doing it. Well, man, this place wasn't laid out to be a library. You can't get the best of check in once in a while. Industries on the outside aren't holding their breath until you get the best. You'll be fighting for a job when you get out of school. It'll be your duty to get the best of the library. You'll be counting now. You'd better be learning how today.

Editor Comments On 'Beats'

(ACP)-So, ours is a "Beat Generation." After this, not unfortunate. But don't worry your heads about it. Right after that, there will be another, more fashionable, term for the beatniks. The beatniks are the beatniks, we are so safe and American. We are, at least the comfortable majority here, the beatniks, the beatniks, the beatniks, so what can we possibly have to worry about?

"Beat Generation," the hipsters? Why, we probably wouldn't recognize a hipster if one tapped us on the shoulder to ask for a match or a handout. (Maybe hipsters don't even ask for matches—and handouts.) He would be just another one of these nameless "lost souls" we've heard about who eat and sleep and sin and go hungry without the consolation of a few dollars in the palm of God's hand.

There is America, the cornucopia of the world, the land of liberty, equality, democracy, Christianity (and in Philadelphia, brotherly love) where the terms fratricide and genocide are so common that they might become so common that they can't face their families, corn and wheat are burned on the black soil of the west, while pigs rot in line under the slums of New York, Detroit, San Francisco are hungry.

We are willing to risk international war over aggression in Quemoy, while Negro children who don't understand the terms fratricide and genocide are so common that they can't face their families, corn and wheat are burned on the black soil of the west, while pigs rot in line under the slums of New York, Detroit, San Francisco are hungry.

This is most unfortunate. One often hears the story of a Jew who died for what he believed in, for what he tried to teach. Then there are the vague, the confused, the hipsters, the beatniks, the beatniks, who don't know what to believe in, what to live for. . .

HPC Faces Tough Slate

Cheek Adds Strength To HPC Squad

by RED CHURCH

Wayne Cheek, a twenty-year old junior from Morehead City, N. C. recently joined the ranks of the high-stepping High Point College basketball club, and has shown himself to be a big help in the Panthers' quest for the championship. Coach Virgil Yow had nothing but praise for the 6-7 Cheek during a practice session earlier this week.

In only four games of play Cheek has already established himself as a conference threat with an average of 11.5 points and five rebounds per game. His floor work and play-making have been exceptional.

During high school at Morehead City, Cheek was twice placed on the All-Conference Team and made the All-State Team his senior year. He attended Coach Yow's summer basketball clinic while in his senior year. Yow recalls that Cheek was one of the more promising players.

After high school he accepted a basketball scholarship to the University of Richmond and played under Coach Les Hooker. He was a varsity starter for the Spiders of Richmond for one and one-half years.

One year ago Cheek, remembering a scholarship offer from HPC, called Coach Yow and made arrangements for transfer as he yearned to return to North Carolina to complete his education.

Cheek's two most ardent fans are his wife, Gloria, and Beverly, his twenty-one month old daughter, who attend all of the home games. During the summer, he works in his father's hardware store in Morehead City. Cheek is a Business Administration major, and his favorite pastime is fishing and hunting. He is a very quiet individual who has a friendly smile for everyone.

Cheek is admired and respected by his teammates, and is the topic of discussion in many basketball conversations around the campus. He is regarded as a key figure in any chances which the Panthers have of taking the North State Conference championship this season.

Panthers Meet Apps In Homecoming Tilt

by DALE BROWN

Two weeks remain in the North State Conference regular season championship race, and what a race it is as Western Carolina, High Point, and seasoned Lenoir Rhyne battle to the wire for first place honors. High Point has four very important conference games left to play during the next few days, plus a contest with South Carolina's Little Four conference rival.

When this was written, the Catamounts of Western Carolina, led by Sweede Frauson, held down the top position with a fine 10-2 record. The Purple Panthers of High Point met this high-flying quintet on Wednesday at Cullowhee in a "must game," since High Point stood in second place one-half game out with a 9-2 record.

High Point moved into the second place slot last Saturday night when Coach Bob Light's Appalachian Mountaineers chumped Lenoir Rhyne from a tie for first place to the number three spot (9-3) with a 69-60 win. This same Appalachian club will be in High Point Saturday night for the annual Homecoming Game.

Next week Coach Virgil Yow's high scoring club travel to East Carolina College in what could prove to be the Panther's toughest contest. It is almost certain that Danny Sewell & Co. will not pin as big a setback on the Pirates as the 19 point victory here last December.

Tough and ready Dick Whittis and Tommy Schlarl lead the Bears of Lenoir Rhyne into town next Saturday night in the final regular season game for both squads. The Bears already own one win (66-60) over Coach Yow's club in a highly disputed game two weeks ago and will be tough to stop.

In the Homecoming game with the Mountaineers on Saturday, the Panthers will have their work cut out for them. Appalachian has a young ball club which is currently holding down fifth spot in league competition (7-5). High Point had little trouble in stopping the Mountaineers in Hickory, a little more than a month ago, but Coach Yow is far from taking this game lightly. With High Point needing four wins to claim the North State title, the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow is still a long way off, but four strong performances and a little luck still keep it within reach.

The Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity produced an undefeated team to win the intramural volleyball championship this season.

All-Star Team Dominated by Delta Sigs; Lambda Chis

Delta Sigma Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha placed three men each on the All-Star Volleyball Team to dominate the selections. Two men were selected from Theta Chi, and one from Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Lambda Chi, Delta Sig, and Theta Chi showed why they had some good records in intramural volleyball this year by having so many men from their respective teams selected as All-Stars.

The All-Star Team is composed of Fred VanCannon, Dale Brown, and Charles Watson of Lambda Chi; Daryl McGuire, Bob Weinberry, and Bob Veary of Delta Sig; Don Sellers and Harold Long of Theta Chi; and Marion Sutt of Sig Ep.

By taking the volleyball championship, Lambda Chi managed to take over the lead in total intramural points. They took a seven point lead over Tau Kappa Epsilon who placed fourth in volleyball.

Close games were characteristic of the volleyball round robin this year as all teams entered were strong; any team could beat any other on a given night. However, Lambda Chi had the strongest and best balanced team, and thus was able to beat all other teams in the league.

The entry of two teams in volleyball by several of the fraternities presented quite a problem at the beginning of the season. Both number one and number two teams were thrown into the same bracket. This did not work out because, on a round robin basis, each team would have had too many games to play. To solve this problem, the number one and number two teams were placed in separate brackets.

The Lambda Chi number two team, also going undefeated, won the championship of the number two bracket.

"AND THE SECOND THING YOU SHOULD LEARN TO DO IS TO TAKE CRITICISM"

Closer Contact Sought

(I.P.)—In an attempt to bring about a closer relationship between University administrators and student government leaders, the Student Senate at the University of Denver held a recent meeting in the form of a joint dinner and group thinking session.

The newly initiated program, held in the Student Union, featured a steak dinner, addresses by administrative representatives and a joint brainstorming activity. The following points were presented as ideas for possible future programs of the Student Senate:

1. Making available all previous Student Senate minutes, possibly in the form of bound volumes, to both student legislators and interested parties.

2. The publishing in the campus newspaper of entire student organization budgets and the allocation of student fees.

3. The presentation to the student body of more accurate and detailed information concerning the administration's sensitivity to problems of student government.

4. Encouragement of honorary organizations to conduct more beneficial programs for students such as tutoring deficient students.

5. The improvement of communications between faculty and students on matters of curriculum.

6. Expansion of new student guidance programs.

7. A re-evaluation of all campus organizations.

8. Promotion of increased courtesy to faculty members from students.

9. Evaluation of functions of all student projects such as Homecoming and May Days.

10. The improvement of standards of dress and personal appearance on campus through the method of establishment of proper traditions.

11. A study of the student counseling system at the University.

12. Institution of a study of possible solutions to the fraternity and sorority population problems.

Cards Reveal Human Variety

Chances are that the kind old saint called Valentine would never guess that the rows of bright colored cards lining the walls of almost every store are in honor of him. Neither would he imagine that the day that is his, Valentine's Day, is the world's biggest card holidays.

MEDIEVAL CUSTOM

The custom of sending valentines dates from medieval Europe. Chaucer and Shakespeare both mention "valentines." The sentiments have usually remained the same through the years but the cards have become as varied as is human personality itself.

This year's cards come in varied shapes, styles and prices. You name the kind of person to whom the card will go and some card company has a "customized" greeting waiting at a local stand.

There are always the traditional styles for men, dad or the sweetheart, with flowers, blue sky, and pink hearts. For the handyman Madison Avenue artists have produced "you make it cards" in a large red box complete with paste and plastic scissors. If you have a budget on your mind there is still the traditional penny valentine, an ever popular favorite with the kindergarten set.

CONTEMPORARY CARDS

A new development in the card business has been the flurry of "contemporary" greetings. These narrow, Picasso-like cards with their short witty, sometimes biting verses are selling like hot cakes among the younger card buyers according to local clerks.

The contemporary cards also are of the "customized" variety. For instance, the unhappy wife can find a purple and orange card for her husband reading,

"You can love me and leave me Valentine."

For the cynic lover there is a long-eared poodle pounding a bongos drum with this verse,

"Who makes my heart beat with a wild delirio?"

Who fills my being with a warm glowing light?

Who seems to affect me with some mystical voodoo?"

Whether traditional or contemporary, elaborate or simple, beneath all the cardboard and color, the thousands of cards are a symbol of something necessary for life, something called concern, something that St. Valentine would have known all about.

I said, "The bookstore here has two purposes—to supply the students with their academic materials and to provide a place for a small part of their social intercourse."

Even at that," said Pat, "the social intercourse at this school is of the informal nature. Most of the students here have no grasp whatsoever of things universal and those that do, haven't an idea how to apply the universal to the daily. Don't misunderstand me! Almost all of the students here have been instilled with ideals, but they are fragmentary, disjointed, and often impracticable. Ideals should be a blend of human emotions and logic. They should be abstract and ultimate in order to be universal, yet they should not be rigid in order to be flexible and useful. Even steel has to be malleable before it can be made into a useful shape. However, if they are too flexible, they lose their altitudes and ultimate universality. It is just as impracticable to turn the other cheek in each instance as it is to take an eye for an eye in each instance. The former is too flexible, and the latter is too rigid."

Gerry said, "I have noticed that on this campus the majority of the ideals (valued) possessions one or the other of these faults. I have also noticed that although most of the students strive to keep their ideals pure, they almost invariably confuse idealism with ideology. The two faults stem from this confusion."

I said, "There is as much difference between idealism and ideology as there is between religion and communism. In fact, the differences are the same."

"True," said Pat, "and there are some persons who unscrupulously confuse ideology with idealism in order to stir emotions and warp minds for their own selfish ends. Therefore, it is not enough merely to instill students with ideals. They must be shown the relationship that exists between ideals and daily life. They must be shown the correct uses of ideals through logic. They must be taught to reason with their emotions and confound them with their reason, for only when we have learned to blend logic and emotion will we be able to conceive of a true and useful idealism."

Students Probe Cheating

Philadelphia, Pa.—(I.P.) A report submitted by Temple's Student Council Committee on Cheating calls for student representation on the University's Academic Discipline Committee and second, urges University officials to make the necessary arrangements for the institution of a system whereby all students may have access to old final examinations. Other conclusions in the report include:

- "Cheating is an almost totally accepted practice at the University.
- "Since it is apparent that any exam which is re-used will be accessible, no examinations should ever be re-used. Exams should be varied distinctly every semester.
- "It seems that in some cases new examinations look out to students. This may call for tighter supervision in the making and duplication of exams.
- "All too often proctoring is a farce. More attentive and alert proctors should be utilized to discourage any cheating that may take place during the examination itself.
- "The action taken by the Academic Discipline Committee should be publicized to make students aware of the penalties incurred through cheating.

PEM CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The PE majors met Feb. 2, 1959 and elected new officers. They are President, Jerry Koonitz; Vice President, George Smith; Secretary, Ellen Julian; and Treasurer, Gail Bolich.

The PE majors are trying to help improve the facilities and needs in the PE Department. In order to help support the PE majors buy a Homecoming badge from any member. The price is 20 cents. The PE majors are selling candy for 50 cents a box. The proceeds will go to the PE project.

Westminster News

On Feb. 3, Gilbert Beason presented a program on migrant workers to the Westminster fellowship. Gilbert worked in Ohio with migrants all summer. He showed slides and told about his job.

Feb. 27-March 1, several members will attend the State Westminster conference at Camp New Hope, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Monday, Feb. 9, Guilford College Westminster was host to the HPC group for a supper meeting at Guilford.

On Tues., Feb. 17, Westminster will present a program on juvenile delinquency. Anyone wishing to attend is invited.

Methodists Debate In Model U.N.

Last weekend, Greensboro was the site of extensive debate on three of the world's major problems as the second annual Model United Nations Assembly, sponsored by the North Carolina Methodist Student Movement, met at the West Market Street Methodist Church and Greensboro College. Delegates representing the views of member U.N. nations came from most of the colleges and universities in the state.

The purpose of the model U.N. assembly was not only to help students understand how the U.N. operates but to challenge them to have a greater concern in the affairs of the world.

During the session two addresses were delivered. The key note address was delivered by Robert Lee Hummer, a member of the North Carolina Senate and the founder and head of the World Federalist Movement. In his address, "Approaches to World Peace," Mr. Hummer stressed the fact that this generation has a great opportunity to reach the goal of world peace and that America, because of her great power, holds in her arms the possibility of world peace. He also expressed his view that we can achieve world peace not through diplomacy, but through international law. He closed his speech with a challenge to the youth of today to dedicate their thoughts and minds to the cause of peace.

In the second address, Miss Connie Curry, a member of the Collegiate Council of the U.N., spoke to the assembly on the work and program of the C.C.U.N. She also pointed out that many college students do not know about world affairs and do not care to know. She stated that there are organizations in the U.S. who desire to influence Americans against the U.N. Miss Curry called upon all students to support the United Nations and to help solve the problems of the world.

At the first assembly session Leon Murray of A and T. College was elected president and Jerry Brommer of Duke was elected vice president of the General Assembly.

The assembly began its real work on the second day when the three committees were organized and resolutions drawn up. The three problems debated were the seating of the Chinese Peoples' Republic, Disarmament, and violation of human rights in The Union of South Africa.

During the three remaining plenary sessions the U.N. debated and voted on the committee resolutions. The resolution to admit the Chinese Peoples' Republic called for the necessary two-thirds vote while the resolutions establishing a U.N. Disarmament and Human Rights program of apartheid in the Union of South Africa were passed.

Louise Temple of Woman's College was the chairman of the planning committee, which consisted of students from various colleges in and near Greensboro. The High Point College MSF played a large part in the success of this meeting. Six HPC students served on the planning committee. During the actual session Harriet Wright and Gary Cornell served as committee chairmen.

High Point sent two delegations to the assembly. Ben Zambrano, Matt Olmsted, Sherwood Nance, and Vance Davis represented Bolivia; and Harriet Wright, Allen Windley, Gary Cornell, and Elmer Hall represented Yugoslavia.

The HPC delegates reported that the model U.N. was a great success and they are looking to next year when more students will have a chance to participate in the model U.N. assembly.

"TIME TO GO, EVERYMAN!"

Arlene Lanzieri as Death, Elmer Hall as Everyman, and Herman Coble, Jr. as the Devil rehearse a crucial scene in the modern morality play "Everyman." The drama will be presented Wednesday night in Memorial Auditorium as a part of Christianity-In-Life Week.

'ORIGIN OF SIN'

Christianity-In-Life Week Opens With Play

The Rev. Warren Carr, pastor of Watts Street Baptist Church, Durham, N. C., will be the featured speaker for Christianity-in-Life Week.

MSM Makes Plans For State Meet

The North Carolina Methodist Student Conference will be held March 13 through 15 at the Wesley Foundation of Wake Forest College, according to Elmer Hall, state president. This year's theme is "Foundation of Faith" and the speakers will be Dr. Mack Stokes from Emory University and Herman Smith from Burlington. The cost will be $4.50 and should be paid to Annie Carr Boyd. All students, Methodist or not, are welcome to attend.

Discussion groups led by various campus leaders will provide opportunity for small groups to make helpful application of the theme to practical areas of concern. There will be an art display and a book display to aid religious materials to add to your library. The Conference will conclude with the morning worship service on Sunday in Maple Springs Methodist Church. The High Point College choir will sing at the closing service.

In addition, there will be small seminar groups. These will meet twice and each delegate may choose the group of his particular interest. The topics of discussion will be: The Church's Role in the South, Christianity and the Uncommitted Generation, Changing Concepts in Missions, Current Theological Trends, and Worship in the Methodist Student Movement.

Week. This is an annual week of religious emphasis sponsored by the Student Christian Association. This year's theme will be "Seven Deadly Sins of the Student."

The theme will develop the idea that sin is the condition of man when he stands in an improper relationship to God and his fellow man and that his sin takes concrete expression in the actions of man and actualizes itself in pride, intolerance, lust, hatred, discrimination, apathy, and envy.

The week will begin with approximately a hundred students and teachers, participating in a prayer chain held in Lindley Chapel from 6:30 p.m. Saturday to 6:30 p.m. on Sunday. The purpose of this vigil was to beseech God to guide and speak through this week, to the college community.

At 7:00 p.m. on Sunday night, in Memorial Auditorium, the student body will be introduced to the symbols of the week by means of a play, "The Origin of Sin in Every Man." This play, which features Elmer Hall as Everyman, Herman Coble, Jr. as the Devil, and Emma Lou Noell as the Voice, attempts to show how sin has its basic root in man's exaltation of himself. The play will be followed by a reception for Mr. Carr in the foyer of the auditorium.

In the symbol the sins are represented by a circle of black incorporating revolving figures of the letter "L," a cocktail glass, a big leaf, a fat, a winking, oblong eye, a "nothingness." The movement toward reconciliation is represented by revolving figures of the cross, the Holy Grail, the orange blossom, the handshake, the throne of justice and righteousness, and the world. The circle is broken by the letters HPS, a Greek symbol for the incarnation of God in Christ.

On Monday morning at the assembly hour Mr. Carr will reiterate this theme in a sermon on pride, in the auditorium. That afternoon at 4:00 there will be a panel discussion in the Student Center on discrimination as seen in the current racial problems. Members of the panel will be Charles Davies, Dean Harold Conrad, Wini Stuart, and Mr. Carr, with Dr. Frances Muldrew as moderator.

Monday night there will be a question and answer session at 6:45 p.m. in the Student Center, on the dating problems of college students. This will be led by Dr. Helen Canaday of the Home Economics Department of Woman's College of Greensboro. At 10:00 p.m. there will be a fireside chat with Mr. Carr in Woman's Hall. This will be an opportunity to relate the day's activities to the main theme.

"The Gospel of Bad Manners" will be the special title of the morning address of Mr. Carr on Tuesday. To be given at 10:20 in the Student Center, it will be concerned with apathy. That afternoon's discussion will be devoted to the state of international problems with a panel composed of Mr. Calloun Geiger, Mr. Carr, Bill Baker, John Shirley, and Dr. Joseph Berdal as moderator.

Tuesday night at 6:45 in the Student Center there will be a discussion of the problem of alcohol as it relates to the mores of the college student. This will be led by Mr. Worth Williams of Greensboro. At 9:00 p.m. Mr. Carr will lead a fireside chat in McCullough Hall.

Wednesday morning at assembly Mr. Carr will speak on love in a sermon entitled "Love Is Not a Feeling." The week will be culminated that night at 8:30 in a play "Everyman Today." This play gives allegorical representation to each of the seven sins. It attempts to show why each of the sins is deadly and will lead to man's own destruction of himself. The play will be followed by a community service at 11:00 p.m., conducted by Mr. Carr.

Each of the three days will be started with the usual morning devo-

Calendar Is Set For Congress

by RAY SHEPPARD

The second annual session of the High Point College Student Congress is slated to begin Tuesday, March 24, continuing through Wednesday, March 25. During this period halls submitted by the representatives of the different organizations on campus will be discussed and action taken on them. Serious participation is requested.

The tentative calendar for the 1958-59 session of the High Point College Student Congress calls for registration Tuesday, March 24, the first plenary session beginning at 7:00 p.m. of that day. At 8:00 p.m. the Congress will separate into its two bodies for the purpose of considering the bills submitted.

Wednesday, March 25, at 1:00 p.m. the second plenary session is scheduled to begin, terminating at 9:00 p.m. with the election of officers for the succeeding year. The opening of the 1958-59 Congress will follow, after which a social function will be presented.

The House of Congress, composed of the Senate and the House of Representatives, is designed for learning and properly applying the successful experience of the past to give students and campus organizations an opportunity to openly express, through representatives or delegates, opinions concerning matters of campus, state, or national concern. In accomplishing this end, added benefits will include the familiarizing of students with state and local government operations, the opportunity for learning and properly applying rules of parliamentary procedure, and a furthering of experience in public speaking.

Each organization may be represented in the Congress by four delegates, one in the Senate, three in the House of Representatives. The House applies to organizations having up to 30 members. For every 50 members above the first 50 an additional delegate must be appointed to the House of Representatives, thus insuring equal representation of the organizations. Those participating in the Congress must be given to College Personnel, chairman of the Calendar Committee, 125 copies of its bill, which are to be given to the Calendar Committee.

The bills presented for consideration will be of local, state, or national interest. In order that the complete calendar for the 1958-59 session may be prepared in advance, all bills must be given to College Personnel, chairman of the Calendar Committee, 125 copies of its bill, which are to be given to the Calendar Committee.

Harold Wright, president of the Interim Council, urges that each organization on campus give serious consideration to the High Point College Student Congress. Those selected as representatives should be students interested in the work of the Congress and all bills should merit sincere effort in formulation and dignity in presentation.

These devotions will be conducted by John Davies, Pat Olmsted, and Helen Chase, who will co-ordinate the service with the live broadcast.

Mr. Carr will be available for student conferences during the free time of the afternoons and evenings. These conferences will be held at the conference room of the Public Relations Office.

The week has been in preparation over the past two weeks through the vespers services and study groups. Study groups were organized in each of the areas and held at 11:00 a.m. in a vespers program in their particular field.

Across The Desk

A VISION THAT FADED

It came in like a lion and goes out like a lamb. Although someone first used this old cliché about the wavering moon called March, it's an aphorism applicable to describe the High Point Student Government Association.

Like the proverbial American space rocket it roared brilliantly with promise of success, but alas it sputtered and fell. An effective orientation period, a new constitution and a radical change in year-round structure all gave initial indication of an active and vital year for student government. But the creative spirit waned then died. No bills have been presented, no action taken. Leadership has atrophied and student interest has stagnated.

Student government is still on trial on this campus. No one wants to see an organization with such potential sink into the dusk of irrelevancy.

A problem even worse than the inactivity of our SGA is our apparent lack of concern over the problem. Why do we care? We offer a lion the complaint that we have no rights, but are we proving to ourselves or to anyone else that we deserve any rights? Whose responsibility is it to solve the problems that we have allowed to develop?

The present campus situation will change only when individuals commit themselves to intelligent action. Soon we will begin seeking persons who will be given responsibility of campus leadership. May we pick leaders with ability and a vision that will not fade.

THE DECLINE OF KX

The founding purpose of the Kappa Chi Fellowship was to stimulate the Fellowship, build professional spirit, and deepen the devotion of lives among its members. What has happened to this purpose now?

Kappa Chi has become over-run by a minority of juvenile, irresponsible, immature boys. The very thought that some of these wild-bunch preachers is appalling. The pre-ministerial students on this campus have been given a reputation of which they cannot be proud. By a small group of students who seem to think that they are immune to life's responsibilities. Their conduct in the cafeteria, at ball games, in classrooms, and on campus is childish. Perhaps they are suffering under the mislead notion that they are, by reason of their "heseravocation," free from the responsibility of becoming intelligent, mature men.

There are many serious, devoted pre-ministerial students on the High Point College campus. The majority of these have quietly withdrawn from the Kappa Chi Fellowship. The situation became unbearable for them. Instead of the majority—the sincere, capable, and dependable men—working together to make Kappa Chi the meaningful, mature organization it should be, they have each gone their own way. They have let a minority group represent them on the campus.

A brotherhood of the nature that Kappa Chi was meant to be, could be in inspiring influence on its members and on this campus. However, in its present decaying form it can only be degrading to the ministerial profession.—F.O.

An inactive organization, dead organization, whether it be on an international, national, state, or campus level. If an organization fails to take a stand on issues which it should, it is really only a shell. It may be called as an inactive organization. The Student Government of High Point College is by no means exempt from this accusation. Inactive that may arise as a what is the purpose of the SGA, and just where he the axes over which it has jurisdiction. The SGA is the working arm of the student body. It is the student representative and voice in campus matters who is elected. As the representative of the students, it should attempt to foster harmony and good will among the students, faculty, and administration.

Each student should realize that in the SGA, especially in the forthcoming Student Congress, there lies

FRED BARBER ON CAMPUS

I donned my freshly shaven face with Old Spice and then gritted my teeth until the burning sensation was gone. I stood for a few seconds checking out the reflection in the dresser mirror, decided it was all there, and then ran out to the car. This was a special night, and I didn't want to be late.

I left the car in front of the girls' dorm and listened to the click of heels against concrete as I hurried up the winding walk. I tried to imagine how she would look. This girl was a doll. She always looked good. I stood in the lobby and nervously adjusted my tie as I waited for her to come down. I thought over my strategy and rounded myself that I would have to play it cool. Maybe if I acted real nice and behaved myself I would rate a good-night kiss. I closed my eyes and smiled. It would be worth the effort.

She was wearing a light blue dress and a toothy smile when she came into the lobby. I held her coat and inhaled a long breath of exhilarating perfume. She thanked me, and showed me her teeth again, and we walked out to the car.

We went to a movie and I bought her popcorn and a coke. I threw out my chest with pride as we walked down the aisle of the theatre. This girl was a doll.

When the movie was over she asked me to go, so we did. I started a drive-in, she said she was hungry, so we stopped and had a sandwich, and she rode some more.

After what seemed like forever, it was time to take her back to the dorm. I held her hand and she made small talk as we walked to the door. She told me how much she had enjoyed the movie, the ride, and the fact that she liked Pop. I kissed her again and she hoped I'd see her again sometime.

I put my arms around her and she kissed me. She said, "Sorry, new rule. Can't kiss goodnight in front of the dorm. It doesn't look nice."

I walked dejectedly back to the car, thinking, "What a great night of fun." "Oh well," I said, "It isn't so far to W.C."

LETTERS

An opportunity for individual expression. If this opportunity were properly recognized and employed to the advantage of the great organization toward the efficient operation of the SGA would be accomplished. Do not allow this privilege to be lost.

Not all of the blame can be attributed to the students, however. The SGA itself must be a capable and independent organization. The leaders must not be individuals gloating over their desire to display authority and forgetful of the responsibilities of the office. The SGA must be ever willing to listen to reasonable problems and complaints offered by the students, and ready to take action on behalf of the student where action is due.

Many axes which need action by the SGA lie dormant at the present time. To mention but a couple: There is a pressing demand for the introduction of a point system, the present set-up a few persons appointed to eliminate the major office positions after election. Often times the SGA is elected to a position strictly on the basis of popularity, experience, and ability being taken into consideration and not on the basis of the election of the same individual, to major offices tends to occur a few.

The two situations mentioned above are not good. With the introduction of a point system each office would be designated a definite number of points, owing to the estimated time and work required in order to carry out its duties. Also, a minimum number of points would be set beyond which no individual may go. As the result, no one person would be overworked and the chance to hold office would be extended to more students.

Another situation meriting attention is in the area of student, faculty, and administration relations. At the present there appears to be a wide gap separating the harmonious association among these three bodies. It is a duty of the SGA to install a harmonious relation in this area.

The above mentioned areas are undoubtedly but a few in which the SGA should be active. The only means, however, by which these and other areas of campus life can be improved is through the untiring labor of an efficient SGA backed by the full co-operation of an interested student body.—Ray Sleppeard.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Power Politics in The Berlin Crisis

(Following are excerpts from the syndicated columns of Col. J. J. Stuster, recently assembly speaker on international relations. They are made available through the efforts of Charles Johnson, HI-PO Staff writer.—Ed.)

by COL. J. J. STUSTER

The so called Berlin crisis is nothing new in the history of the post-war relationship between the Soviet Union and the Western powers. As a matter of fact it was created by the very moment President Roosevelt, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill discussed the idea in 1943, and when the final document, on the division, was accepted and signed on September 12, 1944. The division of Germany was one of those acts made to satisfy the Soviet leadership during the war years, rather than to try to win a lasting peace in Europe.

So, last November, the Berlin crisis was only repeated. Mr. Khrushchev's announcement that the U.S.S.R. would evacuate East Berlin and hand it over to the German Communist Government, was not prompted by any pressing political or economic development. On the contrary, it was an act aimed at reviving the tense situation in Central Europe. If we consider that East Berlin has been station only some ten miles outside of that city; and that the whole of East Germany is still under the Soviet control, we can't fail to see that Mr. Khrushchev's statement had no practical value.

Advice From The Mailbox

(One never knows what will turn up in the HI-PO box and to show how bad we need copy we present this morsel from some HPC'er who prefers "Daddy-O-Goodies" as his nom de plume.)

So you want to be a college man? Well, Cat, step right into my den of misery, otherwise known as my dorm room. Now, did I let me put down a few summing up for the All American College Man.

Don't be bugled by some of the recent academic campaigns to tell you to do a subject of universal importance. Man! Just dig that phrase! You would almost think I had picked up some of that education jargon. First thing you know I'll lead you to think you are here for an education. Ever nod? Man, there's too much to do to college these days to take time out for an education.

Now, when you go to scratch out your schedule again, watch out for some of these traps and traps. Some of them are way out and will try to teach you something. If you play it cool you can avoid them. Some of the cats around here are critical of some of our dear old pros, but you listen for this criticism of "pure" pros and jump right in their classes, because they are the ones who are responsible for cats like me making it through college. They are sort of brothers to the ones who got me through higher school. You grab on to any of these and you will be free to carry on our glorious tradition.

Man, I got to move out now. I got to take a chit in the paper and let least that's what the little fella is going to say some quiet place and study something else.

—Daddy-O-Goodies.

It's obvious that the strong stand in the German dispute was the only way to handle the case. Now, when Mr. Dulles is in and British Prime Minister Macmillan is in the U.S.S.R., Moscow hopes that strong pressure and changed diplomacy may get her what she wants. Ever nod? Man, what's the Soviet Union ever done for the Western allies out of Berlin. In either case the Soviets would show successfully their strength not only in Europe but, especially, in Asia and Africa where they are trying hard to prove the efficiency of the Communist system.

It is up to us to show that we see through the scheming and that we can withstand the pressure. Unfortunately, almost always when the Kremlin takes up the initiative, many of our own people—Bona fide—attack our administration's policy which, actually, is indirect support of the Soviet Union.

The lack of public backing for our official foreign policy is due to two major reasons. First, it is the foreignization of this policy by our general public; and second, internal political pressure. The first is due to the average American from seeing what's behind the scenes. Consequently, the foreign affairs field becomes the domain of a few individuals. Some of them mean well, but are not understood; some make a good and prosperous career out of politics. A free, well educated and thinking American should be allowed to see what's going on and impose his opinion and wishes upon his leaders. . . . We are free—we are well educated; let's see if we can't think about the world affairs?

Indeed if we don't change our attitude to a chit in the paper and let least that's what the little fella is going to say some quiet place and study something else.

Dr. Arthur LeVey New Addition To Athletic Depart.

Dr. Arthur LeVey, McCulloch Hall dorm counsellor and professor of Romance languages, has been added to the staff of the athletic department in the capacity of tennis coach.

After graduating from the University of Denver and receiving his doctorate from the University of Chicago, LeVey entered the U. S. Army in 1935 as a commissioned officer and retired from the service as a Lieutenant Colonel.

Making a source study of ancient Spanish ballads for publication has been of major interest in his life, and thus far has taken twenty years of hard work. This project is his life interest.

LeVey faces a tough job when he enters this tennis season. He will have to begin on a tremendous job of rebuilding in order to put the Panthers in contention for a top spot in the North State Conference. Tony Adams and Tommy Loftis are the only returnees from last season's racquet squad. Bill Huegelo, runner-up in singles play in the conference last year, was lost through graduation and will be the hardest person to replace. LeVey, a very conscientious worker, has worked his squad for the past few weeks in a series of round robin play in order to determine what talent there is at hand. When this is completed he will announce the team for the coming season.

HPC Diamond Squad Opens Spring Drills

Spring baseball drills began last week as Dr. Jack Netcher started preparations for his second launching of a High Point baseball season.

Coach Netcher in his second year at the helm of the Panther diamond squad is attempting, with the able assistance of Chuck Hartman, to build High Point up as a power in baseball competition in the North State Conference. Netcher stated that he is building a new team this year centered around Charlie McCordie and Darrell Smith the returning lettermen. He expects a good season.

Catamount Squad Wins Crown Panthers Gain Semi-Finals

by DALE BROWN

Coach Jim Gudger's rangy Catamounts from Cullowhee gained new glory in Lexington's YMCA gym last week with three victories in three nights for the North State Championship. Top seeded and champion of regular season play, Western Carolina picked up all of the marbles with wins over Atlantic Christian, High Point, and the surprise of the tournament, Catawba.

High Point made it to the semi-finals before bowing out to the Catamounts on Friday night. With Danny Sewell and Steve Afendis leading the way, the fourth ranked Panthers rolled over a weak Elm club in the opening round by a score of 67-49. Leading by only four points, 35-31, at halftime, High Point broke the game open in the first 10 minutes of the second half and coasted home to victory.

A large delegation journeyed from High Point to Lexington on Friday night to see if the Panthers could pull an upset over Swede Frauson and Company. The Purple and White battled on even grounds with the Catamounts for the first 20 minutes and held a slim 32-31 halftime lead. With Captain Steve Afendis paving the way, the charged-up Panther quintet gamely tried to stay with the powerful Catamount club but faltered in the final five minutes of the game and fell to a 76-65 defeat. Overall power and superior rebounding proved to be the turning point as Western Carolina moved on to the final against Catawba.

Coach Earl Ruth and his Catawba Indians, ranked seventh and sporting a dismal 5-11 conference record, went into the tournament unnoticed, but came out of it with a performance that fans will talk about for months to come. Figured to appear only one night, Woody Helfrich and teammates fooled the experts by first knocking off third seeded East Carolina 74-70 and then second place Lenoir Rhyne 58-53 to reach the finals. If this was not enough, Coach Ruth's squad then battled Western Carolina on even terms before falling 39-36. With the exception of Helfrich, Catawba boasts no outstanding player, so their great showing must be attributed to fine team play, an outstanding coach in Ruth, plus the fact that their student body backed them every inch of the way. Many fans thought that the roof was coming off the Lexington gym when the Indians upset defending champion Lenoir Rhyne on Friday night.

Coach Gudger had said that this was going to have to be the year if his giant Western Carolina squad was going to reign as conference champions. Although the Catamounts displayed a well-oiled offense, it was sheer power and rebounding ability which enabled the Cullowhee team to go all the way. Randall Shields, 6' 8"; Swede Frauson, 6' 7"; Dave Jones, Dave Elmore, 6' 3"; and Harris Pryor, 6' 3"; plus reserve Jack Teague made up the working squad for the champs.

Track Team Meets Pfeiffer In Opener

High Point's track swings into action against Pfeiffer on March 20 to inaugurate a new season. The Panther Thunderbolts who placed fourth in North State Conference competition last year boast a much stronger team than last year at this time and are looking to a much better season.

The only major loss from the team was Harold "Slick" Sykes, the conference record holder in the discus. Facing this year's edition will be three returning lettermen: Mickey

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The new officers for Zeta Tau Alpha were elected on March 2. They are Helen Clay, president; Grace Jensen, vice-president; Nedra Murray, recording secretary; Margaret Wilson, corresponding secretary; Florence Ellen Adams, treasurer; Thelma Mitchell, historian-reporter; Glenda Radcliffe, membership; and Patt Olmsted, ritual.

Patt Olmsted is Helen Clay as Zeta sisters who were tapped for the Order of the Liched Lamp. Zeta's preparation for Homecoming paid off in the form of second place award for their display. Several Zeta alumnae visited the chapter during Homecoming. These were Judith Ward Lee, to Huntington, Pat Mize, Geleah Adler, and Trivella Cangelis. Judith is now teaching in Winston-Salem, it is continuing her training in Charlotte, Pat is doing social work in Raleigh, Geleah is teaching, and Trivella is a Teen director for the Boy Scouts of America.

The Marchetta Chibbelle will be the scene of a Zeta dance on March 14. At this time the pledge awards will be presented.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Eleanor Davis has been engaged to Homer Horne on Valentine's Day. Mr. and Mrs. Kyle S. King (Jahala Pauls) are now the proud parents of a son, Liz Peterson, and Peggy Davis were recently called into the Order of the Liched Lamp.

Alpha Gamma Delta's fourteen new sisters are: Anne Bennett, Audrey Hines, and Helen King (Jahala Pauls), 2nd Gladwick, Becky Jarvis, Doreen Ann Joyce, Emma Pascall, Gayle Wall, Mary Ann Anderson, Lisa Mosely, Virginia Yaffon, Avenue Vaughn, and Jane Young. They were initiated at 10 p.m. Chibbelle on February 20. Following immediately by the annual feast of Roses, attended by both old and new sisters and alumnae at the Furniture City Restaurant.

HPC DIAMOND

Concluded from Page 3: say from a patching of David Smith, Bobby Bales, Phil Blain, Tex Feltom, Dick Host, and Joe Galen. A total of 26 men have already accepted practices.

The basketball team was given a new face this summer and new players were instructed according to the field in good shape. New equipment is to be purchased this year. He said that this along with a good prospective team should, however, improve, provide a good season this year, and possibly place the Panthers in a position to contend for the conference title next year.

KAPPA DELTA

The sisters of Kappa Delta Sorority were honored with a Valentine Party at Vice Club House in Greensboro. The party is an annual affair given by the KD pledges. After the party the sisters were also given a shinner party at the WCA.

Second Degree Pledge service was given to fourteen pledges February 21. Laura Jean Malpas, Mimi Modlin, Joyce Holcomb, Carolyn Setzer, Glenda Sprink, Eva Dell Smith, and Jean Thomas. Initiation will be held March 7 followed by an Initiation Banquet.

Gemma Gannan Clepper was honored with a visit from Mrs. Ralph Currence, National Providence President. During Mrs. Currence's visit, she was honored with a Tea, given by the Alumnae Chapter of Kappa Delta in High Point. Mrs. Currence visited with the chapter until Wednesday, February 25. Wednesday evening the chapter dined at the High Point-Greensboro Airport and said goodbye to Mrs. Currence as she boarded her plane for Columbia, S. C.

Congratulations to Anne Starr, who was serenaded by Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity on February 16. Anne is pinned to Fred Barber.

PHI MU

Doris Talley and Sylvia Deaton are Phi Muses who were tapped into the Order of the Liched Lamp.

Fifteen girls were initiated into the sisterhood of Phi Mu on March 4. They are: Kaye Cooke, Barbara Holland, Jane Honevett, Julia Holston, Carol Thornburg, Carol Rappold, Bobbie Shoford, Peggy Taylor, Jane Schenck, Peggy Alford, Jane Lloyd, Nancy Horton, Linda Samuels, Pat Duncanson, and Denise Brown. Before initiation, the pledges were honored with a shinner party at the home of Linda Holston, and then attended a banquet.

The pledges honored the sisters and their dates with an informal party at the Oakview Grange February 13. Doris Talley was presented an award by the pledges as being the most outstanding sister.

Plans for the spring banquet to be held on March 20 have been completed.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Seems like all brothers and pledges of Delta Omicron Chapter have now settled down to the grind of the second semester of work and fun. Basketball is rolling along with the team at this writing having suffered no losses and four wins. The team will enter the Gold Medal Basketball Tournament here in High Point very soon.

February 28 was the date for a party held at the Majestic Club House. March 14 is the date of the Pika Ganger Ball. It will be held at the C.G. Club and everyone will be dressed as a gangster, hoodlum, etc.

Shortly severed new brothers will be initiated.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The Sig Eps announce the addition of three new pledges: Vance Davis, Jimmy Edwards, and Bill Sledge.

The first semester pledges have just completed their pledge trip which took them to State, Atlantic Christian, N. C., Wake Forest, and U.S.C. The purpose of this trip was to acquaint the pledges with the other Sig Epi Chapters in District 3.

The Sig Epi, Phi Epsilon, and Raleigh March 7, with N. C. Delta acting as host. Formal initiation will be held March 4 for first semester pledges.

Congratulations are in order for Ronald Wachs and John Davis who were recently tapped by the Order of the Liched Lamp. Dan Sewell who was selected most valuable player for the second consecutive year in the North State Conference. Dan Hackney, who has a son, Danny, Jr., John Davis who has the highest scholastic average in the fraternity, Ronald Wachs who was selected for the European Caravan.

The fraternity welcomes back brothers: Bob Scott and Harold Slick, byes.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Delta kappa Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon initiated five new members into the brotherhood on Monday, February 23. The initiation ceremony took place at the Student Center. The new members were Keith Dodson, Sandy Ridge, Tommy Myers, High Point, Essie W. Morris, Draper, Donald Reber, Tampa, Fla., and Ray Sheppard, Stuart, Va.

New officers for the coming year were installed Monday, March 2. They are Henry Ayers of Stuart, Va., president; Gilbert Batten of Thomasville, vice-president; Tommy Skidmore of Norwood, secretary; Essie W. Morris, treasurer; Leon Bessette of Thomasville, chaplain; Tommy Myers, sergeant-at-arms; Gilbert Bessone of Poudre, historian; and Ray Sheppard, pledge.

The fraternity congratulates Frater Jim Parrish of Kernersville on his marriage to Miss Joanne Hostet, and to Frater Gilbert Bessone upon his recent induction into the Order of the Liched Lamp.

TRAC TEAM

Dean, undefeated in the half-mile. Dick Hart, ace distance runner, and Tom Linner, the 400 yard sprinter. Supporting these three will be basketballers Larry Sewell, Jack Short, Zane Dumler, and Wayne Cudd. Such newcomers as Marion Smith, Pete Stumm, and Greg Houston are also expected to bolster the squad a great deal.

Coach Hertz has felt that this year's under squad has a great deal more depth than did last year's Panther edition, and should be rated in finish high in the final conference standings. This is the result of the efforts of Dr. Hertz to place more emphasis on track than has been done in the past.

THETA CHI

Friday the 13th brought no misgivings to the Theta Chi Valentine Hop. The party was held at the Lions Den in Lexington, N. C. Decorations of red and white lent to the valentine atmosphere. Miss Jane Oller, escorted by Brother Gus Deal, reigned as Queen of Hearts.

March 2 was the date of initiation. At that time ten new came into the brotherhood of Theta Chi. The new brothers are: Charles Carroll, Jim Corley, Bill Davidson, Bill Gladstone, Lee Hunslow, Jack Jarrett, Jerry Kivett, Len Lewin, Doug Lloyd, and Dale Spinnett.

Epsilon Alpha has chosen its delegates to the 1959 SCA Student Congress, Gus Deal will be the senator and Arnold Lawson, Len Lewin, and Jim Corley will be in the house of representatives.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Delta Sig initiated five new pledges last week and will informally initiate nine new brothers tonight. The new pledges are Phil Blair, Maxwell Cox, Bonnie Money, Ronald Neal, and Bill Price. The pledges who will tonight be brought into the bond of the Sphinx are Maurice Cole, Bill Cook, Jerry Driscoll, Tom Gansman, Bruce Garrantant, Bob Malpass, James Morgan, Sherwood Vance, and Medford Taylor.

Campus Parties Outline Platforms

SP Plank A Advocates Penal Code

As a part of the newly initiated two-party system, the Student's Party, an independent campus political party, has been organized on the High Point campus.

After preliminary meetings of interested students, the group met in the Student Center, Thursday, March 17, to officially organize and adopt a platform. Aaron Moss, temporary chairman of the party, presided over the open meeting. Reports concerning party membership, the nominating convention and the platform were presented and adopted.

Moss announced that the nominating convention will be held Thursday, April 2, in the Student Center. The convention is to be open for all students interested with actual voting privileges only for SP members. Membership, he stated, is open to all High Point students who believe in the Party's principles. The nominating convention will select the SP slate of nominees for SGA offices and will decide on the final Party platform.

1. A real voice of the students in campus affairs through student representation at meetings of the High Point College Executive Committee.
2. A new and improved faculty system of advisors to classes and to students in their major fields of study, the hiring of a full-time guidance counselor by the college.
3. A point system limiting the number of campus offices each student may hold.
4. A penal code of laws concerning campus behavior designed to protect and benefit the students.
5. A transfer of funds (approx. $200,000) from the debating team to the HPC.
6. Monthly assemblies under the direction of the Student Government giving opportunity for expression of various student activities and interests.
7. Appointment of a Chief Justice by the Executive Committee immediately following the installation of the new officers in the spring.
8. Establishment of regular, on-campus movies for students.

The SP chairman expressed optimism concerning the future for the SGA in the coming year. "With the advent of a new administration and the necessary adjustments, the students through the SGA will have a real opportunity to move forward toward realizing the ideals of student government. To this policy our Party will dedicate itself," concluded Moss.

Pan-Hel Votes To Buy

Representatives from the four sororities and their alumni groups met and voted to buy the proposed house to be used as a Panhellenic House.

Mrs. Julia Ober, the National Panhellenic area advisor, visited the campus and gave her guidance in this regard.

After Mrs. Ober had visited the house and heard all the particulars, the meeting was held and the motion to buy was passed unanimously. The legal proceedings are being handled and it is hoped that the house will be ready for occupancy next fall.

The house to be bought is located on Monticue Avenue, between Cahle House and the college parking lot. It will afford a place for the sororities, and the Panhellenic Council to meet, a place for the sorority girls to gather informally and a place where they may entertain.

IN STUDENT CONGRESS

Harold Wright, President of the Interim Council of the Student Congress, presides over a practice session before the beginning of last week's Congress. Several significant bills were passed in the sessions, and will be discussed in a later issue of the Hi-Po. Charles Johnson, who served as vice-president this year, was elected president of the Interim Council for 1959-60.

HPC Tuition To Be Increased

President Dennis H. Cooke in Assembly, March 18, announced the pressing need for additional financial aid for the college in the next five years. Cooke stated that $400,000 would be necessary for the budget from sources other than student fees.

The High Point College Endowment also was reported to be far below the average figure. Present endowment income amounts to approximately $41,000 per student, far below the desired $200,000 per student. It was pointed out that no student pays fully for his education due to the added financial assistance from endowments, grants, and church aid.

A ten year period on the college will be distributed to students and alumni during the summer months according to Cooke. This report is to include a complete financial statement.

During the report an additional raise in student fees was authorized. Authorized by the Board of Trustees to meet added operating costs for the coming year, the new figure will be $805.00. Pointing out the state wide increases, Dr. Cooke presented the following figures from other liberal arts schools.

Duke University	$1475	$1475
Wake Forest	1200	1300
Catawba	950	1063
Greensboro	935	1040
Pfeiffer	920	985
Lenoir Rhyne	873	968
Golford	857	957
Elon	885	930
Atlantic Christian	881	929
High Point	819	895

The median annual increase for the above mentioned colleges amounted to $75.50 while the High Point raise amounted to $76.00.

Dr. Cooke Explains Resignation

In a surprise announcement, Dr. D. H. Cooke asked the Board of Trustees to relieve him of his presidential responsibilities. He will remain to assume the position of Director of Teacher Education and as Professor of Education and Psychology.

Dr. Cooke made clear that this was not a hasty decision but was something he and Mrs. Cooke had carefully considered as best in the long view of the college and his usefulness to the school.

He outlined needs for greatly increased supplemental income to the job of building the super-structure he feels the present foundation warrant. While Cooke feels that his years of service have been successful in doing what the college needed to have done, he added "I am sure that I am not the man to run this money."

Dr. Cooke indicated the need of a full-time director for teacher-education. "Approximately 40 per cent of them (students at HPC) qualify for some kind of teacher's certificate. But this function at High Point College needs attention and direction by a person who has this as his full-time responsibility."

Heb McPherson, chairman of the board of trustees, said that the statement from Dr. Cooke had driven home the serious responsibilities trustees face "in carrying forward the great work done by Dr. Cooke in laying foundations for the kind of college he envisions and all want."

He said a committee would be set up, representative of the college as a whole, to seek a successor to Dr. Cooke.

Burroughs To Head 'Frolics' Committee

Fred Barber, President of the Student Government Association, has announced that Otis Burroughs, a junior Senator, has been appointed Chairman of the Spring Frolics Dance Committee. The appointment was made by Barber under the new SGA provision that committee chairman be chosen from the Student Senate.

Stan Kenton and his Orchestra will play for the April 28 concert at the High Point. Ticket prices and details will be published in the next edition of the Hi-Po.

The Liberal Party will have its nominating convention soon after the Easter holidays. All persons who are willing to sign the Liberal Party's nomination petition will be allowed to attend its convention. Those persons who are willing to sign the petition may do so by contacting a member of the Liberal Party Steering Committee. Persons on the Steering Committee are:

Liz Peterson, Chairman, Shirley Yokley, Publicity, Libby Graham, Membership, Eunice Young, Treasurer, Preston Reece, Charles Johnson, Arnold Lawson, Kathy Truwick, Dale Brown, Don Drapeau, Sylvia Hale.

The Liberal Party's Platform is outlined briefly below:

1. Penal Code: A code of laws stipulating definite offenses and giving a range of punishment for each offense in order that the punishment may be set within the range allowed by the Code. It is to be according to the specifications of the offenders parents or guardians is to be left to the discretion of the Dean of Students.

2. Publication of Information about College Operations and Policies: Primarily aimed at the publication of the financial report and budget of the College as called for by a resolution passed in the Senate in March of this year, this Plan of the Liberal Party Platform will be bound to include such events as board of Trustees meetings, etc.

3. A Plan for the Student Government system that will not interfere into the internal affairs of fraternities, societies, or other campus organizations either directly or by implication. Such a point system was in effect under the old Student Government Association Constitution.

4. Weekly Meetings with the Administration Heads: The officers of the Student Government Association will meet with the Dean of Student Affairs and the Dean of the College and the President of the College, where possible, at least once each week to discuss the issues on our campus and to obtain the information referred to in Plank 2 of the new Liberal Party Platform.

5. Election of the Chief Justice of the Judiciary Council as General Election Time: The Chief Justice will be elected at large from the student body at general election time instead of being appointed by the Executive Committee of the Student Government Association.

At the Liberal Party Nomination Convention persons will be nominated from the floor for the various offices and the vote will be taken to name the nominees to one per office. The time of the convention will be posted soon.

The Liberal Party is proud of the foresight of the campus leaders to give the students an opportunity to participate in this type of government. The members of the party feel that the two-party system will prepare the students of HPC to be able to handle more substantial politics in our country. The Liberal Party hopes that in the years to come the campus leaders will keep the same high ideals with which these parties were organized.

It is the responsibility of the students to make sure that the parties are democratic. The student who disregards the intellectual aspects of a party in favor of emotionalism will find in the ultimate end that he has made an unwise choice.

Campus Parties Outline Platforms

SP Plank Advocates Penal Code

The Student Party (SP) has outlined its platform for the upcoming student body election. The party's main plank is the advocacy of a penal code for students who violate campus rules. The SP also advocates for a more strict enforcement of the existing code of conduct. The party's platform is based on the belief that students should be held accountable for their actions on campus. The SP believes that the current code of conduct is too lenient and that students who violate the rules should be punished. me
Thinks

Me thinks 'tis no easy task to be "The Voice of the Students." A member of the faculty for whom the editor has a great deal of respect asked recently why one should write editorials in criticism more often than editorials in praise. His point of specific departure was a recent editorial of admittedly negative tone.

I indeed that editorial is indicative of a certain personality, a kind of schizoid personality who can love a place very much, and still be appalled at its shortcomings, and who denies the fact that something should be done to erase the shortcomings more important than the parts of the college that he likes.

He does not want to feed the delusions of comfort and supremacy that many people have, but wants rather to awaken them to some of the colder realities of the situation, for he believes that people who know the situation have the potential to do something about the situation.

He does not want to do the thinking for other people in creating solutions, and sometimes his resources are not great enough to think of the solution himself, so he writes as a plea for solution.

He is a part of a class of men that can be best termed "unhappy" in an age where "beat" and "angry" are the general terms applied to some of these people. His unhappiness is manifest in everything he does.

He is called by some an opponent of fun, love, and happiness, but he is not. He is unhappy with fun, joy, love, and happiness used as an escape from reality, as a further withdrawal from the world of life.

He may be overly critical at times, but in doing he hopes that he has given people cause to reflect, to think, to act. He hopes that more people than the insiders know what is going on.

He believes in praise but does not believe in creating the world of sweetness and light when sweetness and light do not exist.

In short, one thinks, he believes in it, he will show the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—F.O.H.

One of our tensions, if one is so deeply opposed to religion, why does he attend a church related college? After all the people who support this college do so because they believe that religion should and does play an important part in education. I am sure many will disagree with my views, but this is not important. If you will honestly re-evaluate your stand on these matters, I will feel this letter has accomplished its purpose.

Reply To Criticism

Dear Editor,

Criticism is desirable, and rightly so. The proper thing to do when criticized is to ask the question, "Is the accusation true as it speaks to me?" If it be false, forget about it; if it be true, act accordingly.

Personal criticism is one thing; professional criticism is another. A news editor is not immune to the responsibility for printing facts accurately. To this I speak.

Kappa Chi is an honorary fraternity composed of undergraduate students who are preparing themselves for full-time service in the Christian field. We have not only pre-ministerial students, but also social workers, ministers of music, youth workers, and others who are preparing for other fields of concentration which are included within the Christian field.

To be sure, we purpose to stimulate better fellowship, to build professional spirit, and to deepen the devotional lives of our members; but the fraternity does not place emphasis on a strong, central control of its members. We encourage our members to spread out, to participate in other campus organizations.

With a membership of fifty plus we have representatives in most campus activities and organizations, with the exception of sports. We believe this to be more valuable to our members and more influential to the campus than to build a large, isolated fraternity. The result of such a plan of activity may cause a tendency on the part of campus students to feel that Kappa Chi is dying, however, I believe that such a view is by misconception and is unwarranted.

Swamp Fox by Robert D. Bass—Life and campaigns of General Francis Marion, a little Huguenot who could barely read and write, but became from the swamp part a local patriot. In this biography he emerges a general of importance as he eluded the British in the swamps of South Carolina so long and so cleverly that the British General Tadeo gave him the name "Swamp Fox."

To Win the Minds of Men by Peter Godde—Very important and timely as the major part of the book deals with the Communist propaganda war in East Germany. The author reports from a two-year stay in Berlin which included a number of trips behind the Iron Curtain.

Famous American Athletes of Today, fifteen in a series of great figures from the world of sports. Flo, Patterson, Carmen Basilio, Lew Burdette, Gil MacDougall and Ricardo Gonzalez are among those included here.

Nautius '90 by Cindr. William R. Anderson, U.S.N. Gives a dramatic account of the first atomic submarine's voyage from the Pacific to the Atlantic under the North Pole. A true story of danger, excitement and suspense whose history was made.

The Edge of Tomorrow by Thomas A. Dooley, M.D. The story of six young Americans—four ex-servicemen and two Notre Dame students—who went on a medical mission to the distant kingdom of Laos in North Thailand, five miles from the border of Red China, they worked in a small bamboo hospital built on stilts. They tried to heal such old magic as leprosy, leishmaniasis and cow dung paste, prescribed by local witch doctors, with the new magic of antibiotics and antiseptics donated by United States Pharmaceutical houses.

The Devil Behind Them by John Bentley—The lives of nine of the greatest racing drivers of all times, representative of the six major countries where motor racing is popular.

The Thorn of Arianthea is another Biblical novel by Frank G. Slaughter which tells of both tenderness and violence in early Christendom and an inspiring love story of two young people who dared to defy a mighty pagan empire with their faith.

Land in Search of God by Stanley J. Rowland, Jr.—A book about America's awakening interest in religion which tells of both religious tendencies among students and gives an outlook on contemporary religious art and architecture.

Where It Goes

Upon registering and paying tuition first semester of this year, several students questioned the payment of $50.00 as a Student Activities Fee. Some thought that this was something new which had not been explained beforehand. It is true that this system of payment is new but the fee has been collected previously.

Last year it was decided by the administration to allow the SGA treasurer to handle all of the student activities' finances. Instead of collecting the fee along with the rest of the tuition as has been done in the past, the SGA treasurer receives this money separately. The bursar's office has nothing to do with it.

It is the job of the treasurer to divide the fee into the various funds it is provided for and to be responsible for the payment of their bills.

The semester allocation is as follows:

Contingent Fund	$.25
Debate Fund	.10
Day and Night Student Fund	.75
Student Government Association Fund	.75
Concert Fund	1.00
HSBO	1.70
Zemish	5.00
Cash treasury	12.5

Of the class fund, 75 cents is reserved for the Senior Class Gift. Thus, only 50 cents is available for special functions.

ONE MORE SURPRISE

Few people were more shocked than the editor when he read the March 15, Enterprise, headline, "Dr. Cooke Resigns Presidency." Though the decision came as sudden as a thunderbolt to most of us, we know that a great deal of serious and sincere thought preceded Dr. Cooke's announcement and we firmly believe that the choice was prompted not by personal interests but by a dedicated heart that saw this plan of action as best for the college.

As Dr. Cooke steps down from the presidency he will leave the most valuable service to this institution. It has been a significant period, a period of great physical and academic growth for the college. We wish him continued success when he begins to serve the college in a new capacity.

THE UNREACHED GOAL

High Point College faces a new era. It has somehow weathered the storms of the past thirty-five years. Conservative religious influences, the Depression, the Second World War and gayby students all have exerted negative influences during the college's adolescence. Dedicated faculty members and administrators, alumni, and students managed to stick out those crisis periods so that today the tower on Roberts Hill stands not only as a symbol of the college but also as a memorial to those who struggled to keep the college alive.

The college at last has a solid physical foundation in the recent auditorium, science building, gym, dorms, and student center and library additions. Now we must move on to the goal we have not yet attained. The goal is not money. Finances, of course, must be taken into consideration, but the pressing need in the next ten years will not be buildings and endowments, it will be academic respect. Only when it has reached this goal can High Point lay claim to real maturity as a college.

PETITION REJECTED

ACP—Duke University.

Duke University board of trustees decided recently to let the school's "no admission of Negroes" policy stand despite two petitions submitted to it.

One of the petitions for integration came from the graduate school of arts and sciences and one came from the college's divinity school.

The graduate school petition was signed by 60 per cent of the faculty and student body. The divinity school's petition was signed by 155 students, or 58 per cent of the school's enrollment. This petition was limited to divinity students, with no faculty members being approached.

President A. Hollis Edens denounced the trustees' failure to act on the petitions, and he did not suggest any course of action subsequent to the petitions that students and faculty members interested in the question might pursue.

The graduate school petition, begun last fall, was presented to practically the entire school faculty and student body, according to the Duke Chronicle, student newspaper. Approximately 73 per cent of the students signed and about 46 per cent of the faculty endorsed the petition. "We... believe that no individual should be excluded from an educational institution because of race," stated the petition.

"We therefore do earnestly and sincerely petition the Board of Trustees of Duke University to instruct the directors of admissions... to accept applicants for admission on the basis of race, not on the basis of academic achievement and promise."

Self-Evaluation

Dear Editor

Most students have heard the saying, "Let him who demands perfect from himself be first and then he will be able to demand it of others." We, of the student body, spent a great deal of time criticizing the college, but have never taken time to evaluate our own actions. I have noted at least three attitudes that we of the student body have which could stand some re-evaluation. They are:

1. Our attitude toward social activities. The attitude of many students is that fraternities and sororities come first and then we evaluate in near the bottom of the list.
2. Our attitude toward religion (which after all is the major reason for coming to college) seems to be one of "Just so I pass." A degree means nothing unless one has some of the knowledge it stands for.
3. Our attitude toward religion on campus is most childish. Religion has become the scapegoat for a great

Artist Von Weinburger Creates Campus For

Culture came to High Point last week. Roberto Von Weinburger was his name and art was his craft. Few will ever forget those pregnant moments as he slouched against the speaker's stand last Wednesday and whispered into the microphone, "My art, is my life."

It was a Wednesday like all other Wednesdays, the prayers had been said, the choir had goofed, the role had been taken, except . . . he was there. As he began to speak about his topic, "I Am Civilization" the audience became electrified. Here at last was something new, something different! Text books and paperbacks were quietly closed. Those who had fallen asleep during the anthem were punched back to consciousness. Freshmen out of habit began to feverishly take notes on each prophetic phrase that rolled like honey from the lips of the figure on the platform.

An Exciting Life

The first twenty minutes of the electric oration were devoted to a brief autobiography. Roberto Von Weinburger was born in Grossbutte, Germany, in 1937, the third son in a family of five children, all the rest of which were girls. Von Weinburger stated that little was known of his father, which probably is just as well. At the age of eight he moved with his sisters to Paris. The sisters obtained jobs as can-can dancers and Roberto found a cave on the Left Bank and took up painting.

Paints With Teeth

His style was different; he painted with the brush in his teeth. His sloppy brushwork, his muddled colors and his complete lack of perspective destined his first work, "Self-Portrait of a Hot Shot Artist" to be an immediate late success with Parisian art critics. More canvases followed in rapid succession and Von Weinburger's fame spread across Europe. His devotees known as the "Left-Bank Loonies" begged constantly for his presence.

For variety Roberto began to experiment in techniques; he moved from brushes to waterpots then to paint-filled fire extinguishers. Meanwhile, the critics applauded, the art world followed, and the suckers with money bought his masterpieces.

Tries Wick-Dipping

Worldly glory did not satisfy this great soul however. He yearned to create, to express, to live. As a diversion he turned to the ancient craft of the candlestick, wick-dipping. He found that in this ageless art he could find a channel for his creative genius.

Visiting his old mother in Buchenwald, Robert received what he considers his greatest compliment. As the great artist and craftsman entered the mother's tiny padded room she cried out as she dolt him and affectionate rabbit punch, "Du bist ein Dunkopf, Von Weinburger."

The speaker refused to translate the above statement for this reporter for personal reasons. HPC Deutsche prof. Adolf Yarbrough, agreed that the statement would lose its significance if translated.

Feeling the yen to travel, Von Weinburger disguised himself as a Russian spy (in order to pass American immigration exams) and headed for Greenwich Village, the fashionable New York art colony. Here he first encountered what he quaintly calls "America's Puritan art standard." He wanted to do portraits but lacked funds for most Greenwich models. He says that the few who did volunteer soon changed their minds when they learned that he wanted to paint them in the nude.

Nude Landscapes

With no model available, he was forced, instead, to paint landscapes in the nude. He was arrested several times for doing this, and finally, in a fit of depression, he decided to devote the rest of his life (he estimates this at approximately ten more years at the rate he's now going) to straightening out the artistic taste of America.

Though he still dribbles at his old hobby of candlestick-dipping, Von Weinburger seldom paints. Questioned by a student concerning sex, Von Weinburger remarked that he felt it was a good thing but like everything else it could be overdone. "Moderation," he smiled, "is the secret of existence." Queried over college life, the artist stated that it was a good place to stay between high school and the draft.

Likes Smokestack

Asked to comment on our school as a critic the famous artist remarked that Robert's Hall is an architectural "Faux Faub" probably the result of a nightmare or hangover. The most beautiful work of the campus according to Von Weinburger is the brick smokestack, which he says, "is a transplanted bit of classical Greek horizontal line work."

Little Hope Here

Evaluating the High Point Fine Arts Department critic Von Weinburger says, "There is little hope for art here. Fields is a flop, Lewis should stick to Sousa, Pryor should disband his bad-ass band and hire a quartet, DeSpain is pretending to be Cecil B. DeMille, and Porter is a good painter, but means well, but who's basically a quack." Von Weinburger pointed out that he (Porter) even refuses to sign his paintings but instead brands each with Sanskrit jokes.

As we said before, culture came to High Point last week. Von Weinburger is gone now but something of his spirit still haunts the Memorial Auditorium. Say, has anybody got a spare can of air freshener?

"I AM CIVILIZATION"

Electrifying his audience, handsome young artist Roberto Von Weinburger bares his inmost secrets to the High Point Student Body in an exclusive interview. In a recent visit Von Weinburger noted that while he was impressed with the HPC campus he wouldn't want to live here.

Red Party Shows Gain On Campus

The Progressive Party For The Betterment of Student Workers, one of the three political parties recently formed on the High Point College campus, seems to be leading the party movement in terms of membership gains. Comrade A. W. Williams, Party Chairman, announced today that 998 of the college's 1000 students had already signed the communist-affiliated party's roster. The other two students, Williams explained, are trying to form the other parties.

Williams accredited the Party's popularity to its enticing platform. "We simply have more to offer," Williams said. He also praised the efforts of Ed Hall and Steve Afenioshew, the Party membership chairman.

The Progressive Party platform consists primarily of two points. (1) Liberal wages for students who attend classes; and (2) Revision of the grading system, eliminating "D's" and "F's."

Other planks in the platform include abolishment of rules governing Women's Hall, legalized cheating, free love, and a bar in the foyer of Roberts Hall. Williams says the Party's steering committee is "optimistic."

Barber Declines HPC Presidency

Holbert McPeerson, Chairman of the Let's-Make-High Point College Big - If - We - Can't - Make - It - Better Committee, announced today that Fred Barber, former president of the now-decadent Student Government Association, had refused an offer to become president of High Point College. McPeerson told the press of his disappointment in Barber's refusal. He said that his committee had selected Barber for the position after they had received D. D. Eisenberg's refusal.

Barber made a statement to the press while drinking soda pop at Ed's Delicatessen. When asked what Barber's first reaction to the offer, Barber replied: "I asked, 'How much does it pay?' He further stated that he declined the position because 'It's too damn much work!' He also said that it would interfere with his military obligations.

McPeerson said that his committee had no other definite candidates in line for the presidency, but said that Elna Hall and Fidel Castro were being considered. "I definitely feel that we need someone with new ideas," McPeerson said. He further implied that Reynolds Tobacco Company had offered a generous endowment to the College if Barber could be persuaded to accept the position. Barber is an avid Winston smoker.

Doubt was expressed by McPeerson concerning the possibility of extending offers to Castro or Hall. "Fidel," said McPeerson, "and Hall has already accepted a similar position at the Congo School of The Camibabistically Inclined."

BARBER . . . Sez "No!"

IMA MUDFACE

Mudface To Press Suit

Ima Mudface, beloved sophomore of HPC and a major in abnormal sexology, is pressing suit against High Point College for a grade she was given on a term paper. Miss Mudface leveled charges against the administration for "refusing to look at the sensible side of her" situation.

The case, pending the acceptance by lawyers Jarrell, Jarrell and Carroll, will be brought up in the HPC domestic relations court this afternoon at 2:30. The amount involved in the suit is $250.00, and Miss Mudface is really pressing suit, and I really mean pressing.

The case will be opened by judge Allwet; jurors have been picked from Miss Mudface's class. Serving as defendant in the suit will be B. A. Williams, assisted by S. H. E. Canrod, dean of construction.

Attendance by members of the student's body is optional, but the proceedings promise to be very interesting. The trial will take place in Bob's Place, in the back room.

I'm darn mad.
I've got a right to be.
I think your paper stinks. It wouldn't make a good grade of packing material. Every article in its speaks of pseudo-intellectualism, lofty towers, stilted ideals, trite expressions and stupid witticisms.

Yes I'm mad—I think I deserve to get better reading material. I think you, dear editor, aren't worth the food you complain about. And you know it. Neither is the paper worth the ink it's printed with.

How you got elected, I'll never know, but it was a sad mistake. If I had been here last year, I would have personally run against you just to keep you out of office.

Who do you think you are, issuing us a paper like yours? You probably won't print this letter because you are afraid of the truth. And while I'm on that subject, they put out a better paper than you do. If you think you have been getting by with that thing you call a newspaper published by the students of High Point College, you're mistaken. I'm going to have you investigated, and if possible, yes, verily, literally kicked out of school on harrass, just wait, I'll get you yet!

Spitefully,
C. F. H.

(Editor's note: The views expressed by our kind reader do not necessarily express the sentiments of the High Pole staff and editor. If Mr. C. F. H. will meet me behind the gymnasium tonight at 2:00, I'll be more than glad to talk over this problem with him. While if you this staff does not claim to be a perfect publication, we feel that it could be worse.)

IN STUDENT RIOT

This group of obviously angry students formed a picket line around McCulloch Hall last night and demanded higher wages. The protest resulted from extended working hours brought on by new scholastic standards. Names of the group are withheld for discriminatory reasons. A member of the secret police is shown at right talking to an unidentified union official.

Students Riot In Protest Against Academic Standards

FROM THE INTER-PRIZE
300 men students filed out of McCulloch Hall last night, set fire to four campus buildings, and then formed a picket line around the dormitory, during College officials to come near them.

Wally Reuther, a spokesman for the group, said that the riot and strike were staged in an attempt to gain more student freedom and to alleviate the tension produced by undue scholastic stress. Reuther said that the students would "keep on setting fires and rioting until things get easier around here!" Skinny Copingus, titular head of the High Point College Secret Police, said that he was sleeping in his car when the riot began, and was awakened by the crackle of flames leaping from the lofty tower of Robert's Hall. Copingus said that he called all the city fire departments, but by that time the campus was a blazing inferno.

Police rushed to the campus in an attempt to quiet the angry mob, but met resistance on the part of the students, and were finally forced to flee under fire from machine guns, shaving cream cans and fire extinguishers.

When College officials and the police had been driven away, the students celebrated by holding a marshmallow roast in front of the smoking rubble that had once been McCulloch Hall. One bitter student, licking marshmallow from his fingers, said, "I'm glad we did it."

College officials attributed the reaction to "Spring Fever," and promised that an investigation would be made.

BRED FARBER

OFF CAMPUS

I lit another Marlboro and drove away from the campus. I looked at the chick beside me. She was chewing her bubble gum and blowing big bubbles which broke and stuck to her cute little pig nose. This girl was crazy. Nobody blows bubbles like she does.

It was raining, and my windshield wipers made a romantic flip-flop sound as they banged against the hood. I threw away the Marlboro, lit another one, and watched the windshield fog as I blew the smoke against it. It was a good night. The rain poured into the car under the dash and over my feet. I wiggled my toes and felt the water splash in my shoes. It was spring and I felt good.

We drove down Main Street and I saw that a Lash Larue movie was playing at the Rialto. I turned to the chick beside me. She was picking bubble gum from the end of her nose. "Say, babe," I said, "Let's go dig this Lash Larue movie."

The chick looked at me with a hurt expression on her face and told me that she didn't want to see the Lash Larue movie. I told her that I wanted to see the movie, so we stopped in front of the theatre. She looked at me with those big eyes and a tear rolled down her cheek over the globs of gum. "I wanta go park," she said.

I lit another Marlboro, said nothing, and backed the car out into the street. I drove back to the campus and parked in front of the girl's dorm. "Ost, chick!" I said.

Nobody makes me miss a Lash Larue movie.

Wesley Picture Unveiled

The unveiling of a portrait of Susannah Wesley, by Frank O. Salisbury, took place on Feb. 22. The picture was unveiled in the chlobrum of Susannah Wesley Hall by Joy Lattimer, five year old granddaughter of Mrs. Annie Mae Powell.

Susannah Wesley Hall is the only building on the HPC campus which is named after a figure in Methodist history. The hall was named for the mother of Charles and John Wesley, early leaders of Methodism.

Mrs. Powell presented the picture from the committee of women in High Point, which she headed. Dr. D. H. Cooke accepted and thanked the ladies for their kind contribution to the college. The college choir sang.

Frank O. Salisbury is a noted portrait artist and has done a great many portraits of the Wesley family. This picture is a work of art that could well have been displayed in a museum. The picture was framed by Mr. Grady Stroup of Stroup Mirror Company of High Point.

PROUD OF AWARD

High Point College Coach Virgil Yow and Mrs. Yow display the award plaque presented at recent ceremonies in Kansas City, Missouri, where Yow was welcomed into Basketball's Hall of Fame. Ignorance Is Basis Of Riots

by BEN ZAMBRANA

A few weeks ago the Latin-American edition of Time magazine published a story which reported some of the less favorable aspects of Bolivian social and economic life, and contained a formula to remedy the situation. The formula as worked out by an American diplomat suggested that Bolivia be "broken up," and its territory distributed among its neighbors. National dignity was hurt, and reaction was immediate, but by no means in the right direction. The incensed spirits of thousands, without realizing that the U. S. Government has little to do with what a publication prints, played havoc with the windows of the U. S. Embassy building.

But the story goes deeper than a mere stimulus-reaction event. Bolivia has received U. S. aid in dollars which amounts to 120 million over the six year period of economic crisis following the nationalization of the mines and the agrarian reforms. Inevitably, anti-American riots are a paradox, and I too with Shakespeare "hate ingratitude more in man, than lying, vauntings, hollowness, drunkenness or any tant of vice." Yet oddly enough the average Bolivian is completely unaware that America and even exists. Can he then be charged guilty of ingratitude when he is amused to show in action that he is a man, not a mouse? He is as conscious of national defense as any freedom loving being, only more sensitive, because deep inside he knows he is trapped in the nets of ignorance and poverty, and his behavior is only a manifestation of his struggle to deliver himself from these evils. This very predicament accounts for his irresponsibility to deal with the demands of a changing world.

He lives in a country rich in resources, but poor in the know-how to exploit and develop them. 120 million dollars of aid were surely not employed to fight the 68% illiteracy rate in the Bolivian population, and much less to train technicians or scientists, and today Bolivia suffers from a chronic ill. If its symptoms were to be examined, the diagnosis would show no other but the disease of ignorance. It is as Ben Jonson puts it, "a pernicious evil, the darkener of man's life, the disturber of his reason, and common confounder of truth."

Yow Enters Basketball Hall-of-Fame

by RAY SHEPPARD

High Point College swelled with pride when Coach Virgil Yow was inducted into the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' basketball Hall of Fame March 13, 1959. The ceremony was held in the Grand Ball Room of the Mhlulach Hotel, Kansas City, Missouri. Yow holds many happy memories of 27 years of coaching.

During brief ceremonies, held in Kansas City, Coach Yow, along with eight other prominent men of basketball, was awarded a plaque commemorating him as a member of the NAAI basketball Hall of Fame, a position coveted by all coaches. Yow became the second coach from North Carolina and the eleventh from all over the nation to receive this honor. Attending the ceremonies were approximately 250 coaches and officials from all over the U. S.

When asked if he had anything to say regarding this honor Yow stated, "What can I say? It is one of the nicest things that has ever happened to me."

Coach Yow, a native of Gibsonville, N. C., and 1930 graduate from High Point College, has devoted a total of 27 years of coaching athletics. He began this extensive career at HPC in 1932 after completing a year of graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

For 12 consecutive years Yow remained at HPC during which time he served as athletic director and coached baseball, basketball, and football, finally concentrating on basketball, admittedly his first love.

During eight years, 1945-1953, Yow served as coach for Hanes Hosley, a girls' basketball team in Winston-Salem. In the course of these eight years Yow's team was declared world champions for three consecutive years.

In 1953, Yow returned to HPC and has remained. While serving as coach of the HPC basketball squad, Yow's teams have won three North-South Conference championships and have twice been to NAAI tournaments.

Amid a host of pleasant recollections from his coaching years, Coach Yow singled out one event which thrilled him most—being selected to coach the women's All-American team on its tour of South America.

Asked if he would repeat those years if he had the opportunity, Yow replied, "If thinking of money, no, I wouldn't coach. But if I wanted a happy, enjoyable life in which I could work with boys, I wouldn't change a thing. This is one business in which you make plenty of lasting friendships."

Campus Parties Started

ACP, George Washington University.

A campus political party was begun recently at George Washington University with 20 members as the beginning membership.

There were no parties on the campus at the time of the new party's founding. Prime mover behind the establishment, Marty Zippert, said, "We have two basic aims. They are to bring out more of the potential leaders, by doing away with apathetic spirit on the campus, and to bring out potential sophomore and freshman leaders."

One of the party's leaders called the 20-man turnout "bitterly disappointing." Zippert asked the men present not to be disappointed at the turnout and added, "We are the basis of a party system which this campus needs and eventually must have."

Dean Allred Resigns Post

Dean J. H. Allred resigned from his deanship, saying, "The reason for this decision is that I have always preferred to teach, and that I am tired." This action was announced on March 11. Allred has served as dean of students for the past eight years. He will remain as a full-time professor of Spanish and French.

In his letter requesting to be relieved, Allred said that he had been giving this matter consideration for months. He said, "The duties of my office have become too much of a burden, and I believe that I can better serve the college as a teacher."

Dean Allred, in an interview, said of his work, "Most of the time it has been a real joy because I really love students. If it's wrong for a dean to love his students, I don't apologize—that's the way I am."

As for his impressions of the students, he said, "They have pleased, amused, disappointed and amazed me." He added, with his infectious grin, "I never knew what they're going to do next."

The dean said that the students ought to accept more of the responsibility of governing themselves. He believes that the party system now being inaugurated on campus will do a great deal of good in this field. It is his opinion that the parties will create more interest in student government and with more interest the students will be able to accomplish more.

"I've received above average cooperation from the Student Government Association," he said, adding, "I'll be the last to say that the young people are going to the dogs."

Allred also said that he is grateful for the cooperation he has had from the entire college community.

Dean Allred closed the interview saying, "I expect to enjoy my classroom for several years. I like to teach. I assure you that my spirit for High Point College has not and will not fail. I shall continue to remain loyal and devoted."

New Dorm Council Recently Elected

The new Women's Dormitory Council was elected on March 19 and in a run-off election of March 20. The new officers are: Kathy Traylor, president; Emma Lee Noll, vice-president; Jean Piccini, treasurer; Bobbi Stanford, secretary; Clara Ann Woodruff and Julia Holston, freshmen representatives; Alice Sweetland and Jean Thomas, junior representatives; Fatt Olmsted and Marilyn Tulloch, head hall prefects.

These girls were chosen from a slate presented by the Dormitory council and from nominations made from the floor. Those who also ran for the various offices were: Doris Talley, president; Ellen Julian, Liz Peterson and Noll Bell, vice-president; Alice Nelson and Wini Stuart, treasurer; Becky Jarvis, secretary; Betty Beauchamp, Marie Powell, Eva Dell Smith, Judy Hall, Beaumont Mason and Peggy Widenhouse, freshmen representatives; Sylvia Parker and Lorace Jones, judiciary representatives; Peggy Davis and Jackie Creech, head hall prefects.

SGA ELECTIONS TODAY AND TOMORROW

Plans Set For Kenton Concert

According to Spring Frolics Dance Committee Chairman, Otis Boroughs, final arrangements for the April 28 concert and dance have been completed. The event which is an annual project of the SGA will feature Stan Kenton and his orchestra.

This year's concert will be held from seven to eight p.m. in the Alumni Gymnasium and will be open to the public. Students may pick up their concert tickets April 21, 22, and 23 at the SGA office or in the Foyer of Roberts Hall. All students who have attended the college during the last two semesters are entitled tickets. Approximately 2,000 tickets will be available to outsiders at $1.25 per ticket. Tentative plans include the crowning of the IIPC May Queen at the dance, according to Boroughs.

The Spring Frolics Dance will be in Harrison Hall from 8:30 to twelve and will be open only to High Point College students and their dates. Tickets priced at $3.00 per couple will go on sale April 22 in the SGA office and in the foyer of Roberts Hall.

The Dance Committee includes Mel Bushin, assistant Chairman, Boh Weinberg and Betty Gray Dorman, decorations, Sylvia Nicks and Gilbert Becson, refreshments, Al Traverth, publicity, Tom Warren, productions, Harold Wright and Dale Brown, tickets, and Helen Clay, May Day activities.

Boroughs expressed confidence "that this will be the campus' best big-name band event."

Methodists Make Tour Of Campus

On April 15, High Point College was host to the College Board of Visitors of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church. The visiting group annually inspects the institutions of higher education which are financially supported by the Methodist group.

Arriving Wednesday morning, the group inspected the campus and the college's physical facilities before luncheon in Harrison Hall with the President, Deans, Registrar, Business Manager, Director of Endowment, and Alumni Secretary.

At 1:45 p.m., the clerical group met with the High Point College Religion and Philosophy faculty to discuss the place of religion on the campus. Later, meeting with student leaders, the board listened to student reports on student government activities, Greek activities, student religious activities, and student-faculty relationships.

Last year the North Carolina Conference contributed $35,000 to High Point College. Members of the College Board of Visitors included the Revs. Paul Carrol, R. W. Brawshaw, J. H. Miller, Jr., Russell Harrison, W. C. Wilson A. L. Thompson and LaFon C. Vereen, Chairman.

VOTING BEGINS TODAY

Run-Off Foreseen In Student Government Race

Eleven candidates, supported by two political parties and two independent groups, have been nominated for the six SGA offices to be filled in today's election. The nominations were filed in the SGA office by midnight, April 8, and campaign speeches were made in assembly last Wednesday.

The Student Party slate consists of Ray Sheppard for SGA president, Ross Smith for vice-president, Betty Gray Dorman for secretary, Bill Guy for Treasurer, and Platt Olmsted for Hi-Phi editor. The Liberal Party nominated Charles Johnson for president, Don Depuy, vice-president; Bobbi Shuford, secretary; and Dale Brown, treasurer. Independent entries are Ronald Wachs for president and Liz Peterson for secretary.

Ray Sheppard is a Junior at Hi-Phi and a recent transfer from Ferrum Junior College. He is presently a member of the SGA House of Representatives, a staff member on the Hi-Phi, and vice-president of the IIPC Student Congress. Ray was president of the student body at Ferrum last year.

Charles Johnson has served as President of the Senate, a member of the Judiciary Council, Speaker of the House, Junior Representative to Student Congress, Vice-president of the SGA, on the Hi-Phi staff, on IIPC, and as Vice-president of the Intern Council for Student Congress. He has represented Hi-Phi at the North Carolina Student Legislature and the North State Student Government Association. Next year he will be President of the Intern Council and Vice-president of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Ronald Wachs has served on the Intern Council of Student Congress, was Speaker of the House in Student Congress, has served as Business Manager of the Hi-Phi, held office in Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, and has served as IIPC President.

Ross Smith is a Sophomore. He is a member of IFC, and is the secretary-treasurer of the Men's Dormitory.

Don Depuy has served as Speaker of the House in Student Legislature, Vice-president of the Sophomore class, represented Hi-Phi in the North State SGA, and will serve as Vice-president of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity next year.

Betty Gray Dorman has been a cheerleader for three years, MSF Vice-president, PTA Program Chairman, Class Editor of the ZENITH, and a member of the Alpha Delta Theta Council and Student Legislature. She has served on the Orientation Committee, May Dance Committee, and Homecoming Dance Committee.

Bobbi Shuford was the President of Alpha Delta Theta, Representative in the Student Congress, Councilwoman of the Fellowship Forum, a member of MSF and SCC. She will serve as Vice-president of Phi Mu Sorority and Secretary of the Dormitory Council during the coming year. Liz Peterson has been Treasurer, Devotional Chairman, and Vice-president in Westminster Fellowship and will serve as its President next year. She was Vice-president of the Junior Class, a Senator in Student Congress, 2nd Vice-president of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority and will serve as Vice-president of the Pan-Hellenic Council next year.

Bill Guy, a Sophomore, is a member of the House of Representatives, past representative to Student Congress, and Vice-president of his fraternity.

Platt Olmsted, a Junior, worked on the Junior and senior year High Pointers, and is presently serving as News Editor of the Hi-Phi.

Peterson had been entered in the Liberal Party's nominee for Hi-Phi editor, but requested that her name be dropped from that slate when she entered an independent petition for secretary. Her removal left Platt Olmsted unopposed in the race for Hi-Phi editor. Under the new SGA ruling a petition signed by a minimum of 100 students is required in making nominations for officers.

As was the case in last year's elections, three candidates have entered the race for president and for secretary. The possibility of a run-off balloting was emphasized by SGA President Fred Barber, since a majority is required for election to any office. Barber stated that voting machines had been secured for the Wednesday and Thursday elections, and that provisions would be made for voting in the event a run-off was necessary. The run-offs would be held Friday and Saturday.

The voting machines will be placed in the Student Center and polls will be open from 8:00 until 4:00 both days. The machines will allow voting for individual candidates and voting straight party tickets. The results will be announced when the polls have closed on Thursday afternoon.

Seniors Choose Gift For Student Center

Charles Dyson, president of the Senior Class, has recently announced the selection of the annual Senior Class gift. The Class of 1959 will present the college a combination gift consisting of a color television set, a stereo, and a photograph system. The television and stereo set will be part of the furnishings for the new student lounge of the Student Center.

Use of the facilities will be made

Ten Tapped For Honor Society

On May 4 at a formal initiation service ten junior and senior students will be initiated into the Scholastic Honor Society. Immediately following the initiation service, the new members will be entertained at a banquet in their honor.

The students are: Peggy Davis, Junior, Allen Callaway, Sylvia Holt, Sue Jackson, Pat Morris, Ann Moss, Gordon Nifong, S. Leo Record, Engham Nifong, and Peggy Wilkes, Seniors. In addition to the ten students, Dr. Lindeh Lorenz will be initiated as an honorary member. Two senior members who were initiated last year, Barbara Ayers and Elmer Hall, will be present at the banquet.

Membership in the Scholastic Honor Society is one of the greatest honors bestowed upon a student at Hi-Phi. Candidates are elected to the Honor Society on the basis of their scholarship and character. For election as a junior the candidate must have completed 75 semester hours of regular college work with a quality point ratio of 2.75. The minimum ratio for election as a senior is 2.25.

Membership in this society consists of students, honorary, and associate members. Transfer students are eligible if they have completed 45 semester hours and have registered for their fourth term here. The quota of undergraduate members is limited to ten per cent of the number of candidates for degrees at the next graduation period.

Faculty members who are already members of scholastic societies such as Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Psi, or Phi Kappa Phi are automatically initiated into the Society. Other faculty members may be elected as honorary members on the basis of their scholarship and their scholarly contribution to the college and the community. Alumni are elected on the same basis as faculty members.

Officers elected by the Society's faculty members will serve for a period of one year. The officers are: President, Dr. Benjamin H. Hall; Vice-President, Miss Alice Brown; Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. Jerome C. Smith.

'Dead' Week

Angwin, Calif. (I.P.)—The Student Faculty Council at Pacific Union College has recommended the creation of a blank or "dead" week before final examinations. It was pointed out that an agreement for such a "Dead Week" would be:

1. Faculty members will agree to make no assignments other than those usually required throughout the quarter; they will give no examinations or major quizzes during this week.
2. Students will plan no social events from the Saturday night one week before exams to the week until examinations are completed.

AS OUR SAND RUNS LOW

With this issue, the present series of The HI-PO will come to its end. It has been a long and a good year.

The interest of our readers has been gratifying enough to outweigh all the early morning hours behind a typewriter in the tower. Never before in the history of The HI-PO has the Letter-to-the-Editor column been filled with so many interesting and thought-provoking letters. Never before has the students' voice been heard so strongly and so intelligently.

With this closing issue, I should like to extend a personal thanks to all who have made this year's HI-PO possible. To Mr. Withers, advisor for the paper, for his dependable support and interest in our deep appreciation. In addition to Mr. Withers have been the student staff. The editors, Fred Barber, Patt Olmsted, and Liu Barbour, have rendered service far beyond the line of duty.

Our thanks also to last year's editor, Kyle Stirling, who has dropped in regularly to offer advice, opinion and congratulations.

Kudos also must go to the administrative officials who have allowed us to enjoy freedom of expression during the past year. We trust that the paper has been worthy of their faith.

But most of all, thanks to our readers who have shown such an understanding interest. Without your ears the "Voice of the Students" could not have been heard.

THE AMERICAN DREAM?

There once was a time when life was taken for its worth, when Kluge-beliefs were just another foreign name, when happiness knew no bounds. These were the "good old days." But alas, no longer do the times of security and innocence exist.

The dark figure of Destiny has spread its shadow over this roaring nation we live in. Man has moved himself from the living room sofa to the psychiatrist's couch. Ulcers and neuroses have attacked the lives of the peculiar set of people known as Americans. The buzz of industry and the roar of the hell of Wall Street are but mere sparks compared to the kind of worry-ridden America.

Clad in formulas and Ivy-League shirts, the leaders of today take to the golf courses and the resorts to escape their so-called "worries." While the mediocre people cry out against the chaotic leadership or leaders drown their "worries" in Scotch-and-sodas. And the mocking face of Nikita Khrushchev - Mr. Source of Worry, himself - shakes with uncontrollable laughter.

Peace is supposedly prevailing over our land today; confidence is said to be well-founded. And still inner conflict and turmoil shake this nation at its very roots.

The American has taken it upon himself to cast the nation into a dog race. His inferior idea of white supremacy has split it's mighty country in half. The independence and equality of each individual soul is at stake as sectional opinions crash against each other. Radicals and fanatics have lit a match to the foundation of equality. A battle of words and threats smacks of bitterness. Yet, you lies Mr. Leader smoking a dollar cigar beside the piano-shaped swimming pool.

Then there is the Foreign Enemy, a monster called Russia, trained and led by a bald croupier who takes it easy as we scurry from one panic to another. A false alarm of any involving Russia sends the United State into a frenzy. Because we know no better, we ask our leaders to help us keep up with the Enemy. Mr. Leader pulls on his cigar and says, "Vote for me in November, and I'll see what I can do."

Cat-strophe!

Man in the United States spends more time in political arguments than in striving for satisfaction of the soul. Robert Reynolds.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Biber

"GEE, ERVIN, WHY DIDN'T WE THINK TO BRING A HAMMOCK?"

Me Thinks

Me thinks it never fails.

No matter how bleak and cold and rainy winter can be on Hahn Point, all remembrances of the bad days are shed like old chrysalises once spring makes its debut.

Windows are flung open, radiators are scaled off, and painters begin repairing the screens. The High Point League of Independent Bull Shouters begins holding its meetings out of doors, against the dorm walls on the green and yellow parking spaces around the silent fountain, or under new leaves of a maple. Lobster-topped faces and knees appear constantly in the Harmony Hall lines. Convertible tops crowd down into the street covers. Vapour tennis courts are always numerous as communists in Limley Chapel.

Some people start feeling sentimental and disceptive about dear old HPC. Those of us who think we can write are compelled to list the poetic evidences of a High Point spring, quite as magnificent as April in Paris or springtime in Capistrano. I suppose this urge to describe has been going on since there was such a place to see and enjoy.

came upon one of the more successful efforts, written by one of High Point's remembered alumni who once piloted this publication.

"In this pastoral setting, a young man was enabled to loaf comfortably and delightfully through four busy and unclouded years. There was, God knows, sedition enough for monastic scholarship, but the rare romantic quality of the atmosphere, the prodigious epiphany of Springtime, thick with flowers and drenched in a fragrant warmth of green shimmering light, quenched poets throughout an incipient rash of bookishness. Instead, they loafed and invited their souls or, with great energy and enthusiasm, promoted the affairs of choric, athletic teams, campus politics or fraternities. And they talked - always they talked, under the trees, against the ivied walls ascribed late in their rooms, they talked-in limp sprays-messant, charming, empty Southern talk. They talked with a large, easy fluency about God, the Devil, jazz, the girls, politics, athletics, the draft, fraternities and the girls - My Gosh! How they talked."

And me, thinks it hasn't changed very much. Dave.

Campus Sociological Survey Released By Hays' Class

During one of the February chapel periods a survey was conducted by Dr. Hays' Scientific Social Survey and HPC's Methods class, through a questionnaire available to all students present. This survey was conducted to reveal comparisons within the student body pertaining to five main topics: family, commerce, religion, education, and general. The survey revealed many interesting facts.

Of the almost 50% taking part in the survey, each student has an average of one brother and one sister. Only 8% of the female students are married as compared with 28% of the males, and almost half of the students are the first born in their families.

Over 51% of the student body attended a rural high school and the homes of over two-thirds are located within a 100-mile radius of the school.

A large number of students are working their way through college. 36% of the females and 54% of the males are working part time while attending college and 10% of the males work a full shift.

We now turn to the major fields of study. Business Administration heads the list with 105 males and 41 females - 146 of the 149 value returned. 51 men and 49 women are majoring in education and 31 males and 7 females are majoring in history. Religion, physical education, English, and sociology are the next four in rank.

83% of the women attend church regularly as opposed to only 69% of the men. 201 of our student body are Methodists, and 149 the next six religions in order of number are Baptists, Presbyterians, Lutherans, Friends, Moravians.

50% of our male students smoke and 31% of the females smoke. Men choose Winstons by 2 to 1 over Kents, which is second in preference. Lucky Strikes are third and Pall Mall are fourth. Women's preference is just in reverse of the men's; they choose Kents by 2 to 1 over Winstons. Their third and fourth preferences, respectively, are: Salems and Marlboros. Ironically, 45% of the males and 56% of the females believe that smoking is related to lung cancer.

The RECORD BOOTH

The biggest albums in the country are still Peter Gunn on RCA. The Flower Drum Song on Columbia. Come Dance With Me by Frank Sinatra on Capital. Johnny Mathis' Open Fire. Two Guitars is coming up fast.

Columbia is apparently getting rid of Mitch Miller and His Gang. Because of the huge success of Sing Along With Mitch and More Sing Along With Mitch, the label has cut a new album called Still More Sing Along With Mitch. If the demand keeps up, the next package could be titled Even Still More Sing Along With Mitch.

Memorial albums for Buddy Holly, Ritchie Valens, and the Big Bopper have been released on Coral, Del-Fi, and Mercury, respectively. . . . Joni James has never sounded better than she does in her album of Hank Williams' songs. Her wistful voice is perfect for the melancholy ballads but seems out of place on such songs as "Jambalaya."

Harry Belafonte gets better with each album. His new one for Victor, Love Is A Gentle Thing, gives him a chance to do the folk ballads for which he is so well known. . . . To hear the best phrasing music has to day, listen to Keely Smith's new Capitol album Swingin' Pretty.

For that breathless feeling, listen to Julie London's London by Night. After one half you'll never understand why Jack Webb divorced her. Last, but not least, if you are of you lucky enough to own stereo sets, RCA is having a special promotion where you buy one album at the regular price and get another for only one dollar. This brings the price down to the same as monoral.

THE SILENT FOUNTAIN

Dear Editor:

Just a complaint! If I were a member of the Class of '29 I think that I would be very ashamed and disappointed that the way my gift was being cared for - namely the water fountain. I remember as a freshman the beautiful lights and the spray of water against the evening sky. Every night at a certain time the fountain came on and revealed a beauty that was not equalled by a more costly silent fountain. Besides the value of having a little more beauty around the college the fact that the college has let this gift become neglected and run-down is very unacceptable. Many of our new students (the last year's included) are saying that the fountain has lights and water (except rain water). I am sure that the student could like to see something done about this monument after the college of the Class of '29.

-Jack Benfield.

Points To Ponder

Marlene Dietrich:

"Every human being is in need of talking to somebody. In this country nobody has time. It seems that talking to a friend has gone out of style. Now you have to pay money to go to an analyst." -Quoted in Newsweek.

David Grayson in

The Countryman's Year:

"I wish some of the ardent advisers of the human race would read the passage in Thomas a Kempis: 'Be not angry that you cannot make others as you wish them to be, since you cannot make yourself as you wish to be.' -Doubleday.

Jawaharlal Nehru:

"On the whole, I think we shall survive. The outlook is not bad at it has ever been, but thinking people realize that and therein lies the hope of its getting better." -Quoted in Forbes.

lean shouts to the nation: "Love your mother, hate Communists, and vote Republican"; Dennis Democrat roars: "Hurrah for motherhood, white supremacy, and Democracy!" Party pride is justified, but party fanaticism will get us nowhere. Mr. Leader leans across his desk and says, "I don't care whom you vote for, just as long as it's me!" Personal fanaticism is wrongly dominant, also.

Is there a solution to our problem? Everyone has his own solution, none of which are plausible or sensible. Yet, it is up to the individual to solve the problem of prejudice, governmental laxity, and Russian imminence. Can he do it?

DEAD WEEK

- Joint worshipers will not be called and group gatherings will be held to a minimum; the usual Saturday night programs not involving student responsibility would be available for those who did not wish to study.

Stan Kenton's Jazz Sets Pace in Music World

Stan Kenton, one of the most colorful and controversial figures in the world of music, will give local enthusiasts a chance to see, hear and dance to his exciting twenty-piece orchestra when he appears at Memorial Auditorium on April 28.

A dynamic personality, Kenton, through his tireless efforts, has continually set the pace in modern music and his current organization is reputed to be the finest he has ever had.

Although Stan considers himself a native Californian and it was there he began laying the foundation upon which his musical future was to be firmly constructed, Kenton was born in Wichita, Kansas, one cold February 19th in 1912. The early days of his life were not unlike the average boyhood, with the exception of moving around quite frequently with his family. First to Colorado for a few years, and then ending up in California at the age of five. What time was spent going to school or helping his father repair automobiles, was spent arguing with his piano teacher, inasmuch as she was a native teacher, was trying to convince him that he should study music. She eventually "made him understand that he was meant for music, but it was not to be until after a siege of saxophone, trumpet and even banjo, that he finally returned back to the piano. There he stayed . . . not realizing that he was destined to become one of the foremost contributors to modern music.

DEPRESSION PRODUCT

Stan graduated from Bell High School (Los Angeles) in 1930 during the heart of the depression. He was a tall, gangling, awkward kid of 18, a little unhappy at the fact that his family couldn't afford to send him to the university so that he might obtain a greater knowledge of the thing he had learned to love so well.

The following years while President Roosevelt was putting into effect the N.Y.A. and other alphabetical developments trying to revive the country from its faint, Stan Kenton was playing piano in every beer parlor from San Diego to Bakersfield, having the price of dinner one day, wondering what would happen the next day. By this time he had married, and there were two months to feed instead of one.

BREAKS BEGAN

However, things gradually became better, and he was able to get numerous studio calls in addition to some radio work, and he finally ended up as assistant musical director at Earl Carroll's theater restaurant. He had very definite ideas about how music should sound, and every spare moment was spent at the piano, day or night, writing arrangements for the band.

Being a person of great integrity, Stan found that living a hard was no easy job. He felt that in order to portray his musical ideas to the public he must have musicians who felt and understood unless the same way he did. Once he had a band and a complete book of new musical ideas, he had no place to play. Through his fanatic and insistent belief in himself and his band, Stan was able to talk himself into a job at the Ben Devous Ballroom in Balboa, California—strictly a trial basis, of course.

"DIFFERENT" STYLE

The band stayed at Balboa for four months, and during this time word spread like wildfire all over Southern California about this drastically different type of music. It wasn't too long until the configuration had spread to the East Coast. By continuing to fight for his beliefs, against so many odds, Stan gained the respect of the entire music industry—even of those who disagreed with his musical ideas.

As a tribute to Stan and his years of hard work, Look magazine, in December of 1945, predicted the Kenton organization to be the Band of the Year 1946, then sat back and watched their prediction come true; and during that year the band won every popularity poll and ran up high grosses when other bands were complaining of bad business.

HARD WORKER

It's a well-known fact that there are few people in the music business who work harder than Stan. There was no person too small for Stan to talk to—no radio station too small for him to appear on. Morning, noon, afternoon or night it wouldn't matter, you could always depend on Stan being there.

However, no matter how strong his determination, he couldn't keep going at this pace indefinitely. Consequently Stan became the victim of a nervous breakdown in April of 1947, while the band was playing a one-nighter at the University of Alabama. He returned to the west coast after paying off the band for a month, and decided to get a complete rest before going back into business.

To launch his "Presentations in Progressive Jazz," which his second endeavor was called, Stan returned to Balboa, where six years before he had stood in front of his first band. This was September of 1947 and during the following year the band enjoyed greater successes than ever before. It was during this year that Stan decided to forsake the ballrooms in favor of the concert stage; a medium he felt would display to better advantage his musical ideas.

BAND FOLDED

This medium, however, had its limitations inasmuch as a concert tour utilized about three months out of the year. And, at the end of this three month period, the band, being a fifty-two week profession, would either have to be disbanded or paid the balance of the year. With the latter being impossible, Stan saw no other way out but to disband. He took this action on December 17, 1948.

After returning to Hollywood, Stan took an extended vacation to South America during which time he thought over his musical problems with a relaxed mind and body and upon returning home he announced his plans to return to music. These plans called for a 40-piece concert orchestra consisting of 16-piece string section, woodwinds and French horns, all unprecedented in Kenton musical history. It was called "Innovations In Modern Music."

TRIES AGAIN

This, Stan's third venture into modern music, began in February of 1950, a time when the music business was otherwise at its lowest ebb. Seventy-seven cities across the country were included in the itinerary with the tour coming to a climatic close on June 3, 1950 at the world famed Hollywood Bowl where more than 10,000 people gathered to hear and applaud Kenton's "Innovations."

Following the Bowl concert, in a move to keep the nucleus of his concert orchestra together until next year's tour, Stan reformed his 20-piece dance orchestra and returned to Balboa where they played the entire summer. Because of the overwhelming success of this venture, Kenton realized that the band could still be successful in two media. That of dances as well as concerts—with each medium enhancing the other. His realization was fully justified when his second concert tour with "Innovations" completed a nationwide itinerary this year.

NATIONAL ACCLAIM

The acclaim accorded the dance band during past engagements at theatres, clubs and ballrooms prompted the immediate arrangements for this concert dance tour.

One of music's most controversial figures, there have been and probably always will be people who disagree with Kenton's ideas. Fortunately, however, this hasn't slowed the force which propels the dynamic leader. Whether you agree or disagree—one thing is for sure. When modern jazz is universally awakened from its doldrums and takes its rightful place along side the other accepted forms of art, it will be greatly because of the tireless, never-ending efforts of Stan Kenton.

Brothers and pledges of Pi Kappa Alpha lately "held" up the roof of the Lexington Country Club on Saturday night, March 14. The Gangster Ball was the occasion.

Social events for the remainder of the year was the Sweetest Girl Ball, and a splash party still under consideration. Plans are completed now for the Dances Girl weekend with parties on Saturday afternoon and the formal ball that night at the Starwood Forest Country Club in Greensboro. The date is set for May 9.

Basketball is over and it seems that the five from PIKA have raked up another winning season. Softball is looking strong this year and Pikaas will be hoping for a fourth undefeated season. New brothers were initiated into the bands of Pi Kappa Alpha on Thursday, March 19.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta Sorority gained fifteen new sisters on March 7. They are: Betty Beauchamp, Nan Bell, Linda Cheek, Mary Lou Craver, Linda Denny, Kaye Foster, Nancy Gillespie, Nancy Mackintosh, Laura Jean Malpass, Mimi Mullin, Jean Roberts, Carolyn Setzer, Glenda Sprinkle, Eva Dell Smith, and Jean Thomas.

Following initiation, a White Rose Initiation Banquet was held at the YWCA. The speaker for the event was Mrs. Julia Emma Oler, National Panchellen Conference Delegate. Activities were presented to the following: Carolyn Setzer, Scholarship Award; Joyce Roberts, Scholarship Award; and Nan Bell, Outstanding Hledge Award.

Representatives to the Student Congress held March 24 and 25 from the Freshman Class were Eva Dell Smith, Betty Beauchamp, and Mimi Mullin. Martha Balla, Edna Rose Duncan, Betty Gray Dorman, and Jenny Musgrove represented the sorority. Edna Rose Duncan was elected Secretary of the First Plenary Session of the House.

The annual Kappa Delta White Rose Ball was April 10 at the Robert F. Lee Hotel in Winston-Salem. Music was furnished by the Royal Sultans. The men received hand-painted German slits as favors. The highlights of the evening were the announcements of Kappa Delta Awards: Scholarship, Betty Gray Dorman; Activities, Edna Rose Duncan; and Sweetheart, Bob Weinleary.

Edna Rose Duncan will be Gamma Gamma Chapter's delegate to the National Convention. The Convention will be in Salt Lake City, Utah, June 22-26.

Martha Balla was recently elected President of the FTH and Jean Thomas was elected Judiciary Representative from the Dormitory Council.

Nancy Mackintosh was pinned March 7 by Charles Watson.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Kathy Traywick has been elected Dormitory President for the next school year. Liz Peterson has been elected President of Westminster Fellowship and Vice-President of Panchellen.

The officers of Gamma Eta Chapter for the coming year are as follows: Peggy Davis, President; Kathy Traywick, First Vice-President; Eunice Young, Second Vice-President; Sylvia Parker, Recording Secretary; Eleanor Davis, Corresponding Secretary; and LeDell Asst. Treasurer.

Preparations are being made for our Annual Rose Ball to be held on May 8 at the Emorywood Country Club with music by Bill Butler. Also, International Reunion Day will be held Saturday, April 18, at the Sheraton Hotel.

Three Alpha Gam sisters were sponsors for the JFC dance held April 11. Kathy Traywick and Dot Chadwick for Lambda Chi Alpha Epsilon, and Andy Anderson for Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Kathy Traywick became pinned to Charles Johnson on April 5 and Linda Peterson became Mrs. Max Leflin on March 28.

On Monday, April 13, Phi Mu's enjoyed the singing of the Kappa Chi-chans before their meeting. The chorus presented a program of spirituals which were very inspiring.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

In mid-March the Zetas had a St. Patrick's Day Party at Marquette Clubhouse. During the evening, the pledge awards were announced. Marjorie Powell received the scholarship award and Thelma Mitchell, the Outstanding Pledge Award. The pledge class presented Barbara Ayers, pledge trainer, with an album of the music from "Gammee".

New officers were installed on April seventh in Lindley Chapel. Zeta recently placed Lorna Dickson and Nancy Campbell.

The High Point Alumnae and the college chapter were hostesses for the annual North Carolina Zeta State Day held at the Masonic Temple in High Point on April 11. After a morning of meetings, followed by a luncheon, the Zetas adjourned to the HPC campus to witness a model initiation presented by the Delta Gamma Chapter. Mrs. W. E. Helms, president of Province II, was present.

Grace Jensen and Harriet True-love were sponsors at the spring JFC dance. Plans are being made for a Zeta Hush workshop to be held at High Rock Lake. The annual Hushdruth Link Ball scheduled for May 8 at the YWCA in Winston-Salem.

Before leaving for Easter vacation, Zetas visited the children's ward of High Point Memorial Hospital to present Easter baskets to the children.
